NOTE: A new local case of COVID-19 was reported by family on social media this weekend but had not been reported to the county by the state at press time. That would bring the local tally to 28.

National Guard to hold COVID testing

The Texas National Guard will hold a local drive-thru COVID-19 testing at Clarendon College on Tuesday, July 14, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., according to Donley County Judge John Howard, MD.

Those wishing to be tested for the coronavirus will need a valid ID (such as a driver's license) and are urged to call ahead to get a testing time.

Howard said the guard will open a call center 48 hours prior to the testing, but details on that were not available at press time. Those who don't call ahead will be able to register onsite for the test.

More information about this testing opportunity will be published as it becomes available.

CHS Class of 1980 to hold 40th reunion

The Clarendon High School Class of 1980 will hold their 40th anniversary reunion this weekend during the activities planned for the annual Saints' Roost Celebration.

Dinner and visiting will be held Friday night at Dan Sawyer's barn. The class will also ride in the Herring Bank Parade Saturday, July 4, and enjoy the barbecue afterward.

Saturday afternoon, classmates will enjoy ice cream at Stocking's at 1:00 and then watch a classic 1980s movie, Smokey & The Bandit, at the Mulkey Theatre at 1:45.

The reunion will close out with a potluck dinner Saturday night.

For more information, contact Colleen Fross at 806-205-0434.

Class members of 1979 and 1981 are welcome to attend as well.

City council to hold town hall July 14

The City of Clarendon will host a town hall meeting to discuss the status of the USDA water infrastructure project, streets, and other issues Monday, July 13, at 6:30 p.m. at the Mulkey Theatre.

Mayor Sandy Skelton set up the meeting last week in response to citizens' concerns, and the city looks forward to addressing those issues.

City welcomes visitors to celebration

Clarendon is set to welcome visitors to the 143rd annual Saints' Roost Celebration this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, July 2, 3, and 4.

The coronavirus pandemic has put most area July Fourth celebrations on hold this year, but the Panhandle's oldest will still move forward this weekend.

Clarendon Outdoor Entertainment Association's Junior Rodeo scheduled for Thursday night, July

2, and the Ranch Rodeo on Friday and Saturday nights, July 3 and 4, will be limited to 50 percent capacity with social distancing encouraged. All rodeo events will go on as usual, except for the dances afterward. COEA will also proceed with the usual kids' events, including the calf scrambles.

The First Baptist Church confirms there will be no Depression Lunch downtown Friday this year.

The big day will be Saturday,

July 4, beginning with the Arts & Craft Fair on the square at 9 a.m. sponsored by the Donley County 4H. Booths must be reserved through the Donley County 4H by calling 806-874-2141.

Ed Montana will provide music and serve as master of ceremonies on the square.

The Chamber of Commerce's Kids' Bicycle & Tricycle Parade, sponsored by Shelton & Shelton Attorneys and Mike's Pharmacy, will also begin at 9 a.m. The Kids' Parade will line up at 8:30 at Keith Floyd's shop at Third and Sully.

Kids' Parade Chair Kim Fowler is asking all parents to register their kids for the parade online by using the form at ClarendonTX.com/ChamberEvents.

Line up for the Herring Bank Parade will also start at 9 a.m. with the parade taking off at 10:00. The theme for this year's parade is "Texas Strong – United We Stand," and entry forms are available in this week's Enterprise as well as at the Visitor Center. Entry forms are also available at ClarendonTX.com/ChamberEvents.

The Herring Bank Parade features $850 in cash prizes with $200 available for the best float, $100 for the best car or truck entry, $100 for the best animal or riding unit, $100 for the best tractor or farm equipment entry, and $100 for the best

Brooks' concert sets record at Sandell Casting Crowns to perform July 18

The Sandell Drive-In reports that it recorded its largest audience in its modern history Saturday night with a special Garth Brooks concert event.

Owner John Morrow said the event wasn't as big as they had hoped but still brought in more than 670 people, who arrived in 134 cars. Morrow reopened the Sandell in 2002, and his biggest attendance since then was 415 people.

"There was a problem with the online ticket system, and it crashed the site the first day," Morrow said. "I think a lot of people thought the show was sold out, and I think that killed the main surge."

The Sandell was one of only 300 drive-in theatres across North America to host the Brooks' concert, which attracted a total of more than 350,000 fans, who were able to enjoy this special event, with friends and family, from the safety of their own vehicle.

It was the first time anything like this had ever been done. The concert was created exclusively for this event. It was recorded in Nashville, with the full band.

"This time, I was the fan and the people were the entertainment. Watching people all night from coast to coast, in Canada and here in the US, laughing, dancing, and singing, made me smile," said Brooks. "It reminded me how much I miss the crazy, happy, and unpredictable life we lead as entertainers. For one night, things seemed...right."

The event was produced by Encore Live.

Morrow said the recorded show included a 20-minute pre-show with Randall King of Amarillo.

"I thought we did good," he said. "We had two dogs run off when we lit the fireworks at the start, and I felt bad about that. I'll definitely warn anyone I see come in with dogs in the future."

The Sandell is expecting another big crowd this month with Casting Crowns performing live on stage on July 18. Morrow said tickets are on sale now for that, and fans can buy those online through a link on the Sandell's Facebook page.

Tickets to see Casting Crowns are $100 per car with six people maximum per car. The event will be limited to 430 tickets, he said.

Mayor issues letter to allow July 4 events

Clarendon Mayor Sandy Skelton issued a letter last Friday authorizing local Saints' Roost Celebration activities this weekend following the latest executive order of Gov. Greg Abbott.

The governor took several steps to respond to rising COVID-19 cases around the state, including closing bars and banning most public gatherings of 100 people or more. Rodeos were exempted, however, and Abbott allowed other events to proceed with the permission of local authorities.

Officials have urged, but not required, citizens to wear masks at this weekend's events and to observe social distancing requirements.

Until this past weekend, Donley County had not had a confirmed new case of COVID-19 since June 3. Posts by family members on social media Sunday reported that another Donley County person had tested positive for the disease in an Amarillo hospital, which would bring the local COVID-19 count up to 28.

As of Tuesday, that case had not yet been reported to the county by the state, so the official tally remains at 27 for this week's Enterprise.

Four more patients were tested at the Clarendon Family Medical Center since last Tuesday. Two of those tests were negative and two are still pending. That brings the total local tests to 129 with 107 negatives.

Early voting is underway

Early voting began Monday for runoff elections for Texas Democratic and Republican primaries.

Local interest is focused on the Republican ballot, which has Josh Winegarner and Ronny Jackson seeking to be the GOP candidates for the 13th Congressional District.

Early voting by personal appearance will be conducted at the Donley County Courthouse Annex through July 10. The annex will be closed on July 3 for the holiday weekend. The primary runoff elections will be held July 14, 2020.

PCS receives grant to assist residents with expenses

Panhandle Community Services has received more than $3 million dollars designated to provide immediate support to residents of the Texas Panhandle experiencing economic hardship due to COVID-19.

The agency has been working with federal and state officials, private foundations, and local businesses to re-allocate current funding and obtain new monies to assist the Panhandle community.

PCS will use these funds to help families get back on their feet and remain economically stable during this difficult time.

"We have always been here to help those Panhandle residents struggling with economic insecurity," states Magi York, the Executive Director of PCS. "Now, more than ever, we want to be able to help. We care. We are here, and we are in this with you!"

Some of the things PCS can help with include:

Utility Bills - Electric, gas, propane, or wood, as well as water, and trash;

Housing Costs - Including both rent and mortgage payments;

Other Necessities - Including prescriptions, doctor visits, and food

Many happy returns from Uncle Mort

Uncle Mort isn't his usual self. His 108th birthday is at hand, and he's hung up on whether to have a "real" party, or join the growing list of folks who are "computer Zooming" to celebrate special occasions. (Printers are shaking their heads, turning out fancy invitations with the word "virtual" in big type.)

"Maybe I'd do well to throw a 'virtual' party," Mort mused. "Most people would understand they aren't expected to attend, but that sanitized gifts, gift cards or cash left near the cattle guard by the front gate would be appreciated."

His is a dilemma of vast dimensions, and instead of "ballyhooing" his arrival at age 108 on July 4, he's seriously considering wife Maude's growing insistence that he forget about numerical birthdays. "I'd heap rather kinfolks think of Mort as an 'ageless uncle,' and friends who talk about 'the old guy out in the country' whose name they can't recall."...

the idle american
by don newbury

In a land mired in the "what ifs," Uncle Mort is leaning toward "virtual." After all, since he's an imaginary person, maybe his take on things usually has "what if?" twangs.

Mort has warm memories of dozens of birthday parties where he received lots of presents, and even more "many happy returns" wishes.

The phrase stuck in his mind, so he researched its origin, learning that the expression has been tossed around at birthday parties – as well as a few other celebrations – for almost three centuries. It simply is an expression of hope that celebrants will have many more happy years to enjoy....

Mort's mind swirled with memories of bygone days when his heroes enjoyed truly happy birthdays. Foremost was author/speaker/motivational king "Zig" Ziglar. Hundreds of friends and loved ones gathered for a fancy dinner and testimonials to mark the "59th anniversary of his 21st birthday" when he reached age 80. (He died at age 86 in 2012.)

"I'm glad we have his books and cassette tapes. It's a treat to read Ziglar books while playing a 45 rpm record of Kate Smith singing 'God Bless America'. We could use a good dose of his thoughts and her singing right now," he added. (Smith died in 1979 at age 86.)

My uncle says he's enjoyed "many mirthful days," and fears that during quarantines, such times are more "girthful" than "mirthful."...

What to do? For most of this year, most Americans have been too close to food for too much of the day.

My friend Pat – whose good cheer through good times and bad provides anchors for thousands of others – insists on maintaining a "sunny side up" disposition. She even smiles broadly when "girthful" topics come up, including admission that she has "fluffed up" in quarantine.

"During April, I had no appetite," she says. "I didn't care to eat anything, and pounds seemed to melt away. But, things changed in May. I ate everything that wasn't nailed down. The pounds have returned, and they brought their friends along."...

While on the subject of food, my uncle smiled the other day upon entering Stanley's BBQ place in Tyler. Masked personnel carefully escorted customers inside one at a time.

Even as they salivated at the thought of "chow-ing down" on the 'cue, they tried to maintain social distance instructions by "remaining one cow length apart."...

Uncle Mort is as "befuddled" as the rest of us concerning COVID-19. But he does have strong opinions, and they aren't "virtual."

He asks a reasonable question: "Are you telling me that my chances of survival are in direct proportion to others exercising common sense?"

He made this final observation: "If you believe all of this will end and we'll soon get back to normal with the snap of a finger, raise your hand, then slap yourself in the face with it!" Let's all wish Mort "many happy returns," or as many more as he wants...

Independence Day amid COVID-19

Independence. As Americans we enjoy this blessing as our birthright. Yet, it was not given to us; we earned it. We have sacrificed much to preserve it for almost a quarter of a millennium. Independence is enshrined in our Constitution and embedded in our DNA. And none value independence more than Texans. We celebrate it every year with now familiar events here in Clarendon.

This year's celebration comes in the midst of our battle against a deadly worldwide pandemic. The battle has seriously challenged our nation and affected every person in the land. Half a million worldwide have perished already. Over 127,000 of those were Americans – more than any other country. While only 2300 of those were Texans, the incidence of disease is on the rise in our state and the Governor on Friday imposed new restrictions on the re-opening of the state.

I am pleased, and proud, to report that our last case in Donley County was on June 3rd. And before that, the last case of community spread was on April 9th. The citizens of our community took seriously the threat which at one time characterized us as the "sickest county in Texas" and gained us some temporary notoriety. And we stopped it! But with cases on the rise around us, and the probability that some folks will come in from out of town, we must continue to exercise reasonable precautions to protect ourselves from further spread here.

Several communities have cancelled their traditional 4th of July celebrations this year. In Clarendon we will have our rodeo, parade, and gathering on the courthouse square. It will look different this year. We will not serve our own barbeque. The crafts will be spread out on the square to permit more distancing in the crowd. And there will be handwashing stations and sanitizer available.

Some of us will need to carefully consider whether we should be in a large gathering of people – where we know the virus spreads more easily. Those of us who are more vulnerable to serious problems from the virus (over 60 years old, heart, lung or kidney problems, diabetes, obesity, immune system disease – to name a few) will need to weigh the risk. All who attend should exercise well known prudent precautions to prevent contracting or spreading the virus. Wearing a mask reduces such risk when you will be closer than six feet from others. I know it is hard, but we really don't need to shake hands and hug each other this year – and when we forget that, don't forget the hand sanitizer.

guest commentary
by Judge John Howard, MD

Remember that the disease can be spread by those who have no symptoms or very mild symptoms. If you are serious about avoiding the virus then you also need to avoid close contact with those who have been in a crowd. The incubation period after exposure is around 4-5 days but can be up to 11 days. And those who contract the illness can continue to shed the virus for 3-4 weeks. While we may feel that we are at low risk from the virus ourselves, we must consider the impact of spreading to others. Ultimately it is the responsibility of each individual to protect themselves. Responsibility – the all-important corollary to Independence.

However you choose to celebrate our Independence I urge you all to have a great, and safe, weekend. And remember those who have provided it as our legacy. God Bless America.

Pageantry at a West Texas pool

Perhaps the most dazzling outdoor summer event in West Texas is the Fort Stockton Water Carnival.

"It takes place at night in mid-July," says Vicki Mitchell who has worked with Water Carnival for 27 years. "We have spectacular costumes, glitter, glitz, dramatic lighting and it's all at Comanche Springs Pool." Each nightly performance begins with a beauty pageant followed by an outdoor theatrical show with props and a huge cast. The show changes every year and Vicki has written some of the scripts for the show. Her husband builds props. This year the title is "How Not To Propose In Las Vegas." Big crowds come from all over the state and beyond to see the show. They are seated in bleachers around the Olympic size pool.

"Dancing and synchronized swimming are rotated so we have a dancing act that has something to do with the script, then we have a swimming act that has something to do with the script. Our show usually has about 16 different acts."

After the show, winners of the beauty pageant are announced. Saturday's winner (for girls 17 to 22) gets a scholarship and works with the chamber of commerce, making appearances throughout the year as Miss Fort Stockton.

200 volunteers, including generations of some families, work with Water Carnival practically the entire year preparing for it. The same people have worked lights for 40 years. It's Fort Stockton's biggest event.

"That's what you do when you live in Fort Stockton all your life. When I was growing up I lived near the pool and would hear the music from the show. Our summers are spent on Water Carnival. We don't have a summer vacation. That's our family time together. It's a time of school and family reunions."

stories of texas

The Water Carnival has been a part of Fort Stockton since 1936 when the Lions Club wanted to do something at the big swimming hole that was created by natural springs

"They would dance, have diving exhibitions and all kinds of stuff. Water Carnival lasted a whole week back then. Now it's Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights the 3rd weekend in July. So you come, you see beautiful girls at the first, and then you watch a great show of swimming and dancing. After that we name our pageant winners in different age categories.

The springs started slowing down in 1950 with the increase in agriculture. The pool was built in 1953 and stays full of water year round. There's a good reason for that.

"When it rained a lot, the pool would float out of the ground because the water underneath the springs would lift the pool up. So it's filled with water all the time to keep it weighted down."

Discovery Center
sets new hours

The Don Harrington Discovery Center in Amarillo has made a few adjustments to its summer schedule, according to an announcement last week.

The Discovery Center is open during these new temporary hours: Tuesday- Saturday, 10:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m. Guests may plan ahead by reserving admission online. Members do not need to reserve online; and if a person qualifies for a discount (student, military, senior), it will need to be purchased at the front desk during their visit.

The center regrettably canceled the remainder of its Summer Camps scheduled for July due to COVID19 guidelines. The safety and health of campers and staff is always the highest priority at the Discovery Center.

As with our June cancellations, this decision did not come easily as this is a disappointment for all, including the Discovery Center. If someone has previously registered for a July camp, you should have received an email with refund information. For more information about refunds email bgervasi@dhdhc.org or call 355-9547 x103.

The DHDC staff has planned a special patriotic day on Friday, July 3rd from 10:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m., which will include Exploding Melon, Mentos Geysers, Fire Breathing, Fire Bubbles, Tesla Coil and Trash Can Chaos. Kids will also be able to make their own firework salt art to take home.

Nathan Estlack, Ben Estlack, Dan Estlack, and Mason Allred grabbed brooms and shovels Tuesday morning to help clean up downtown ahead of the Saints' Roost Celebration. TxDOT and city crews were also out this week polishing up the town.

Cleaning up one block at a time

Earlier this week, my family and I thought it would be a good idea if me, my cousins, and my friend Mason went downtown to main street and cleaned off the sidewalks and gutters.

So, this week on Tuesday, me and my crew started on our first block, which is from the old restaurant to the old hotel.

Mason and I took one side of the street, while my cousins took the other side. There was a big pile of dirt on our side, and we had to make a trip to dump ours before we even passed the first building. Then we went and swept the rest of the sidewalks into the gutters. Once we did that, we had big piles of dirt in the gutter and ended up needing to use a shovel to pick it all up.

the cub

Once it was time for lunch, Mason and I still had a bunch left so all of us got together to finish it and were able to finish the first 1/3 of our project.

I'd like to thank my cousin, Mark Putman, for bringing Gatorade to our crew. We really appreciated it!

Memories of past celebrations

My first memories of the 4th of July celebrations are in Clarendon: the rodeo in what is used only as a football stadium now, a parade with mostly cowboys and cowgirls, roped off main street with dancing as long as you could stand.

During WWII, I don't remember a barbecue, but in about 1946, ranchers donated beeves and hosted a free barbecue until the food ran out. As I remember, those cowboys could put away the groceries!

The rodeo was mostly local lads, and people came to cheer on their favorite. At that time everyone "rode for the brand," in our case the RO.

My Dad, George McCracken, never rode in the rodeo after he married. He said he would leave that to the youngsters. We came in from the ranch and sitting on the courthouse lawn with a picnic spread out, visiting with all the family and friends as they strolled by was a big treat.

This year, I will stay home as the COVID-19 continues to spread. Thankfully, it's not spreading in Donley County (yet). Please keep your distance, wear your mask, and use hand sanitizer.

Did you hear about the family around Dallas who attended a surprise birthday party and 18 members of the family became infected with COVID? Three were hospitalized, and one is on the ventilator. Don't take a chance folks. Have a good time and remember this Fourth with happy memories.

Casting Crowns announce Drive-In theater tour

The critically acclaimed Drive-In Theater Tour series, produced by Awakening Events, is growing again and will be coming to Clarendon's Sandell Drive-In this month.

Awakening Events announced last week that Casting Crowns will join industry titans TobyMac, Michael W. Smith, Steven Curtis Chapman, Mac Powell, and more as part of the Drive-In Theater Tour Series. The Casting Crowns tour begins in Fayetteville, Ark., on July 15, with dates planned in Florida, Oklahoma, Texas, Indiana, and Ohio with a performance in Clarendon on July 18.

"When we began discussing the Drive-In Theater series and which artists made the most sense, Casting Crowns was an immediate yes," said Dan Fife, President and Founder of Awakening Events. "We've had a long history of successful shows with Casting Crowns. The powerful way in which their music impacts people is something that is needed in this season. I'm honored that the Casting Crowns' team has decided to join us on this exciting new journey, taking live music to the people, on the Drive-In Theater Tour Series."

When speaking with Mark Hall, lead vocalist of Casting Crowns about the Drive-In Theater tour concept he had this to say.

"We are excited for the opportunity to get out and play some shows in a safe environment. I think on a lot of levels families need this right now. We pray these nights will offer people hope."

All dates on the Drive-In Theater Tour will comply with local guidelines related to Covid-19.

"We've heard the demands from our fans, and we're working hard to bring live music back to as many locations as possible," said Curtis Pinkerton, director of Marketing at Awakening Events. "We're excited today to be able to safely add seven additional states to the Drive-In Theater Tour Series footprint.

Tickets for the tour will again be sold by the car load (up to 6 people per car). A full list of cities and dates for the tour is available at www.awakeningevents.com or www.driveintheatertour.com.

TO THE VOTERS OF DONLEY COUNTY

My name is Guy Ellis. My wife Robin and I have lived in Clarendon for 23 years now, hard to believe. Like you, I want what is best for our region and the people that call this area home. I am supporting Josh Winegarner for Congress.

Josh is a strong Christian conservative and knows firsthand the needs of our communities. Josh and I have traveled to D.C. together, and I have personally witnessed him defending agriculture and our way of life to lawmakers who do not understand who we are or what we do in District 13. Josh worked to roll back harmful Obama-era regulations, fought against animal activists who want to put us out of business, and supported President Trump's sound trade policies.

Not only this, but Josh strongly supports our oil and gas producers and will fight for America's energy independence. He will stand with President Trump to secure our borders, and he will work to keep our military strong and stand up for our veterans. He is pro-life, will stand up for our Second Amendment rights, and supports our law enforcement.

A win for Josh Winegarner is a win for the rural communities in this district.

Thornberry responds to partisan police reform

WASHINGTON - Congressman Mac Thornberry (R-Clarendon) released the following statement last week after the House of Representatives voted on partisan police reform legislation.

"Speaker Pelosi and the House Democratic majority have once again written and passed a partisan bill that will not be signed into law, joining their Senate counterparts in delaying necessary policing reform for the country. They would obviously rather have an issue for their campaigns than take action on legislation where there is widespread agreement.

"Although House and Senate Democrats agree on many of the reforms included in the JUSTICE Act, they continue to work in a partisan manner, emphasizing their politics over substance. As a co-sponsor of the JUSTICE Act, I will continue to support meaningful police reform that strengthens the relationship between law enforcement officers and their communities."

Key provisions in the Republican alternative the JUSTICE Act:

Requires law enforcement agencies to maintain and share to any Federal, State, or local law enforcement agency disciplinary records for 30 years in order to streamline transparency and hiring;

Makes lynching a federal crime;

Penalizes any law enforcement agency that does not develop a policy banning the use of chokeholds except where deadly force is authorized;

Requires annual reporting on the use of force and no-knock warrants;

Implements Department of Justice (DOJ) training that focuses on de-escalation techniques and law enforcement interaction with mentally ill individuals; and

Creates a bipartisan commission on the social status of black men that will issue a report to Congress on conditions including education, health care, financial status, and the criminal justice system.

SUDOKU

Level: Advanced

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

gency SNAP dollars (supplemental nutrition assistance), PCS funds can be used to meet needs not covered by SNAP;

Costs required to transition to new employment - Including short-term training, shoes, uniform, etc.; and Transportation Costs - Including gas, minor vehicle repair, and public transportation.

Residents of the top 26 counties can obtain assistance in one of two ways. Interested persons can visit the agency's website www.pcsvcs.org to learn more and fill out an application. The process is simple and straightforward. Once you have accessed the PCS website, click on the COVID-19 link under services and fill out the form. You can provide necessary documents from a computer or your smartphone. Once your application has been submitted, a PCS specialist will contact you directly to discuss your needs and how we can support you during this challenging time.

Those in need can also visit one of the 14 PCS service centers across the region. Panhandle Community Services' Clarendon office is located in the Christ's Kids Ministry Center at 416 S. Kearney.

Obituaries

Cook

Syble Lee Ervin Cook, 93 of Panhandle died June 4, 2020, of natural causes. She was born in Lavaca, Arkansas, February 19, 1927, to Earl and Olvie (Morris) Ervin.

Syble married Jack Clifton Cook on June 2, 1943 and from their marriage they had nine children. J. C. Cook (deceased), Linda Smallwood of Amarillo, Shirley Baker and husband Raymond of Panhandle, Sandra Banister (deceased), Jackie Cook of Nashville, Tennessee, Tommy Cook (deceased), Betty Sanderson of Chandler, Arizona, Molly Brucker and husband Craig of Clarendon, and Marilyn Defries and husband Larry of Clarendon.

Syble leaves behind six children, 20 grandchildren, 41 great grandchildren and 19 great-great grandchildren.

She worked at Marie Foundations in McLean for many years. She was a very gifted seamstress and made many dresses for her daughters. She also loved to quilt, crochet, garden and work jigsaw puzzles, but what she loved most was her family and all of their holiday gatherings.

She married V. E. Johns in 1964 and they moved to Panhandle in 1966. She worked at various places, including Filter Media and Bell Helicopter. She married Jackie Miller in 1982, and divorced him in 2007, changing her surname back to Cook.

The family would like to thank BSA Hospice of the Southwest for their loving care of our mother.

Memorial services will be held July 4, 2020 at 2:00 pm, 4800 Greenbelt Way #1. Clarendon, TX 79226.

Cook

Cremation was under the direction of Minton Chatwell Funeral Directors of Panhandle. Graveside memorial will be July 5, 2020, at 5:00 pm at Panhandle Cemetery, Panhandle, TX 79068.

McAdoo

Ruth Raney McAdoo, formerly of Clarendon, passed away in Pampa on Monday, June 29, 2020 at the age of 84.

Graveside services will be held at 11:30 am on Thursday, July 2, 2020, at Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon with Rev. Lance Wood officiating.

Arrangements are under the direction of Robertson Funeral Directors of Clarendon.

Ruth was born December 6, 1935, in Hedley, to Wallace and Elva Auffer Raney. She grew up in Clarendon and was a graduate of Clarendon High School and Clarendon College. She was always proud of her parents farming operation 10 miles southeast of Clarendon. While living in Raton, New Mexico, she worked as a Branch manager for a bank, and had part interest in race horses. She also taught school in Amarillo and was an owner of Panhandle Productions. Ruth one time was a primary fundraiser for the Texas Paralyzed Veterans Association, and also did fundraising for many Lions Clubs. She was a charter member of the High Plains Light-house for the Blind, and was a board member of the Texas Counsel for the Blind. Ruth loved to travel.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her daughter Kendra Lou Johnson; and sister Ann.

She is survived by a son, Rex Johnson of Clarendon; two daughters, Kristy Brandon of Amarillo and Ruthy Wright of Alma, Arkansas; seven grandchildren; and five great grandchildren.

9:43 p.m. - Report of people shooting fireworks towards house 100 block Martindale

10:38 p.m. - Reports of people shooting fireworks 6th and Jefferson Area

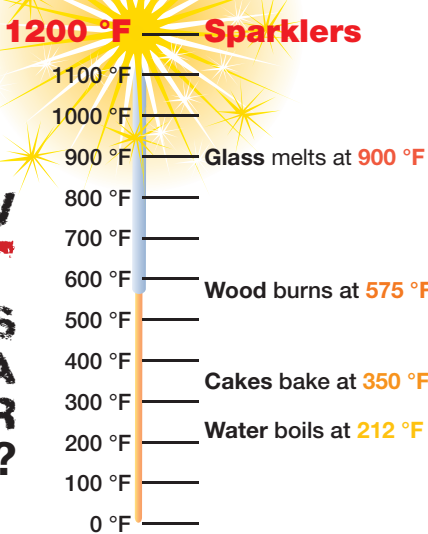

FIREWORKS are often used to mark special events and holidays. The only safe way to view fireworks is to attend a professional show. With many professional firework shows being canceled this year, it is important to know that fireworks are not safe in the hands of consumers. Fireworks cause thousands of injuries each year.

A few ideas to get into the patriotic spirit, without fireworks:

1. Use glow sticks, they glow in the dark and are a safe alternative to a sparkler. Fun for all ages.
2. Loud and proud. Noise makers are sure to make a statement. They can be found at local party supply stores or make your own.
3. Outdoor movie night. Set up a screen and projector. Don't forget the bugspray!
4. Red, white and blue silly string...fun for all ages.
5. Make a patriotic craft with the family.
6. Throw a birthday party for the USA, and don't forget the cake.

HOW HOT DOES A SPARKLER BURN?

FACTS

- More than 19,500 reported fires are started by fireworks annually.
- Burns account for 44% of the 9,100 injuries treated in emergency rooms seen in the month around July 4.
- Half of the fireworks injuries seen at emergency rooms were extremities: hand, finger, or leg. One-third were to the eye or other parts of the head.
- Children ages 10-14 had the highest rate of fireworks injury, with more than one-third (36%) of the victims of fireworks injuries under age 15.
- Sparklers account for roughly one-quarter of emergency room fireworks injuries.

There’s nothing like outdoor grilling. It’s one of the most popular ways to cook food. But, a grill placed too close to anything that can burn is a fire hazard. They can be very hot, causing burn injuries. Follow these simple tips and you will be on the way to safe grilling.

SAFETY TIPS

- Propane and charcoal BBQ grills should only be used outdoors.
- The grill should be placed well away from the home, deck railings and out from under eaves and overhanging branches.
- Keep children and pets at least three feet away from the grill area.
- Keep your grill clean by removing grease or fat buildup from the grills and in trays below the grill.
- Never leave your grill unattended.
- Always make sure your gas grill lid is open before lighting it.

CHARCOAL GRILLS

- There are several ways to get the charcoal ready to use. Charcoal chimney starters allow you to start the charcoal using newspaper as a fuel.
- If you use a starter fluid, use only charcoal starter fluid. Never add charcoal fluid or any other flammable liquids to the fire.
- Keep charcoal fluid out of the reach of children and away from heat sources.
- There are also electric charcoal starters, which do not use fire. Be sure to use an extension cord for outdoor use.
- When you are finished grilling, let the coals completely cool before disposing in a metal container.

PROPANE Grills

Check the gas tank hose for leaks before using it for the first time each year. Apply a light soap and water solution to the hose. A propane leak will release bubbles. If your grill has a gas leak, by smell or the soapy bubble test, and there is no flame, turn off both the gas tank and the grill. If the leak stops, get the grill serviced by a professional before using it again. If the leak does not stop, call the fire department. If you smell gas while cooking, immediately get away from the grill and call the fire department. Do not move the grill.

If the flame goes out, turn the grill and gas off and wait at least 5 minutes before re-lighting it.

FACTS

July is the peak month for grill fires.

Roughly half of the injuries involving grills are thermal burns.

“other” entry. From those first place winners, judges will select a Grand Prize winner who will receive an additional $250.

Pre-registration and adherence to the theme is required for entrants to be judged for the prize money, and entry forms are due in the Visitor Center by 5 p.m. on July 1. Parade winners will be announced at 1 p.m.

The Al Morrah Shrine Club barbecue will be set up on the west side of the Courthouse square this year instead of the traditional location on the east side as plans call for spreading booths and activities over the entire square. The Shriners are also making plans for curbside pick-up of barbecue plates on Jefferson Street for senior citizens and others who prefer to avoid the crowd on the Fourth.

Tickets will be $15 per plate, and food will be served to-go style starting about 11 a.m. or as soon as the parade is over. Advanced tickets are available at the Enterprise or may be purchased on the square July Fourth.

Henson’s Turtle Race will take place at 1:30 p.m. And the Ranch Rodeo will close out the day Saturday night at the COEA Arena beginning at 7:30.

Follow this color key to see how many stars are in our nation's flag:
• = Blue + = Red

Answer the six questions below and fill in the puzzle.

I love to wave my flag at parades and at the fireworks. I'm very proud of my country. Do you know how many stars are on our nation's flag?
There is one for each state in the union. Color in the squares.

The Declaration of Independence is the document that told the world that the 13 colonies were united as one country - the United States of America. It told that all ties to England were broken. The people wished to have a voice in their own government.

1. What was rung to call people to the first public reading of the Declaration of Independence?
2. In what city was the Declaration of Independence signed?
3. A painting was done for America's 100th birthday. It shows a boy, a father and a grandfather marching off to war to fight for freedom. What is the painting called?
4. Upon what date was the Declaration of Independence adopted?
5. What is the name of the holiday celebrating our nation's birthday?
6. What is the name of the General who became our first President?
