Bovina to sell game tickets at the gate

Clarendon Bronco fans traveling to Bovina this Friday, September 11, will be able to purchase game tickets at the gate upon arrival. Tickets can be purchased on the visitor side of the stadium. Parking should be available on the visitor side along Eighth Street. Bovina ISD asks that you enter the visiting side gate to purchase your tickets for the game.

Rep. King to visit residents at Mulkey

State Rep. Ken King (R-Canadian) will visit Clarendon on Tuesday, September 22, as part of his tour of House District 88 to discuss the upcoming 87th Regular Legislative Session.

King will visit with constituents at the Mulkey Theatre, 108 S. Kearney, from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The representative will also be in Claude the same day at the Armstrong County Courthouse from 1:00 to 2:00 p.m. and in Qutaque at Caprock Canyons Pavilion from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

King will solicit feedback from constituents on issues of vital importance to them.

"Before beginning another legislative session, it is important that I receive input and ideas from the constituents of District 88 to help me effectively represent and advocate for our community," King said.

Mayor gives 'okay' to annual cookoff

Clarendon Mayor Sandy Skelton last week gave his approval to allow the Saints' Roost Museum to hold its annual Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff.

In an order signed September 1, Skelton authorized the gathering of more than 100 people under Gov. Greg Abbott's Executive Order GA-28.

Individuals attending the event are requested to wear a face covering, practice good hygiene, and maintain social distancing.

The museum building itself will not be open to the public during the cookoff.

St. Mary's Fish Fry set for this Friday

St. Mary's Catholic Church will hold a drive-through Fish Fry this Friday, September 11, from 5:00 to 7:30 p.m. at 801 S. McClelland.

The take-out meals will be available for $12 with fried fish, hushpuppies, cole slaw, potato salad, and peach cobbler. Call-in orders are welcome at 874-3910.

Donley judge addresses COVID-19 at state meetings

Donley County Judge John Howard's experience with the COVID-19 pandemic has led to him being a sought after speaker on the subject at the state level.

Howard was one of the featured speakers at this year's Texas Association of Counties Legislative Conference in Austin on August 26-28.

Due to COVID-19, the event was held virtually and attended by between 600 and 700 county officials from around the state.

Judge Howard's presentation was on Wednesday afternoon, August 26, and focused on COVID-19 and the Texas Healthcare System. The session was moderated by Rick Thompson, Legislative Consultant – County Judges and Commissioners Association, Texas Association of Counties, and Judge Howard was joined as a speaker by Eduardo Olivarez, Chief Administrative Officer, Hidalgo County Health and Human Services.

The session focused on how well the state's healthcare system held up during the COVID-19 pandemic, and where that left counties. Important healthcare issues created by the pandemic were also a focus, including access to care, supplies and timely information.

Judge Howard will also be featured as a speaker at the Texas County Judges & Commissioners Association's 98th annual conference in Abilene October 5-8.

Howard will be on a panel at the conference discussing "Local Control" with Chambers County Judge Jimmy Silvia and Texas Division of Emergency Management Chief Nim Kidd.

Nearing completion

Workers were applying the finishing touches to the walls and floor of the Clarendon Aquatic Center this week as the project gets close to completion. The opening of the water recreation facility has been moved to next season, but the facility will get its first public use next month when the restrooms and concession area host the Chance Mark Jones 5K Roar & Run on October 3.

Sandell to screen Kane Brown concert Sept. 26

Country music fans will have another opportunity to enjoy a unique concert at Clarendon's Sandell Drive-In this month.

Encore Live announced this week that Kane Brown will be the latest music star to join the lineup of 2020's most exciting, must-see concert series. Dubbed "the future of country," Brown will air his brand-new, never-before-seen show for one night only on September 26 at drive-in and outdoor theaters across the United States and Canada as part of the massively popular Encore Drive-In Nights series.

"We are so humbled by fans' response to Encore Drive-In Nights following the recent success of our Metallica and Blake Shelton events," said Walter Kinzie, CEO of Encore Live. "We are excited that Kane Brown, who is such a great artist, has joined our initiative. Our team has been working incredibly hard to provide people with fun and safe enjoyment this year and so far we've entertained more than 730,000 fans all over North America. Kane's upcoming show is further proof that people are really into the drive-in concert experience."

Since his debut, Brown has quickly established himself as one of the world's top country music artists and has helped shift the perception of the genre. He ascended to one of the industry's biggest country stars, becoming the first artist to top all five Billboard Country Charts simultaneously and topping the all-genre Billboard 200 chart with his album Experiment.

The Encore Drive-In Nights concert series kicked off on July 25 with a performance by Blake Shelton, Gwen Stefani and Trace Adkins, and was followed by Metallica on August 29. Information on upcoming acts and tickets can be found at <https://www.ticketmaster.com/encoredriveinnights>.

COVID cases climb to 56, one death listed officially Donley County's confirmed cases of COVID-19 reached a total of 56 this week with one case active locally.

The Clarendon Family Medical Center reported one new case and had no tests pending as of Tuesday afternoon. The clinic has conducted 233 tests with 195 returning as negative.

Judge John Howard reported Friday that he had been made aware of two local residents who tested positive in Childress County.

Howard also said the state had officially listed a July 28 death in Donley County as a COVID fatality, marking the first local death of the pandemic.

On Monday, Gov. Greg Abbott issued a proclamation extending his Disaster Declaration for all Texas counties in response to COVID-19. Originally issued on March 13, the Disaster Declaration provides the state a variety of resources to effectively serve Texans as the Lone Star State continues to mitigate the spread of COVID-19.

"Renewing this Disaster Declaration helps ensure that we have the resources and strategies in place to help communities across Texas respond to COVID-19," said Governor Abbott.

"I urge Texans to take precautionary steps to protect their health by wearing a mask, social distancing, and sanitizing their hands. Working together, we will slow the spread and keep our communities safe," the governor said.

Registration now open for Jones memorial 5K

Registration is now open for the eight annual Chance Mark Jones Roar & Run 5K, which will be held Saturday, October 3, at the Clarendon Aquatic Center.

Those interested in running or walking the 5K (about 3.1 miles) are encouraged to sign up before September 25 to take advantage of the early bird discount. Registration costs $25, but those who sign up early save $5. Signing up by September 25 also guarantees participants the official 5K t-shirt.

The race will begin at 1:30 p.m. Race registrations are available at the Clarendon Visitor Center at the Mulkey Theatre, at the Enterprise, or online at <https://bit.ly/32tPXcL>.

Sponsorships are also available, and potential sponsors are also asked to sign up by September 25 to ensure their names are on this year's T-shirt.

Proceeds will go towards the many charitable activities of the Clarendon Lions Club, which includes eyeglasses for local school kids, Christmas baskets for local families, hosting the local office of The Bridge – Children's Advocacy Center, local scholarships, continued park improvements, and monetary support for other local charities.

‘Nut Glut’ and Light Up Ahead...

It quickly became the perfect storm, powerful enough to make strong men cry. The same goes for strong women, too, but Kim Peacock, president of GNS Foods in Arlington, is doing her best to keep her family-owned specialty premium nut company afloat despite “blows to the bow” that might cause others to jump ship.

Consider this: She started her company with hopes, dreams and plans in 1990. Until recently, things were going well. They were roasting top-quality nuts, then packaging them for sale to other companies, mostly airlines that pampered their first-class passengers with first-class nut treats.

The year 2020 has been a nightmare for companies such as hers, what with bumper nut crops that caused tree limbs to break, a sharp increase in nut allergy diagnoses, and the biggest “bugaboo” of all—COVID 19 – crippling business. With greatly reduced flights, airlines have scrubbed nuts from all flights. She and her husband Don are doggedly determined to make things work again, remaining optimistic when pessimists contend there’s a tunnel at the end of the light....

the idle american
by don newbury

With a slowdown of orders and some deliveries refused, the company’s storage space bulges with 87,000 pounds of packaged premium nuts, plus addition of raw ingredients accounting for another 87,000 pounds. The nuts were originally expected to be delightfully ingested on planes. Now, the inventory of cashew-pecan-pistachio-almond blends must somehow be sold. It’s critical to do so soon.

How critical? They’ve expanded their retail factory store at 2109 East Division in Arlington, offering 1.25# bags for $5.95 each. This is well under the previous wholesale price. Patrons may buy one bag, a thousand bags or even more. (Shipping, of course, must be added.)

Kim, Don and 11 employees – including four relatives—don’t want to be left holding the BAGS....

I had never previously heard of GNS, probably because I’ve never flown first class. However, I felt compelled to know more, despite having “zero connection” with anyone there. A visit was arranged.

I was blown away. It was “spic-and-span” by any standard. Employees were busy filling various kinds of orders from throughout the U.S., including fudge and divinity. Christmas items were being prepared, topped with festive hand-tied bows.

“Thankfully, we’ve developed a growing number of repeat customers for Christmas and other special events,” Kim said....

I asked about a “whatzis” on the nut-packaging conveyor. It’s a metal detector. Huh? “Occasionally, raisins have buckshot in them,” Don explained.

Huh again! He said that raisins come from California vineyards, beginning there as grapes. Hunters looking for dove see them disappear into the vineyards, and they “fire away,” often hitting grapes instead of birds.

Well, alrighty then....

Next, I thought of fellow senior adults – Prime-Timers we call them – folks with whom I work at Burleson First Baptist Church. I figured that many of them would love to create unique wrapping the nuts as Christmas gifts.

My wife’s eyes rolled as eight cases were loaded into our car. (Sometimes, she doesn’t share my incurable optimism.)

The nuts were taken to the church office. Within 72 hours, all 200 packages were gone, so we fetched 16 more cases. A dream would be to make others aware both of this bargain basement price, as well as stir creative uses by groups needing a fundraiser.

Some of our seniors are working on clever nut-packaging, and one purchased 75 packages for her granddaughter’s wedding reception next spring. Others are simply “scarfing them down,” holiday or not....

The phone just rang. Calling was a Howard Payne University graduate, Col./Dr. Murray, assistant scoutmaster for sons Kaid and Ian’s California scout troop. He thinks the nuts might be a great fund-raiser for his scouts. (Murray, by the way, rode a bicycle from Toronto to Texas, via Vancouver. He’s now a USAF Flight Surgeon credentialed for aerospace medicine. We don’t have a better friend, or any alumnus we admire more.)

Allotted space is gone! For more “nut” information, see website, greatnuts.com....

Poll sheds light on bias perceptions

By Ken Paulson

Are America’s news media more biased than ever before, or are we simply looking in the mirror?

Those questions come to mind with the release of American Views 2020: Trust, Media and Democracy, a survey conducted by the Knight Foundation and Gallup.

Among its findings:

About 49 percent of Americans see “a great deal” of political bias in news coverage, while 37 percent see “a fair amount.”

56 percent of Americans see bias in the news source they turn to most often.

88 percent say the media bear moderate or a “great deal” of responsibility for political division” in the U.S.

None of these findings is encouraging for those who see a free press as pivotal to our democracy. Unfortunately, they’re also not very surprising. This is a highly polarized nation, with millions engaged in social media combat.

To be clear, since the birth of this country, there have been allegations of bias in news. It wasn’t that long ago that most newspapers in the country identified themselves as being Democratic or Republican. I grew up in the Chicago area, where we had the Republican Chicago Tribune and the Democratic Sun-Times.

That was relatively polite partisanship, with ideological leanings largely reserved for the editorial page.

But the accusations of bias in media today are more intense, and come from the full political spectrum. Some of the factors that fuel the fire:

Regardless of how you view President Trump, there’s no disputing that he is provocative. No president has been as overtly opinionated or as transparent in his emotions. And no president has generated as much news or inspired as much commentary on such a grand scale. The president is right when he says he’s been good for the media business.

Our politics have grown more tribal, with each side embracing a series of litmus tests. In that atmosphere, it’s easy to believe that any news reporting that makes your side look bad must be biased.

We also have multiple network newscasts that have thrown away any pretense of objectivity. Fox, MSNBC and OAN all play to their home crowd. That’s their business model, and they’re entitled to it, but their approach colors the perception of all news outlets.

I have to wonder whether all of us don’t bear more responsibility for reining in our own partisan impulses.

Times change. Administrations change. Maybe the intensity of our political differences will soften one day.

But it’s too easy to blame the news media for polarization when we’re the ones driving the traffic and ratings of sources that inflame rather than inform.

Celebrities talking about politics

Now that the national conventions are over, it is time for the Republicans to comment on the number of Hollywood celebrities who spoke and performed at the Democratic Convention. Of course, this is not new. Hollywood has always supported the left much more than the right, and Democratic conventions and rallies can parade out an endless stream of celebrities to tell us what to think. While this is true, arguably the most famous celebrity speech that ever happened was in 1964 and was for the Republicans.

1964 was an interesting election year. Just the year before the very popular president, John F. Kennedy, had been assassinated. Kennedy’s VP-now-President, Lyndon Johnson, was running for the Democratic nomination on his own account. The Republicans ran a man named Barry Goldwater. With these two men, the modern-day parties were set. There will no longer be any question which party was liberal and which was conservative, or, as Goldwater put it, there was “a choice, not an echo.”

Goldwater was an old school conservative, who wanted to reduce the size of government and cut taxes. Really, he was running against the New Deal. He also claimed the Democrats were soft on communism and had failed to contain it. Johnson was a liberal with a strong record on civil rights and social reform.

There was never really any doubt who would win. Johnson was still feeling the effects of FDR and Kennedy and he blew out his Republican competitor. Yet, when the election was only a couple of days away, the Republicans tried a last-ditch effort to win some votes by purchasing TV time and running a speech by actor Ronald Reagan.

Ex-Democrat Reagan was not a popular actor at the time. It had been a stretch since his last major role. He was more known as a spokesman for G.E. and host of a weekly NBC show called General Electric Theater, but that had ended in 1962. Yet he gave such a memorable speech that it catapulted him within two years to being elected Governor of California and ultimately to the White House.

His speech in 1964 was a complete denunciation of the Democrats and historically speaking by dr. james finck

liberal policy and was as divisive as any speech that year. Like today, the main attack was the size of government and America becoming a socialist state. These same arguments have been made for fifty years.

Reagan said, “This is the issue of this election: whether we believe in our capacity for self-government or whether we abandon the American Revolution and confess that a little intellectual elite in a far-distant capitol can plan our lives for us better than we can plan them ourselves.”

Reagan’s skills as a speaker made him relevant again and his ideas became the playbook for Republican politicians, even today. In fact, this speech was so important that the only other political speech by a Republican that is comparable is Lincoln’s Gettysburg Address.

It is true that the Democrats rely on their celebrity endorsements more than Republicans, but historically speaking the most important Republican speech in the past fifty years also came from a Hollywood actor.

ENTERPRISE PHOTO

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting September 8, 2020, with Boss Lion Pro Tem David Dockery in charge.

We were joined this week by District Gov. Henry Wyckoff and District 2-T1 Lions Camp Director Mark Smith.

Lion Pam Hill updated the club on the public school where cross country is getting underway and the homecoming candidates will be announced at a pep rally in the stadium following the junior varsity game Thursday. Also, the band will be holding a march-athon this Saturday morning.

Lion Jacob Fangman updated the club on city news, and Lion Dockery said the 5K will be starting from the new aquatic center. Lion Scarlet Estlack gave the report on the college where social distancing is working and only a couple of students are quarantined.

Lion Roger Estlack updated the club on the 5K race coming up on October 3.

DG Wyckoff discussed shaking things up in District 2-T1 and stopping "the way we've always done it." He talked about goals for new members and new clubs this Lions year and also plans for the Lions Day in Clarendon October 3 with the fall cabinet meeting, the 5K, and Clarendon Lions' 98th charter banquet.

There being no further business, we were adjourned to spread Lionism and good cheer throughout our fair county.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Remembering September 11, 2001

As each September comes, I am transported back to 2001, the day America watched as we were under attack. I offer a reprint of, “WHILE AMERICA WATCHED”, I can’t do any better.

“I poured my first cup of coffee and strolled outside toward the patio to enjoy it, looking at the beautiful blue sky with a hint of fall in the air that Tuesday, September 11, 2001. My husband, Jim, frantically called me back in and pointed to the television tuned to the Today Show with Katie Courie and Matt Lauer. The cameras of NBC were pointed at the Twin Towers in New York City with black smoke billowing from one tower and as we watched a large passenger airplane crashed into the middle of the second tower which immediately caught fire.

The newscasters were speechless, this was unbelievable, the HORROR of this event unfolding in front of millions of Americans, we were under attack! We watched as people unable to face the certain death by fire chose to jump, their bodies tumbling in air from the Towers. We watched the South Tower collapse followed closely by the North Tower, a huge cloud of smoke and debris coming down the street with people running to escape the cloud. We watched people emerge from the cloud, unrecognizable, covered with ash but alive. Our brains still unable to process the event, suddenly the cameras were on Washington DC, the Pentagon had been hit by a plane and the most secure building in the world was in flames.

It was soon announced a fourth passenger plane headed for California was not responding and appeared headed toward Washington DC. Suddenly it disappeared somewhere over Pennsylvania. Those brave men and women aboard had prevented the crash into the Capital.

We watched as President Bush sat in a first grade classroom in Florida, his press secretary whispering in ‘wick picks

by peggy cockerham
Howardwick • 874-2886

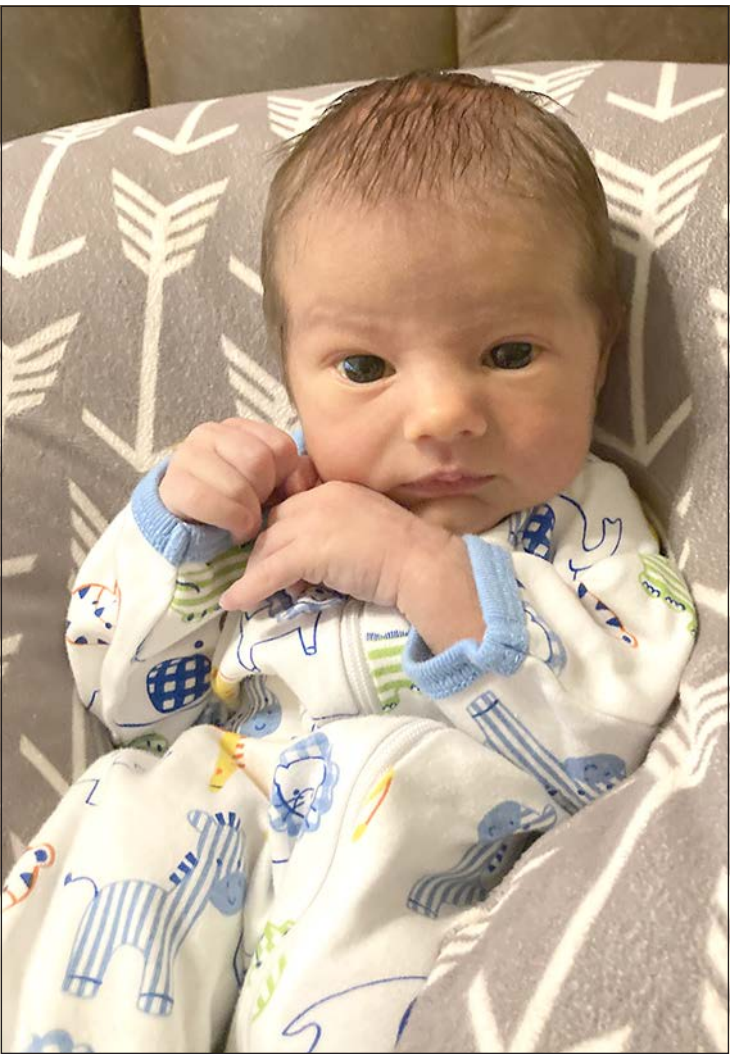

his ear, he carried on the program, thanked them and left to emerge into a different world.

What was happening? Was this the end? Jim and I sat huddled in front of the television, the children all called, we cried, prayer vigils were held, so much blood was donated the Red Cross had to stop donations. American flags were flying, congress stood on the steps of the Capital and sang, “God Bless America”. We were a country united.

A day that changed America forever, a day I won’t forget.”

That day 2,977 people died in the attacks, over 6,000 were injured. In 2013 it was determined over 1,100 civilians who lived, worked, or went to school near the World Trade Centers at the time of the crashes were battling cancer caused by exposure to toxic fumes at ground zero. It has also been reported over 1,400 rescue workers who worked around ground zero in the days and months following the attack have died, many from cancer or lung disease.

Will I ever forget? No, I watched it unfold, and prayed. God Bless America.

New arrival

“Sometimes being a brother is even better than being a superhero.” Proud brothers: Hayden, Collin, Jesse and Nathan, along with their parents: Eric and Stephanie Alston, are happy to announce the birth of the newest edition to the Alston crew: Banner Lee Alston. Banner arrived on August 27, 2020 at Northwest Texas Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs 10 oz and was 22 inches long. Grandparents are Ronald and Tresa Alston. Baby Banner: you are our superhero!

Obituaries

Boyle

Diane Grace Boyle, a loving mother, sister, grandmother, great grandmother, aunt, and friend passed away September 2, 2020 with her daughters by her side. Diane was born in Wichita, Kansas on December 3rd, 1943 to the late Howard Lester Boyle and Mabelle Elizabeth Heaton Boyle. Diane attended a one room country school in Boyd, Kansas and graduated from Hoisington High School in Hoisington, Kansas in 1961. She went on to receive her Registered Nursing License at St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing in Kansas City, Missouri. Diane fought a long hard battle against Parkinson's with dignity and grace. Well-known for her servant's heart and the love she showed others.

Boyle

Diane left behind two daughters: Andrea Jack and husband, Gary of Borger, Texas; and Julie Garcia of Hewitt, Texas. Diane loved and was so very proud of her six grandchildren: Thad Hall of Dallas; MaRae Hall and fiancé Sam McKinley of Borger; Rachel Garcia Wilburn and husband Kaleb of Moody, Texas; Randal Garcia of Moody Air Force Base Valdosta, GA; Candice Hall of Amarillo; and Brittney Hall Barnes and husband Jason of Dolgeville, New York. Diane was also the great grandmother to Briggs McKinley of Borger; Harleigh Hall, Kighlah Klawonn, and Daniel Klawonn of Dolgeville, New York. Diane is survived by her siblings whom she loved dearly; brother, George Boyle and wife, Kathy of Conroe, Texas; sister, Linda Shipley and husband, Glenn, of Sachse, Texas; and brother Roger Boyle and wife, Geneva of Parker, Texas. She loved all of her nieces and nephews. Diane also leaves behind a very dear and special friend, Isham Peugh of Lexington, Massachusetts. As the oldest sibling, Diane was the trailblazer and leader for her sister and brothers. Gracefully, she set the precedent high for all the firsts that they would all eventually hit! She was their teacher making sure they knew who and what was expected of each of them in all endeavors of their lives. Diane led the way in pursuing an education. She loved being a nurse and cared deeply for her patients and co-workers. She was a RN in Missouri, Mississippi, Kansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, and Texas. She worked in many different areas of nursing including labor and delivery, surgery, geriatric, home health, and even as a patient herself, she was telling the nurses how to do their job. Diane's greatest accomplishment in life was raising her two daughters as a single mom. She didn't let anyone get away without telling them all about her daughters and their children. She loved them with all her heart and was so very proud of them. The family will be having a private celebration of her life in the future. In lieu of flowers, the family wishes that you would give to your favorite charity. Cremation & arrangements are under the direction of Robertson Funeral Directors of Clarendon. NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

A tax rate of $0.5849 per $100 valuation has been proposed by the governing body of the City of Clarendon.

	PROPOSED TAX RATE
	$0.5849	per $100
	$0.562444	per $100
	$0.585493	per $100

The no-new-revenue tax rate is the tax rate for the 2020 tax year that will raise the same amount of property tax revenue for the City of Clarendon from the same properties in both the 2019 tax year and the 2020 tax year.

The voter-approval rate is the highest tax rate that the City of Clarendon may adopt without holding an election to seek voter approval of the rate.

The proposed tax rate is greater than the no-new-revenue tax rate. This means that the City of Clarendon is proposing to increase property taxes for the 2020 tax year.

A PUBLIC HEARING ON THE PROPOSED TAX RATE WILL BE HELD ON 09/24/2020 6:30 p.m. at Clarendon City Hall 313 S. Sully Street, Clarendon Texas

The proposed tax rate is not greater than the voter-approval tax rate. As a result, the City of Clarendon is not required to hold an election at which voters may accept or reject the proposed tax rate. However, you may express your support for or opposition to the proposed tax rate by contacting the members of the City Council of the City of Clarendon at their offices or by attending the public hearing mentioned above.

YOUR TAXES OWED UNDER ANY OF THE TAX RATES MENTIONED ABOVE CAN BE CALCULATED AS FOLLOWS:

Property tax amount = (tax rate) x (taxable value of your property) / 100

(List names of all members of the governing body below, showing how each voted on the proposal to consider the tax increase or, if one or more were absent, indicating absences.)

FOR the proposal: Alderman Fangman, Lockhart, Jeffers, McIntosh, and Floyd

AGAINST the proposal:

PRESENT and not voting:

ABSENT:

The 86th Legislature modified the manner in which the voter-approval tax rate is calculated to limit the rate of growth of property taxes in the state.

The following table compares the taxes imposed on the average residence homestead by the City of Clarendon last year to the taxes proposed to be imposed on the average residence homestead by the City of Clarendon this year.

	2019	2020	Change
Total tax rate (per $100 of value)	2019 adopted tax rate	2020 proposed tax rate	(Increase/Decrease) of (nominal difference between tax rate for preceding year and proposed tax rate for current year) per $100, or (percentage difference between tax rate for preceding year and proposed tax rate for current year)%
Average homestead taxable value	2019 average taxable value of residence homestead	2020 average taxable value of residence homestead	(Increase/Decrease) of (percentage difference between average taxable value of residence homestead for preceding year and current year)%
Tax on average homestead	2019 amount of taxes on average taxable value of residence homestead	2020 amount of taxes on average taxable value of residence homestead	(Increase/Decrease) of (nominal difference between amount of taxes imposed on the average taxable value of a residence homestead in the preceding year and the amount of taxes proposed on the average taxable value of a residence homestead in the current year), or (percentage difference between taxes imposed for preceding year and taxes proposed for current year)%
Total tax levy on all properties	2019 levy	(2020 proposed rate x current total value)/100	(Increase/Decrease) of (nominal difference between preceding year levy and proposed levy for current year), or (percentage difference between preceding year levy and proposed levy for current year)%

Broncos' beat the Jackrabbits

By Sandy Anderberg

The Ralls Jackrabbits may have scored the first six points of their matchup with the Broncos Friday night in Bronco Stadium, but the Broncos claimed the last six points in their 18-12 win.

Ralls held the Broncos scoreless in the first quarter of play after putting six points on the board. But the maroon and white would not be denied and put up six points of their own in the second 12 minutes of the games to tie the game at six all at half time.

"I thought the kids fought hard against a very good Ralls team," head coach Clint Conkin said.

The Broncos had 281 total yards in the win, and quarterback Brock Hatley was two for five passing for 11 yards hitting Jmaury Davis for 10 yards and Aaron Roys for one. Antwan Bassett accounted for two of the Bronco touchdowns and had two carries for 20 yards, and Sylvester Ballard carried seven times for 70 yards and earned the other Bronco TD. Lamarcus Peniger had seven carries for 109 yards, and Davis racked up 36 yards rushing on seven carries. Jordan Evans also posted 19 yards rushing on one lone run, Rhett Caison went six yards on one carry, and Roys added 15 yards rushing.

Defensively, the Broncos were all over the Jackrabbits with several players posting tackles. Jordan Herndon led the way with 12 tackles and one caused fumble, and Hatley racked up 11 tackles. Ballard and Ivan Gonzalez each earned 10 tackles with Ballard grabbing an interception. Robert McGuire finished with nine tackles, and Bassett grabbed seven tackles and caused a fumble.

"Our defense played great with a goal line stand at the end to win the game," Conkin said. "We had several guys making tackles all night."

The Broncos will be on the road to Bovina Friday, September 11, at 7pm.

Clarendon cheerleaders and flag bearers lead the Broncos onto the field last Friday in Bronco Stadium.

JV Broncos tromp the Jackrabbits

The Bronco junior varsity team went wild last Thursday night with a huge 50-12 win over the Ralls Jackrabbits at home in Bronco Stadium.

Ralls was no match for the Broncos as they shut them down offensively all night long. Several players recorded great games as they worked together to stop their opponent. Jacquaviyon Brown turned yards into touchdowns and also recovered two fumbles running one back for six. From his fullback spot, Easton Frausto found the endzone more than once as did Lyric Smith.

Quarterback Harrison Howard was three for three on conversion points. Waite Dushay also grabbed a fumble recovery.

"It was a great defensive game," coach Yancy Molloy said.

The Bronco JV will play at home September 10 against Bovina following the junior high game that begins at 5:00 p.m.

A pep rally will be held right after the JV game for the Broncos and the Homecoming Court will be announced.

Grandparents are Great!

Celebrating Grandparents Day

Grandparents are great! Some kids have a grandmother or grandfather living in their home.
They spend time together every day. Many children live near their grandparents and get to visit often.
Other kids live miles away from their grandparents and have to take a long drive or a flight to get to their homes for a visit.

Cars, planes, phones, computers and the mail help us keep in touch with grandparents. Holidays and vacations are wonderful times to get together, hear family stories, and share meals and fun times.
Grandparents can teach us many things. They help to care for us. They take us places. I'll bet that your grandmother or grandfather often gives you treats or surprises when you visit!

Take care of us:

1. help to wash our _____
2. mend our _____
3. cook our _____
4. bandage our _____
5. read bedtime _____

clothes scrapes
meals hair stories

Give us treats:

Grandparents:

Grandma and I like to play word games!

Bring us places:

1. _ ir _ u _
2. li _ ra _ y
3. mu _ eu _ s
4. s _ hoo _
5. _ ea _ h

Study the clues to fill in the four puzzles about grandparents.

Teach us things:

My grandfather
tells very funny jokes and stories.

Knock!
Knock!

Grandpa and I like action. We are going to race go-carts.

Hedley runners competed well in Perryton

Hedley runners competed in the Wolf Creek Classic in Perryton last Saturday and did well with Owls ranking first as a team.

In the boys’ three-mile run, Hedley’s Joshua Booth finished fifth with a time of 20:21.84 and was followed by Iziak Weatherhead in sixth place with 20:32.31.

Hayden Alston finished ninth at 20:39.34, Tyler Harper was 11th at 21:28.31, Jordan Upton was 13th with 21:42.09, and Astin McAllister was 28th at 25:41.38.

Cara Lambert led the Lady Owls team in the varsity two-mile run, finishing seventh with a time of 15:55.75 followed by Avery Sawyer in eighth place at 16:04.91. Emma Lambert ran 19th at 17:45.09.
