THIS WEEK

2 Fred says the slate of 2012 national candidates is a confederacy of dunces.

4 New computer training is available at Burton Memorial Library.

6 Several Hedley students receive all-district basketball honors.

10 And the Bulldogs beat Vernon.

All this and much more as The Enterprise reports in this week's amazing edition!

City Hall considers May bond election

The Clarendon Board of Aldermen were considering calling for a bond election this May as the ENTERPRISE went to press Tuesday evening.

City Administrator Lambert Little was proposing asking citizens to approve $700,000 in bonds to finance street repairs and improvements to be paid off in six years. If aldermen approved Little's request, the matter would be put before the citizens on May 12.

To find out the results of Tuesday night's meeting, visit ClarendonLive.com.

Reward offered for killed, stolen pig

A reward is being offered in the case of a show pig that was apparently killed and stolen from the Hedley School Ag Farm.

Donley County Sheriff Butch Blackburn said the crime is believed to have happened the night of February 22. The pig was to be shown at the Houston Livestock Show, and the owner has offered a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons involved.

Call the sheriff's office at 874-3533 if you have any information.

Merchant receives threatening letter

The Donley County Sheriff's Office is asking any merchants who might have received a threatening letter in the last month to come forward to assist with an investigation.

Sheriff Butch Blackburn said one local merchant received a letter demanding $500 per month be sent to an Amarillo address and threatened to harm the merchant or the merchant's family.

Blackburn said the same letter had shown up in several places in Amarillo, and the Amarillo Police Department and the FBI are both investigating the case. Any merchants who may have received the same letter are asked to call 874-3533.

State to hold three shot clinics here

The Department of State Health Services will hold three Immunization Clinics this month in Clarendon.

Clinics will be held at the TDSHS office at Five Medical Drive on March 1, 8, and 15 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1:00 to 3:30 p.m. with the first 15 clients seen at each time.

Baseball sign-ups to be held Thursday

Clarendon Baseball will be holding Baseball and Softball sign-up on Thursday, March 1, from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. at the Bronco Gym. This sign up will be for eligible players ages nine through 15. Tee ball and machine pitch sign-up will be held at a later date.

Ladies make history

CHS girls make first trip to regional tourney in 50 years

By Sandy Anderberg

The 2012 Lady Bronco team made history and gained valuable experience this season when they earned a trip to the Regional Tournament held last weekend in Levelland at South Plains College.

The final score of 28-52 was not indicative of the Lady Broncos' season and despite the loss to the Sudan Nettes, the ladies have a lot to be proud of and will be strong again next season.

The Lady Broncos got off to a great start with Sudan (who eventually won the Regional tournament over Panhandle) in the game Friday night with an impressive intensity in the first half of the game. Just before the buzzer to end the first half, the Nettes went on a scoring run that gave them the 16-7 lead at the break. They played hard against Sudan and stayed determined throughout, but their shooting went cold in the second half allowing Sudan to grab the momentum and the win.

"From the beginning of the game, I just felt that we could not get in rhythm offensively, or defensively," head coach Molly Weathered said. "We gave up offensive rebounds that allowed them to get some easy points and we were not able to score. We could not get the shots to fall and we stopped being aggressive towards the basket."

Despite the loss, Weathered spoke of her adoration for the team.

"I am very proud of this team and group of girls," she said. "They have worked extremely hard and gave it a good run."

Anna Ceniceros finished with six points and Jentry Shadle, Trevela Dronzek, and McKayla Cartwright ended with five each. Deborah Howard had four, Audrey Shelton 2, and Camra Smith 1.

Earlier in the week, the Lady Broncos stunned third ranked Gruver 40-36 in the Regional Quarterfinal round to earn the right to advance to the Regional Tournament.

According to Weathered, defense was the 'name of the game' in the big win over Gruver. The ladies showed pure determination as they completely handled their opponent under the stretch. Clarendon had to come from behind after the Lady Hounds opened a five-point lead in the first quarter of play.

The ladies closed the gap early in the final period and then went on a 5-9 scoring run that left Gruver grasping. The Lady Broncos led by eight with three minutes to play, but they allowed the Lady Hounds to attempt a comeback

Deadline nears for candidates

Potential candidates have until next Monday, March 5, to throw their hats in the ring for any of seven local boards scheduled to have elections this spring.

Those with openings include for the cities of Clarendon, Hedley, and Howardwick; Clarendon and Hedley schools; Clarendon College, and the Donley County Hospital District.

The Clarendon College District has all three of its incumbents running for reelection. Jerry Woodard, Delbert Robertson, and Doug Lowe are all seeking to serve another six-year term on the Board of Regents; and Tex Selvidge is running to continue to serve the remainder of the unexpired term belonging to the late Charles Deyhle, Sr. Four years are remaining on that term.

The Donley County Hospital District has four two-year terms expiring on its Board of Directors this year. Those seats are currently held by Jan Farris (Place 4), Jeanne Owens (Place 5), Mark C. White (Place 6), and Laurie Howard (Place 7), and all incumbents are running again.

The City of Clarendon has three two-year terms on the Board of Aldermen up for election this year. Incumbents are Ann Huey (serving the unexpired term of Kyle Davis), Jesus Hernandez (serving the unexpired term of Jeremy Powell), and Will Thompson. At press time, Hernandez and Thompson were the only candidates signed up.

The City of Howardwick has its ballot the one year unexpired term of former mayor Del Essary and three aldermen's positions currently held by Tanis McMorries, Johnny Hubbard, and Tim Gallagher. Aldermen serve two years. So far the only candidate filed in Howardwick is Robert Brewster for alderman.

The City of Hedley has the two-year terms of Mayor Dusty Wilkinson and Aldermen Leon Ward and Lonnie Roby up for election this year. Roby and Ward have signed up to run again.

Clarendon ISD has three positions on the ballot for its Board of Trustees this year, including two three-year terms currently held by Wayne Hardin and Wes Hatley and the one year unexpired term of the late Marvin Thompson, which is held now by Richard Gribble. All of the CISD incumbents are running for re-election.

Hedley ISD has two three-year terms on its Board of Trustees on this year's ballot. Those seats are held by Lana Ritchie and Bobby Lindsey, filling the term originally held by Shelby Shipp. As of Tuesday, challengers Michael Metcalf, Sr., and Dee Smith had signed up for the election.

Election Day will be Saturday, May 12.

State representative candidates face local citizens

Education funding, standardized testing, and water planning were among the top issues discussed by the candidates hoping to serve Donley County in the Texas House of Representatives at a local Republican forum last week.

Rep. Jim Landtroop of Plainview, former representative Gary Walker of Plains, Mac Smith of Pampa, and Ken King of Canadian each introduced themselves and stated their reasons for running for office before a crowd of sixty people at the Bairfield Activity Center Thursday night, February 23.

Mr. King took the floor first and said he was born and raised in Canadian where he is now involved in the oil and gas business and serves as president of both the Canadian school board and the Hemphill County Appraisal District board. He said he became interested in running for office after the last legislative session where it became apparent to him that most members of the Legislature do not understand school finance.

Mr. Smith was born and raised in Pampa and is also involved in the oil business. He said several neighbors encouraged him to run for Rep. Warren Chisum announced that he would not be seeking reelection. He said he felt like Texas needs people in the Legislature who know what it's like to grow up in a small town and that his philosophy is that government should stay out of people's way.

Rep. Landtroop is currently serving as a State Representative from Plainview, and Donley County is moving into his district when the new boundaries get final approval by the courts. He is a State Farm Insurance agent and says he understands making a payroll and living within a budget. He said he ran for office promising not to raise taxes, and he was named the fourth most conservative legislator in the last session. He pointed to a bill requiring voters to show photo identification and changes made to eminent domain as some of the items he was proud to have sponsored.

Mr. Walker lives in Plains and served four terms in the State House of Representatives, being first elected in 1994. He came to the Texas Panhandle in 1986 and served four years as the first manager of the Panhandle Groundwater Conservation District before taking a similar position in Yoakum County. He said water and agriculture are what he knows best and that public education is important. He also said he will not work much on "social issues."

Water issues were the first topic brought up by the citizens in attendance. Mr. Walker said the state

‘God’s Will’ can drive Dems wild

By Dr. Paul Kengor

In case you didn’t notice.... With George W. Bush out of office and a Democrat in the White House, the secular media stopped its handwringing over the president mentioning God. With Rick Santorum’s surge, the hysteria has started again. Every religious utterance by Santorum will be a cause for apoplexy by the liberal press.

It will be just fine – perfect, actually – for President Obama to effectively claim that Jesus favors a 39.6 percent marginal income tax rate on wealthy Americans (as opposed to 36 percent), or repeatedly sermonize about being his “brother’s keeper.” It won’t be preachy for Nancy Pelosi to urge no domestic drilling as “an act of worship.” But if Rick Santorum’s wife, Karen, dares to consider her husband’s presidential pursuit as “God’s will?”

Well, that’s plainly unacceptable. Speaking of God’s will, I could offer countless examples of Democrats invoking precisely that. I’ve done articles, chapters, books on the subject. Pick your liberal/progressive: Woodrow Wilson, FDR, Jimmy Carter, Bill Clinton, Hillary Clinton, Al Gore. Democrats have never been shy about claiming God’s work as their own. The difference is that the secular press calls attention to this alleged malfeasance only when committed by conservatives.

To briefly illustrate the case, here are some examples from Bill Clinton:

“By the grace of God and your help, last year I was elected president,” said Bill Clinton, speaking at the Church of God in Christ in Memphis, November 1993. Or take this one: “Our ministry is to do the work of God here on Earth,” said Clinton to a church in Temple Hills, Maryland, August 1994.

Mind you, Clinton said this not merely while speaking in churches but actively campaigning in churches – another tactic the press only permits of Democrats.

In fact, Bill Clinton’s wife, as the senatorial candidate for New York in 2000, likewise campaigned in churches, as did Clinton’s vice president, Al Gore, the Democratic presidential nominee. On election eve in November 2000, Mrs. Clinton campaigned in seven churches in seven hours.

Bill Clinton, sitting president, happily helped Hillary and Al Gore and other Democrats that year, barnstorming churches like a country preacher. On October 31, 2000, Clinton hit the Kelly Temple Church of God in Christ in Harlem. Joined by a contingent of fellow Democrat politicians, Clinton reminded congregants why they were there:

Now, we all know why we’re here.... But I want to talk to you about the people that aren’t in this church tonight ... but they could vote. And they need to vote, and they need to know why they’re voting. And that’s really why you’re here, because of all the people who aren’t here. Isn’t that right? ...

So what you have to think about tonight is, what is it you intend to do between now and Tuesday, and on Tuesday, to get as many people there as possible and to make sure when they get to the polls, they know why they’re there, what the stakes are, and what the consequences are.... If you’ve got any friends across the river in New Jersey or anyplace else, I want you to reach them between now and Tuesday, because this is a razor-thin election.

Speaking to the Alfred Baptist Church in Alexandria, Virginia, Bill Clinton employed Scripture as justification to head to the polls: “The Scripture says, ‘While we have time, let us do good unto all men.’ And a week from Tuesday, it will be time for us to vote.”

Clinton was joined at the Alexandria church by a prominent collection of Democrats. That talk came on October 29, 2000, at 12:40 p.m. Three hours earlier, at 9:40 a.m., he squeezed in another campaign talk to the congregation of the Shiloh Baptist Church in Washington, D.C. There, Clinton pitched various federal legislation and blasted Republican-proposed tax cuts before urging worshippers to go vote.

When Scripture was mentioned at these churches, it was for political purposes. It was a total infusion of church and state. And why not? shrugged Clinton. As he told a congregation in Newark, he and fellow Democrats were doing the Lord’s work: “God’s work must be our own.”

Overall, Bill Clinton spoke in churches 21 times as president, over half of which came in election years. For the record, his wife did 27 churches in just two months in 2000.

The hypocrisy of the press on this issue is staggering. All a Republican needs to do is mention God and secular liberals go wild. Meanwhile, liberal Democrats can say anything they want about God – even while blatantly campaigning in churches – and their media allies will not utter a peep of protest.

“God’s will?” To the press, that’s the domain of Democrats alone.

Politics is a confederacy of dunces

Listening to the poppycock spewed forth by our presidential candidates, including the incumbent, gives me gas. Watching the Congress devolve into a mass of ideological lunacy makes my head feel like it is going to implode. Contemplating another four years of Governor Rick gives me a nervous tic. (More on this to follow in a later issue, if the Boss is feeling tolerant.) Wow! How I love politics. Moreover, this political season is one for the ages.

Throw in an infestation of unruly lobbyist and assorted varmints, who gleefully fatten the wallets of the aforementioned candidates, regardless of party affiliation, and ideology, and things really get wacky.

In today’s political climate, it takes a strong constitution and an appreciation of the inane to ferret out the truth; last seen bobbing about, hither and yon, in the roiling seas of ideological quarrels and squalid squabbles - and general bickering about who’s more conservative, for heaven’s sake.

Quarrels and squabbles rule the day, because reasonable discourse about the challenges threatening America is impossible in this political climate. The Republican presidential candidates are so busy spewing forth toxic nonsense at each other that they fail to realize that they are spitting into the wind. Come this fall, everything that they are spewing forth about each other will come back and smack ‘em in the face.

If we look carefully, we may be able to see President Obama’s re-election committee dancing and frolicking in the oval office, jubilantly partying late into the night. They seriously think the election is won. Their inability to formulate and implement effective programs and actions needed to overcome America’s challenges is lost in the internal madness afflicting the Republican Party, which is even now destroying the Grand Old Party’s hopes of recapturing the White House and Senate.

What to do? The great Jefferson himself sends us a hint. He believed that the highest and most powerful office in the land is the ordinary citizen. We the People.

We can and must convince the candidates that we require an efficient discourse of the many critical issues facing this great nation: job growth, economic vitality, energy self-sufficiency, affordable health care, tax reform, infrastructure, defense, and education.

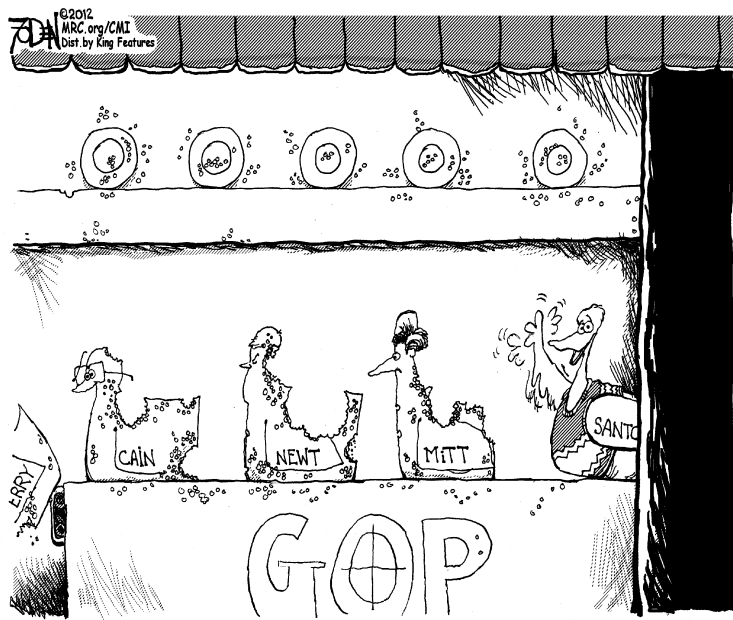

The power of the vote can trump the power of the lobbyists and special interest groups. Our politicians, as dumb as they appear to be, fully understand the power that We the People wield. The coming elections may or may not be to our satisfaction on an ideological basis, but we can rescue democracy from the threats that now endanger it. We can get rid of the dunces.

However, when it’s all said and done, we have the greatest political and economic systems in the world. And, I’ll take our politicians, warts and all, over everyone else in the world. After all, we are the ones who put ‘em in office.

Congratulations to the Broncos and Lady Broncos for great seasons! We’re all proud of you!

THE DAY RICK SANTORUM DISCOVERED SWEATER VESTS AREN'T BULLETPROOF.

Ease burdens on small business

At a recent event to highlight the payroll tax cut extension bill passed by Congress, President Obama said, “My message to Congress is: don’t stop here, keep going.”

I agree. We have eight months before the 2012 elections, and there is much that can be accomplished by focusing on areas where Democrats and Republicans can reach agreement. But in order to do that, the President must also make sure Senate Democrat leadership get his message to keep going.

Three of my Senate colleagues and I recently held a press conference to call for the Senate to consider four bipartisan jobs bills. Each measure has already passed the House of Representatives with more than 400 votes – large majorities of Republicans and Democrats. All four bills would remove outdated barriers to borrowing and capital formation for small businesses – our economy’s job creators.

Removing obstacles to small business expansion and hiring is the key to moving from a monthly trickle of new jobs to the tidal wave of growth that we need. And yet all four bills have been bottled up for months in the Democrat-controlled Senate.

President Obama also recently noted that Americans are concerned by the rising cost of gasoline. They certainly are. Gasoline prices have almost doubled in just three years – and it’s getting worse.

Last February, the average cost of a gallon of unleaded was $3.17 per gallon – the highest February price ever. But this February’s average is $3.57 per gallon – and all forecasts are for prices to rocket above $4.00 per gallon during the summer driving season. Families and businesses will be devastated.

President Obama’s own Energy Secretary, Steven Chu, has said in the past, “Somehow, we have to figure out how to boost the price of gasoline to the levels in Europe.” Talk about out of touch!

What the President should be doing is tapping America’s natural resources to assure that we have the energy we need and to halt skyrocketing costs.

But President Obama’s policies have resulted in an unprecedented slowdown in new exploration and production of oil and gas. Offshore drilling permits are being issued at less than half the rate of the previous administration. And the average number of leases issued on public lands is less than half than during President Clinton’s time in office.

Not only will the slowdown in domestic production drive up fuel prices, it also takes away jobs from tens of thousands of oil and gas industry workers.

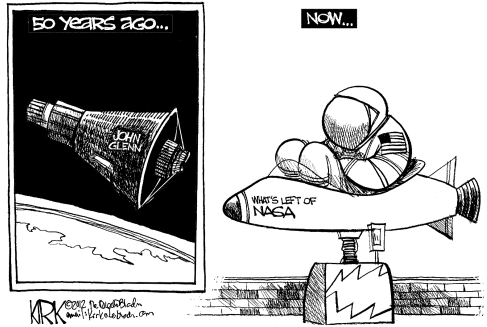

The same is true for the Keystone pipeline. It would produce thousands of good-paying construction jobs and tens of thousands more at U.S. refineries and suppliers. And the pipeline would assure the U.S. of 830,000 barrels of needed oil daily – not from halfway around the world, but from our friend to the north, Canada.

After four years of environmental reviews and regulatory approvals, the Obama Administration is still stalling. If we wait, the Canadians have indicated they can ship their oil to China, and a huge opportunity will have been lost.

Our message to the President is: We can keep going. Thirteen million unemployed Americans can’t wait until after this year’s election. It is imperative for President Obama to help get bipartisan jobs bills through the Democrat-controlled Senate, and support energy policies that put American workers and their families first.

Chamber making changes

The Chamber of Commerce announced several changes to the organization during its first quarterly "Business After Hours" social hour last Friday, February 24, at Clarendon City Hall.

Bonnie Campbell was appointed as the Chamber's president during a board meeting earlier in the week and tells the Enterprise the Chamber is receiving positive feedback and gaining new members.

"We had a good turnout [Friday]," Campbell said. "We got three new members that night and have had two more join since then."

Campbell said the organization is formally changing its name back to the "Clarendon Chamber of Commerce" and dropping the "Clarendon-Donley County Chamber" name.

"We will still be serving Clarendon and Donley County," she said.

The Chamber is also in the process of adopting new bylaws, and Campbell said the organization has postponed its plans for a banquet this spring.

"I'd rather see us restructure first," she said.

Chamber officers in addition to Campbell are Vice President Janan Kooztz, Secretary Ronna Newman, and Treasurer Lori Burns.

The board will hold its next meeting March 14, and the next "Business After Hours" will be held in May.

"It's a really good time to talk to fellow businesses and shop owners, and to network," the president said.

Campbell encourages Chamber members to watch the Enterprise for future announcements and activities.

CHS to present One Act Play this week

Clarendon High School One Act Play students will present "Conform!" by Reid Conrad on Thursday, March 1, and Saturday, March 3.

"Conform!" is a social comedy that takes an interesting look at all our social ideas and customs and makes us question why do we conform? The play is a mixture of Monty Python, "O Brother, Where Art Thou?", and the Marx Brothers.

The public is invited for a laughter-filled evening that is sure to make even the most discontented soul smile. Show times are at 8:00 p.m. in the CHS Auditorium. Ticket prices are $5 for adults and $3 for students and seniors. We cannot accept Credit Cards or Debit Cards at this time. In respect to the other audience members, please no children under the age of 10.

City okays library to take utility payments

By Fred Gray

The Clarendon Board of Aldermen met briefly in called meeting Friday after the Chamber of Commerce mixer to consider two items of business.

In the first item, the board approved a proposal to authorize the Burton Memorial Library to accept utility payments for Southwestern Electric Power Company.

On the second item, the aldermen took no action on a proposal to issue $1,000,000 in municipal bonds, for street improvements. Another called meeting was scheduled for Tuesday, February 28, to further discuss this matter.

Desirable Benefit of Smoking Cessation Medicine

According to the results of a study to be published in an upcoming issue of Alcoholism: Clinical & Experimental Research, a medicine used to help smokers quit may have a desirable but unexpected benefit of helping people who consume too much alcohol. The medicine is called varenicline (Chantix). It was first approved in the U.S. in 2006 for the treatment of nicotine dependence among those who smoke. Researchers assessed study participants in 3 sessions during which each participant was evaluated following administration of varenicline and a high or low dose of alcohol. They found that varenicline increased the unpleasant effects of alcohol and created displeasure over drinking it. More research is needed to confirm this finding.

Alcohol abuse is reported to affect about 10% of women and 20% of men in the U.S. It was recently reported that, with treatment, about 70% of people affected by excess alcohol use are able to decrease the number of days they consume alcohol and improve their health status within six months.

- Lauric acid exists abundantly in coconut and plays a fundamental role in building our body's immune system. Once in our system it transforms into an antibacterial and antiviral substance called "monolaurin" which destroys viruses and diseases.
- Lauric acid also occurs naturally in human breast milk and plays a vital role in nourishing and protecting babies from infection.
- MCFAs promote weight maintenance without raising cholesterol levels. They work best for preventing weight gain if you're not overweight or maintaining your new weight after a successful diet.

Computer training to be offered at Library

Hey, I almost missed out on some free computer training and who can't use a little more computer knowledge. Jerri Shields, Director of the Burton Memorial Library told me that they, in cooperation with the Harrington Library Consortium, are offering this free training. I just signed up.

You will need your Library card and pin. To find out more go to www.hlc.org and scroll down to "New Free Online Technology Training" and read about it. Click on the blue box to enroll. Training is available on common software such as Word, PowerPoint, Excel, Windows, Outlook, iPad/iPod, Google, Gmail, Facebook, and more!

In addition, you will find many useful links to specialized databases and other great resources.

Director Shields requested that if you haven't been to the library lately, please stop by soon. They are available to serve your informational needs. The facility features friendly surroundings creating an atmosphere conducive to reading, relaxation and reflection. They are a member of the Harrington Library Consortium which provides patrons with resources found in much larger library systems.

Microsoft Imitators Ask for Computer Access.

How the scam works? A caller impersonates a Microsoft or other technology representative and claims there is a serious virus or issue with your computer. The caller may warn that if the problem is not solved, the computer will become unusable. To "fix" the problem, the consumer is directed to visit a website or download a program that gives the caller remote access to log in to the computer. In some cases, the consumer is then offered a preventative service for a fee.

The truth: The caller does not work for Microsoft, in fact, Microsoft does not make such calls. If the consumer takes the suggested actions, they give a stranger access to the data on their computer; putting them at risk for identity theft. Microsoft's states on their website, "We do not send unsolicited e-mail or make unsolicited phone calls to request personal or financial information or fix your computer."

What to do: Be wary of unsolicited calls. "The first thing to do is know these calls are fake, they're attempts to get you to give up something the caller wants, and access to your computer could be detrimental to you," said Janna Kiehl, Texas Panhandle BBB CEO. "The caller can get all sorts of personal information from your computer files, use it and leave you to clean up the mess. Including email files that can be used to send unsolicited email to your contacts that may contain viruses."

BBB Amarillo has received calls from TRIKON and Human Tech Services both claiming to be calling on behalf of Microsoft. In other parts of Texas calls have come from Softnet Communications based in California. Representatives from Softnet offer to clean your computer and protect it for a lifetime for a $300 fee. Those who paid the company received charges from Vertex and Phoenix Command, LTD. Don't give personal or financial information to an unsolicited caller. Don't download attachments or trust e-mail links. Do verify sources by contacting the company they claim to be from directly.

Report fraudulent activity: Complaints can be filed with the Federal Trade Commission at www.ftc.gov. Internet and e-mail scams can be reported to the Internet Crime Complaint Center at www.ic3.gov. Complaints about a specific business can be filed at www.bbb.org and scam victims can tell us about their experience at www.txpanhandle.bbb.org.

Do Contact a trusted tech support company if you think you have been a victim of this scam and when you need to ensure your computer is protected. Keep system updates, virus and spyware protection current.

Remember: Microsoft and other computer and software companies do not make unsolicited calls offering tech support. Do not follow the caller's instructions.

If you need tech support and don't have a protection plan, contact a trusted computer or software company at a number you know to be valid. Never share personal information, such as bank account and credit card numbers, with anyone you don't know who contacts you.

the lion's tale
by roger estack

The Clarendon Lions Club held their regular Tuesday noon meeting on February 28 with Boss Lion Steve Hall in charge.

We had 11 members, the Club Sweetheart, and one guest this week. Jo Shaller was the guest of Lion Don Smith and presented our program.

Lion Tex Buckhaults reported on a blood drive going on that day at the college, and Lion Lambert Little said he planned to ask the city council to put a bond election on the May ballot.

Mrs. Shaller presented a program on the origin of surnames. She said the Chinese were actually the first to adopt the use of surnames or "extra names" in about 2852 BC, but she said in that culture surnames come first and given names come last. Our European surnames generally originate one of four ways – from family names, locations, physical features, or occupations. Mrs. Shaller then went through the club's membership roster and gave a brief description of the likely origin of each surname in the club.

There being no further business, we were adjourned.

Burton Memorial receives books from Foundation

Burton Memorial Library received 29 Texas books from Texas A & M University Press compliments of the Tocker Foundation. The books are non-fiction with color pictures and historical facts about our state. The Tocker Foundation has been a benefactor for many years. They have helped us purchase equipment, furniture and books to benefit this community's public facility. Stop in and see these beautiful books and check out to and enjoy.

Hedley FBC to host Senior Citizens meal

It's time once again for the annual "Senior Citizens' Honor Banquet" at First Baptist Church of Hedley. This year's banquet will take place on Tuesday evening March 6th at 6:00 p.m. in the church fellowship hall. As usual there will be a wonderful meal served of hot brisket along with all the trimmings plus dessert. The youth will serve and also provide musical entertainment, and our speaker again this year is Connie Debord of Hedley. It will be an outstanding evening for all, and the best part about it is that it's all FREE to our senior citizens. We appreciate those in our area that have made this such a great place to live. Come along and bring a friend! You don't want to miss it!

Long-time Howardwick resident moves to Amarillo

In 1971, gasoline cost 40¢ per gallon, you could mail a letter for 8¢, Richard Nixon was president, and Henry and Cora Bland moved into their new home in Howardwick.

The couple retired from raising chickens in Dickens County and began working to help make Howardwick a nice community to call home. They were founding members of Howardwick Baptist Church, and with Henry's carpentry skills, many projects were completed.

Henry passed away a few years ago, but Cora stayed in Howardwick, working as church secretary well into her 80s and with help of friends seldom missed a church sermon.

There comes a time when decisions must be made, and she has made a big one, moving to Amarillo to be closer to her family.

She lived across the street from me all these years, and to say we were neighbors does not convey the depth we knew each other. We watched our families grow up, and they watched as Ole Jim and I labored hard then retired with encouragement to enjoy our retirement.

To say Ole Jim and I will miss her is an understatement, but the new chapter unfolding will bring new friends and memories for her. So best wishes, Cora Bland, and God Bless you.

Have you noticed some signs of spring? The forsythia at Robert Wagner's is blooming with the bright yellow flowers, tulips and daffodils are peeping up and Ole Jim has the urge to work in the dirt. We have had a few days of horrific winds but also some beautiful days. We have showers in the forecast, all moisture is appreciated.

Hey, people! Local primary elections will be held someday, but in the meantime the deadline is drawing near to place your name on the ballot for mayor and alderman. I think three positions are open, contact Dianna Knight at City Hall, 874-2222, for more information.

On a related note, if you are waiting on your voter's registration card, when those judges stop playing with the voting boundaries and give us a date for primary elections, our cards will be sent out. Be patient.

Methodist Youth plans serveral activities

The Hedley Methodist Youth Group is holding a raffle to earn money for their camp trips, ski trips, food for Wednesday night meetings and for different crafts and activities. They have a painting that was donated by Kenneth Wyatt that has a value of about $400 to raffle off. Tickets are $1.00 each or a book of six for $5.00.

The kids will be out and about in the next few weeks to sell tickets so please support them. They will also have a Pancake Supper on Friday, April 20, at 6:00 p.m. in the Hedley Senior Citizens building to give the painting away. The pancake supper is $5, and you do not have to be present to win the painting, but they are inviting you to come eat pancakes with them.

I have a friend in Memphis that has a female, bit bull mix, brown, medium size dog named Nina that is trying to find a good home for her. She is about a year old and they just can't keep her anymore. If anyone is interested, please contact me. She really needs a good home.

Recipe: Fresh Green Chile Quiche: 1 tablespoon olive oil, 4 green chile peppers, seeded and chopped, 1 small onion, diced, 1/4 cup crumbled feta cheese, 1/2 cup sour cream, 1/4 teaspoon salt, or to taste, 1 (9 inch) unbaked pie crust, 8 ounces Monterey Jack cheese, shredded, 3 eggs, beaten, 3/4 cup milk, 4 ounces Cheddar cheese, shredded. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C). Heat oil in a skillet over medium heat and cook peppers and onion until tender. Transfer to a bowl and mix with feta, sour cream and salt. Spread bottom of pie crust with Monterey Jack cheese. Top cheese with pepper and onion mixture. Mix eggs and milk in a bowl; evenly pour over onion and pepper mixture. Top with Cheddar cheese. Bake 45 minutes in the preheated oven, or until cheese is melted and eggs are firm.

Support the Waller Family: Matt Waller passed away Saturday, February 25.

He was a fireman at Memphis and a barbecue dinner will be held at 5 p.m. this Saturday at the City of Memphis Community Center to support his family. The cost is $10 per plate.

Now Only $14.95

Dean Hawkins named to Distinguished Alumnus list

Clarendon native Dean Hawkins named a College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources Distinguished Alumnus

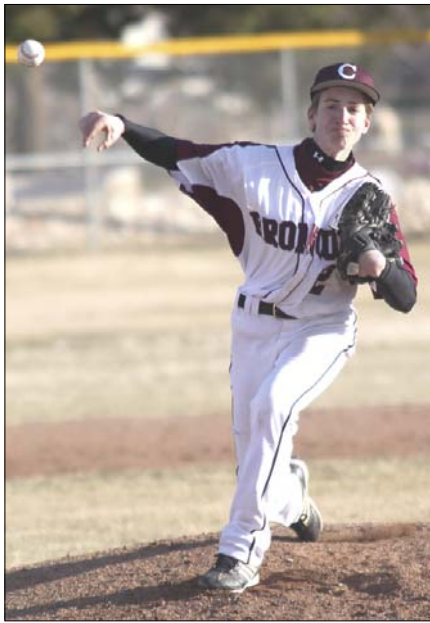

Lubbock, Texas. Texas Tech University's College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources recognized six distinguished alumni last Monday, February 20, during its 32nd annual Distinguished & Young Alumni Awards reception and dinner. Among the recipients was Dr. Dean Hawkins, professor and department head of Agricultural Sciences at West Texas A&M University.

After graduating with an associate's degree from Clarendon College, Hawkins graduated from Texas Tech University with a bachelor's degree in animal science and a teaching certificate in agricultural education in 1984. He continued his education obtaining a master's degree in animal breeding from Texas Tech in 1986, and a doctoral degree in physiology of reproduction and growth at Texas A&M University in 1990.

The Distinguished & Young Alumni Awards were established to recognize some of the most outstanding alumni of Texas Tech University's College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources (CASNR). The purpose of these programs is to recognize and honor CASNR alumni who have made significant contributions to society, and whose accomplishments and careers have brought distinction to the college and to the professions associated with agriculture and natural resources.

One alumnus from each of the college's departments is selected to receive the awards. The other recipients this year were Larry Richardson, who received a bachelor's degree in agronomy in 1981; Dewey Shroyer, who received a bachelor's degree in 1966 and a master's degree in 1973, both in park administration; Chris Skaggs, who received a bachelor's degree in both agricultural education and animal science in 1982; Kirk Thomas, who received a bachelor's degree in agricultural education in 1981; and David Wester, who received a master's degree in 1979 and a doctorate in 1984, both in range science.

Season Opener

Bronco pitcher Dillon Nickell throws a heater from the mound during the Broncos game last week to kick-off the season against Arbor Academy. The Broncos were several players short due to the basketball playoffs, but are preparing for a successful season. The Broncos will face Arbor Academy again this Friday at 1 p.m. in Amarillo.

when they came within three points with just seconds on the clock.

After Clarendon stopped Gruver's offense, Deborah Howard was able to make good on a free throw that sealed the game. Lydia Howard sparked the team during the game when she came off the bench and hit two huge three-pointers. Shadle connected on two three-pointers and Dronzek and Starnes added one each as well. Overall, Weathered was pleased with her team's defense and their shooting.

Scoring: Cartwright 9, Shadle

7, Starnes 7, L. Howard 6, D. Howard 5, Dronzek 3, and Ceniceros 2.

Seniors Dronzek and Marqueta Gaines have been valuable assets to the Lady Broncos team in their four years of high school and will be greatly missed.

The Lady Broncos finished the season at 24-5 that included a District Championship and a perfect district record. Coach Molly Weathered, in her second season with the Lady Broncos, developed many strengths in the ladies this season and will be able to build on them next year.

Assistance available for child care costs

Child Care Services offers child care assistance to eligible families and manages projects to improve the quality, availability, and affordability of child care in the 26 counties of the Texas Panhandle.

Program Manager, Frances Garcia, says, "With the economic struggles families are having today; the need for day care assistance is rapidly increasing. Our program helps offset the high cost of child care for parents who are working, participating in a job training program or enrolled in school.

"This service allows students and employees to maintain their attendance, without the disruption of not being able to afford day care. The children will also benefit with the continuity of care that will be provided."

Funding is available. Call 372-2836, ext. 1703 to have an application packet mailed to you or visit www.wspanhandle.com to print an application packet and to obtain additional eligibility information. The office is located at 1206 W. 7th St. Amarillo, TX 79101.

WHAT THE BIBLE TEACHES ABOUT... THE HOLY SPIRIT AT WORK IN US

A Twelve-week study series based on plain passages in the New Testament.

Who is invited? You are.

What is required? An open Bible and a desire to learn.

When do we begin? March 7, 10:00 a.m.-11:00 a.m.

Where do we meet? The Family Life Center, 3rd & Carhart

What may you expect? A greater understanding of Who the Holy Spirit is, how He is received and the many ways He helps, guides, strengthens, anoints, fills, assures us of our heirship and inheritance from God. Beyond knowing is the possibility of appreciating and experiencing the presence and power of God's gift of the Spirit to all who obey Him (Acts 5:32). Every point of discussion will be based on a series of specific New Testament passages.

Who is leading the class? Don Stone with the help of those who attend from several different religious connections.

SCHOOL LIFE

two thousand and eleven

Hedley students receiving all-district honors were (back) Kassie O'Dell, Kati Adams, Bailey Wood, Sierra Shelp, Kassidy Burton, Kortney Burton, Laura Ketzer, (front) Nicco Bennett, Iago Alvarez Olcina, and Coltin Kingston.

Owls receive All-District recognition

By Tangel Copelin

Several Hedley Owls and Lady Owls received All-District honors for the 2011-2012 basketball season.

Lady Owls senior Kassidy Burton, sophomore Bailey Wood, and freshman Kati Adams all were named to the All-District 4-1A team.

Owl junior Nicco Bennett was the only Owl to be named to the All-District team.

Academic All-District honors also went to several Hedley student athletes: Coltin Kingston, Iago Alvarez, Sierra Shelp, Laura Ketzer, Kassie O'Dell, Kortney Burton, and Kati Adams.

Congratulations to all these young athletes to a job well done.

Pickle competes

Hedley High School student Cassie Pickle competed in the UIL Music Regional Piano Solo Contest on Saturday 18, 2012, at the Sybil B. Harrington Fine Arts Complex at West Texas A&M University in Canyon. Pickle performed the first movement of "Deux Arabesques" by Claude Debussy. She received a Rating of 1, which earns her a place in the state competition in Austin on May 26-28.

Broncos prep for baseball season

By Sandy Anderberg

The Clarendon Broncos hosted Arbor Academy on the diamond last week with a limited roster and were defeated 0-4 in their season opener. Dusty Rice was on the mound, and Rowdy Speed was the catcher.

Arbor got on the board in the first inning and added another in the fifth before capping it off with two more in the sixth.

The Broncos struggled offensively and were never able to get tapped off.

According to head coach Brad Elam, the Broncos are in the process of finding their pitching rhythm.

"I have mixed results from this game," Elam said. "I was very pleased with our pitching and one of the keys to our season was to find some pitching. I have been very pleased with our pitching through a scrimmage and first game. Dusty threw the first three innings and did fantastic. He gave up only one hit while striking out 11."

Dillon Nickell, Gage Nelson, and Caleb Mitchell threw the last four innings.

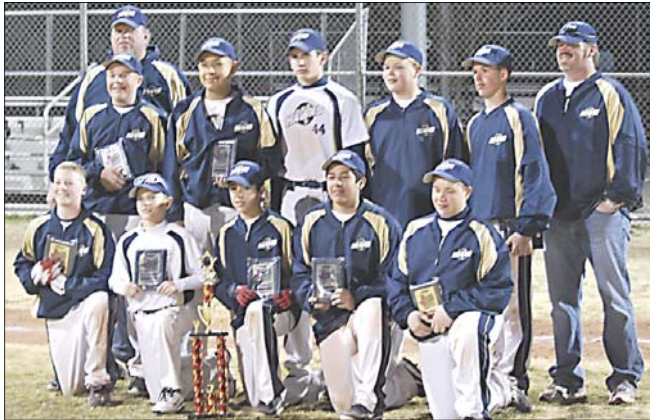

"Combined, we struck out 18 of 21 batters," Elam said.

"Hitting, we managed only one hit. We are definitely behind in this area and we will be focusing a little more this week."

Elam went on to say that the Broncos' fielding was decent and they made some good plays in the field, but also made crucial errors.

The Broncos will match up with Arbor again on Saturday, March 3, in Amarillo at 1:00 p.m.

They will play West Texas at home on Monday, March 5, at 4:00 p.m.

Champion team

Brothers Caleb Cobb and Joshua Cobb represented Clarendon on the Amarillo Hawks USSSA baseball team which won the Championship title. The "Knock The Rust Off - Open Event" was held Feb. 25 & 26. The Hawks competed in five games in the 14 and under division that was held at the Rick Klein Complex in Amarillo. Shown here are Joshua Cobb (front row, 2nd from left) and Caleb Cobb (back row, 3rd from left).

CHS One Act to perform "Conform"

Clarendon High School One Act Play students will present "Conform!" by Reid Conrad on Thursday, March 1, and Saturday, March 3.

"Conform!" is a social comedy that takes an interesting look at all our social ideas and customs and makes us question why we conform? The play is a mixture of Monty Python, "O Brother, Where Art Thou?", and the Marx Brothers.

The public is invited for a laughter-filled evening that is sure to make even the most discontented soul smile. Show times are at 8:00 p.m. in the CHS Auditorium. Ticket prices are $5 for adults and $3 for students and seniors. We cannot accept Credit Cards or Debit Cards at this time. In respect to the other audience members, please no children under the age of 10.

District Champion
Broncos succumb to Panhandle

By Sandy Anderberg

The Clarendon Broncos played hard against Panhandle in their Area matchup in Abernathy last Friday, but fell short losing to the Panthers 50-83. Despite the exit from the playoffs, the Broncos showed great maturity in every contest and made huge gains in experience that will only prepare them for next season.

The contest began slowly for the Broncos as Panhandle jumped to a big lead out of the box. The Broncos were plagued by the Panthers' three-point shooting and could never recover from the huge deficit. The Broncos attempted to recover in the third period of play but fell back again in the final quarter.

Trajen Johnson put in 15 to lead the Broncos, and Adam Topper helped with 12.

"Panhandle shot the ball well and we were not able to handle their pressure," head coach Brandt Lockhart said. "Overall I was proud of the way we played this year. We were able to go undefeated in district and gain some playoff experience."

Scoring: Johnson 15, Adam Topper 12, Cody Wood 9, Cole Ward 4, Chance McAnear 3, Diego Santos 2, Wes Williams 2, and Trevor Cobb 1.

The Broncos will be returning everyone next year except senior Wes Williams.

Candidates: School finance, water among topic issues

needs to address water issues along the coast so the rest of Texas doesn't start looking at Panhandle water to solve its problems. He also said that the state needs about $53 billion to implement a statewide water plan, and he stressed the importance of maintaining local control of ground-water districts.

Rep. Landroop said the state needs to get creative about solving water problems and look at all options, including desalination, rain water harvesting, and even a pipeline from the Mississippi. He said groundwater can't solve the state's problems.

Mr. King said he stands for property owners having the right to their water and said Texas needs rain, re-use facilities, and other things but the last thing Texas needs is the state running water policy. Mr. Smith said he agrees.

The next question involved the state's promise to dedicate money from the lottery to education. King and Landroop pointed out that the lottery brings in about $1 billion in funds but education costs $52 billion. All candidates agreed that education is the most important thing the state funds.

Clarendon City Administrator Lambert Little asked candidates how they would stay in touch with cities about issues in Austin. Rep. Landroop said he has coalitions that represent cities, schools, etc., that he relies on to advise him and stay connected to his district.

Mr. Smith offered to give out his cell phone number, Mr. King said he would maintain an open door policy and listen to anyone, and Mr. Walker said he relied on the advice of his constituents to help him wade through the bills that came before him.

Responding to questions about funding higher education and community colleges, Mr. Smith said more needs to be done by public schools to prepare kids for college and, as a former student from the CC Pampa Center, he said Clarendon College does a great job reaching high school students.

Mr. Walker said community colleges need to do more to make their presence known in Austin, and Rep. Landroop said the state needs to prioritize its spending and not fund private enterprises. Mr. King said the state needs to back off rules governing what classes kids have to take in high school.

Along the same topic of community college funding, Mr. Walker said he would not sign a "no new taxes" pledge and that if it came to the point the state couldn't fund education, he would be in favor of raising new revenues. Mr. King also said that the school finance system is "jacked up."

On the new STAAR standardized tests in public schools, Rep. Landroop said he favored abolishing the test because it had become a "punishment tool" and said college tests, such as the ACT, should be used to measure public school accountability. Mr. Walker said he thought the state was tied to testing through the federal No Child Left Behind Act but felt local officials should be able to set accountability standards. Mr. Smith said he felt standardized tests were not effective but said he was "not ready to throw the baby out with the bathwater."

Mr. King said he was against standardized tests because accountability should be left to local school boards and that testing had become a money-making business.

Candidates also touched on preserving the Teacher Retirement System, funding education versus funding athletics, and other issues. Each man thanked the organizers of Thursday's event and spent time visiting with voters individually before and after the forum.

A date for the Republican Primary has still not been set by the federal courts at press time.

New voter registration certificate forms delayed

AUSTIN — "Uncertainties about redistricting have delayed mailing of new Texas voter registration certificates," according to Karen Nicholson, President of League of Women Voters.

"New certificates must include congressional and legislative districts for each voter, and disputes about district boundaries must be resolved by a San Antonio district court before new voter registration certificates can be printed and mailed."

Registered voters should know that their voter registration remains in effect, and they will automatically receive new voter registration cards after redistricting maps are finalized. There is no action required of registered voters unless they have moved or changed names.

Voters can check their registration online at the Secretary of State's voter information website, www.votexas.org.

Voters who have moved within the county in which they are registered or changed names should notify the county voter registrar of changes in writing. Voters who have moved to a new county must reregister with voter registrar in their new county of residence at least 30 days before the next election, by April 12 to vote in local elections on May 12, 2012.

"Decisions voters make at the polls in 2012 will shape the future of Texas and the nation," says Nicholson, "and it is important that all eligible Texans vote to have a say in our future." US President, a US Senator, all Congressional districts, all of the State Legislature, two Railroad Commissioners, all of the State Board of Education, statewide and district court judicial positions, and many county offices will be on the primary and general election ballots in 2012. Many areas will also have additional local elections on May 12.

Eligible Texans who are not registered to vote should register now to make sure to have a say in the important 2012 elections. To register to vote, you must be a US citizen, a resident of the county, and at least 18 years old on Election Day.

You can register in person at the voter registration office in your county, or fill out an application that can be mailed or returned in person to the voter registrar in your county of residence. Application forms are available at many libraries, government offices and high schools and online at www.votexas.org. You must be registered to vote at least 30 days in advance of the election date or by April 12 to vote in local elections on May 12, 2012.

"LWV-TX and local Leagues across Texas are increasing outreach so Texas voters have the nonpartisan information and encouragement essential for meaningful participation in 2012 elections," Nicholson adds.

VOTE411 online will provide voters expanded access to races and candidate information, including short videos, plus information on voter registration and voting. Both VOTE411 and traditional LWV-TX Voters Guides can be accessed through the LWV-TX website, www.lwvtexas.org, and will be available about three weeks before statewide elections. Local Leagues and their Voters Guides can also be accessed from the LWV-TX website.

Peanut seminar to be held in Quail

Two CEUs will be provided, and there is a $10 registration fee.

Topics and speakers include Peanut Diseases, Nematode Control and New Technology Updates with Jason Woodward, Texas AgriLife

Pathologist; Peanut Fertilization, Inoculation and Technology Updates with Dr. Calvin Trostle, Texas AgriLife Agronomist; Possible Benefits of Nitrates in Water with Dr. Paul DeLaune, Environmental Soil Scientist; Texas Peanut Producer Updates with Shelly Nutt, Executive Director, Texas Peanut Producers Board; National Peanut Board Update with Bob White, Secretary, National Peanut Board

Panhandle Peanut Growers Association will sponsor lunch

USDA promoting rain harvesting

Just a half inch of rain falling on a 1,000-square-foot roof will yield 300 gallons of water!

With a rain barrel you can collect and store that water rather than letting it run down your driveway. Collecting rainwater for your garden is a smart idea — plants thrive on rainwater because it's naturally soft, contains nitrogen, and is free of chlorine and other chemicals.

Collecting rainwater in rain barrels for use during dry months is an ancient and traditional practice. Historical records show that rainwater was collected in simple clay containers as far back as 2,000 year ago in Thailand. With the drought restrictions now facing much of the United States more and more homeowners in our modern society are turning to the harvesting of rainwater to protect this precious natural resource.

If you are interested in rainwater harvesting, please contact the Donley County Soil & Water Conservation District at 806-874-3561, ext. 3. Or come by the office located at 321 Sully Street in Clarendon.

LEGAL NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICE OF CHANGES IN ELECTION PRECINCT

Pursuant to §42.035, Texas Election Code, the Commissioners Court of Donley County, Texas, herein provides notice of changes in County political boundaries as adopted by the Commissioners Court, and as prececeded by the United States Department of Justice on 13th day of January, 2012.

Interested individuals may review the adopted changes in the office of the County Clerk during regular business hours.
The changes in county election precincts were necessitated by redistricting if County Commissioners Court precincts in compliance with the United States Constitution and 42 U.S.C. §1973, also known as the Voting Rights Act, following release of 2010 census data. Changes in county election precincts were designed to achieve numerical balance between the four commissioners court precincts, and to insure the voting rights of all citizens of Donley County, Texas.

Fay Vargas
County Clerk

AVISO PUBLICO DE CAMBIOS EN ELECCION RECINTOS

De conformidad con §42.035, Código Electoral de Texas, la Corte de Comisionados del condado de Donley, Texas, este documento proporciona la notificación de cambios en los límites del Condado de política adoptada por la Corte de Comisionados, y como prececedo por el Departamento de Justicia el día 13 de enero, 2012.

Las personas interesadas pueden revisar los cambios adoptados en la oficina del secretario del condado durante las horas regulares de trabajo.
Los cambios en los precinctos electorales del condado fueron necesarios por la redistribución de los distritos del Condado de la Corte de Comisionados de conformidad con la Constitución de los Estados Unidos y 42 U.S.C.
§ 1973, también conocida como la Ley de Derechos Electorales, tras la publicación de los datos del censo 2010. Los cambios en los precinctos electorales del condado fueron diseñados para lograr un equilibrio numérico entre los cuatro distritos electorales comisionados judiciales, y para asegurar los derechos de voto todos los ciudadanos del condado de Donley, Texas.

CC Bulldogs open home stand with 3-2 victory

By Fred Gray

The Clarendon College Bulldogs opened a seven-game home stand with a 3-2, comeback victory over the Vernon College Chaparrals.

Outfielder Jeandro Andino, displaying a young Roberto Clemente-like swing, drove in two runs.

In the bottom of the second, he drove a frozen rope over the right field fence.

Later, in the bottom of the eighth, he once again drove a line-drive into a fierce left field wind, plating left-fielder Antonio Ramirez with the winning run.

Starting right-hand pitcher Sam Ouellet, after allowing a run in the first, pitched 7 1/3 sterling innings, for the win. Fellow Canadian, and right-handed pitcher, Jacob Gosseling-Deschesnes closed out the Chaparrals for the save.

The Bulldogs, now 9-3, play good, fundamentally sound baseball, under first year skipper, Chris Joblin, who hails from my old stomping grounds, Eagle, Idaho.

They are fun to watch and have six games of the seven game homestand remaining.

They played LCU this week prior to press time and open district play March 1, hosting El Paso Community College for a two-game stand, then host Garden City Community College on Wednesday, March 7. They close out this home stand on against Midland College on March 9 and 10.

If you are a fan of America's past-time, with an international flavor, come out and enjoy the games.

Watching good baseball is time well spent.

Obituaries

Barnhill

Nell Barnhill, 92, of Clarendon, died Monday, February 13, 2012.

Graveside services were held at 2:00 p.m., Thursday, February 16, 2012, at Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon with Dr. Darin Davis officiating. Arrangements were by Boxwell Brothers Funeral Directors of Amarillo.

Ruth Nell Williams was born in Dalhart to Dallam County Pioneers, Jack and Ethel Williams. Nell was a vivacious beauty and reigned as XIT Queen. She also worked for the Dalhart Chamber of Commerce.

She married Gary Barnhill on April 8, 1939. Nell and Gary lived in Turkey until 1955, when they moved to Clarendon.

Nell was always a working partner in their family businesses, the Farmer's Supply and the Sandell and Mulkey Theatres. She helped choose movies to be shown and mailed movie calendars to Clarendon and area residents. She was the pretty smile and the wonderful laugh at the ticket booth for both theatres. Nell also made the delicious barbecue that was a hit of the snack bar.

After retiring from her duties at the Sandell, Nell enjoyed playing golf, bridge and poker with her special "girl friends." She was a great cook, an avid gardener and had the gift of making her home beautiful and comfortable for all. Her family especially loved to come to "Nonnie's" and crash. Nell had a beautiful voice and served as choir director in the First Presbyterian Church of Clarendon for many years.

She is preceded in death by the love of her life, Gary; her parents, Jack and Ethel; and her siblings Jack, Irma and Lois.

Surviving Nell are daughters, Sandi Harris and Adele Lee and their families; grandchildren, Tami Logsdon, Darin Davis, Gary and Tripp Sherr; and eight great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren.

The family extends heartfelt gratitude to all who cared for Nell: Ware Living Center, especially the staff of Cherry II, Nancy Owens of Clarendon, the "amazing angels" at BSA Hospice, Allen Arvello and Dr. Stenhouse.

Hughes

Margaret Lee Hughes, age 81, died Tuesday, February 28, 2012, at Vernon.

Graveside services were held at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, February 29, 2012, at Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon with Rev. Bruce Howard, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Hedley, officiating. Interment followed in Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon with arrangements by Robertson Funeral Directors of Clarendon.

Margaret was born July 5, 1930 in Tel City, Indiana, to Edwin Hayes and Estal Lee Mincey Clark. She married Thomas U. Hughes on January 11, 1947, in Hall County. Together they raised their children in the Lakeview Community and later moved to Clarendon.

Early in life she worked on the family farm and later she had an antique shop in Clarendon, but she spent most of her time as a homemaker.

She was a member of the Lakeview Methodist Church.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Thomas U. Hughes, on July 14, 2007; two brothers, Robbie Clark and Willis Clark; and her sister, Louise Hatley.

Survivors include her son, Tommy Hughes of Clarendon; two daughters, Mary Martin and husband Mitchell of Clarendon, and Carolyn Altman and husband Stanley of Vernon; her sister, Minnie Turner of Amarillo; three grandchildren, Jessica Wright and husband Keith, Kimberley Horn and husband Brian, and Julie Barker and husband Nick; and nine great-grandchildren, Brooke Martin, Peighton Barker, Kendall Horn, Mitch Parry, Blayne Horn, Dusty Thomas, Lee Tolbert, Brady McKay, and Cooper Horn.

Hill

Gerald Hill, 84, of Claude, died Friday, February 24, 2012, in Claude.

Graveside services were held at 2:00 p.m. on Tuesday, February 28, 2012, in Memorial Park Cemetery in Amarillo with Rev. Darrell Burton, officiating.

Services were under the direction of Robertson Funeral Directors of Clarendon.

Mr. Hill was born July 22, 1927, in Sulphur, Oklahoma to Fred Hill and Millie Spears Bates. He had been a resident of Amarillo since the mid 1940's before moving to Claude in 2003. Mr. Hill was a distribution warehouse supervisor for Affiliated Foods and was also a sheet metal worker. Gerald loved spending time out in his yard. The family would like to thank Palo Duro Nursing Home for the loving care shown to Mr. Hill.

He was preceded in death by his parents; a brother Kenneth Bates; and a sister, Velma Dunn.

He is survived by a daughter Melissa Hill and husband Glen of Groom; three brothers, Harold Bates of Mountain Home, Arkansas, Carol Bates of Batesville, Arkansas, Doyle Bates of Amarillo; four grandchildren; and 10 great-grandchildren.

The family request memorials be sent to a local hospice care facility of choice.
