COVID numbers up to five active cases

Donley County's positive COVID-19 number grew to 61 this week with five cases being reported as active under the care of the Clarendon Family Medical Center.

The local clinic has now conducted 254 tests as of Tuesday with one test results pending. A total of 211 tests have been negative.

Reporting for testing at other facilities lags behind local reporting, but 18 positives have been confirmed by other facilities, which when combined with the local clinic's total of 43 gives the county a total of 61 known cases since the pandemic began.

5K pre-registration deadline is Friday

Registration is open for the eight annual Chance Mark Jones Roar & Run 5K, which will be held Saturday, October 3, at the Clarendon Aquatic Center.

Those interested in running or walking the 5K (about 3.1 miles) are encouraged to sign up before September 25 to take advantage of the early bird discount. Registration costs $25, but those who sign up early save $5. Signing up by September 25 also guarantees participants the official 5K t-shirt.

The race will begin at 1:30 p.m. Race registrations are available at the Clarendon Visitor Center at the Mulkey Theatre, at the Enterprise, or online at <https://bit.ly/32DPXcL>.

Sponsorships are also available, and potential sponsors are also asked to sign up by September 25 to ensure their names are on this year's T-shirt.

Drivers licenses can be renewed Saturdays

AMARILLO – At the direction of Governor Greg Abbott, the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is announcing Saturday appointment availability through the end of the year. Many driver license (DL) offices across the state will be offering Saturday appointments for customers needing to renew or replace their Texas DL or ID cards only.

Appointments will begin Saturday, Oct. 3, and continue each Saturday through Dec. 19, with the exception of Nov. 28, due to the Thanksgiving holiday. Offices will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The announcement comes as the department continues its work to help alleviate the backlog caused by COVID-19. Nearly 700,000 people statewide had their DLs/IDs expire while the DL offices were closed due to the

Sandell to screen Kane Brown concert

Country music star Kane Brown will headline a concert on the screen of Clarendon's Sandell Drive-In this Saturday, September 26, as part of the Drive-In Nights music series.

Brown will be the latest music star to join the lineup of 2020's most exciting, must-see concert series. Dubbed "the future of country," Brown will air his brand-new, never-before-seen show for one night only at drive-in and outdoor theaters across the United States and Canada as part of the massively popular Encore Drive-In Nights series.

Also performing in Saturday's concert are Granger Smith, Jimmie Allen, and Lauren Alaina.

Tickets for the show are available online at <https://bit.ly/2FTXGtj>. Early bird tickets are $56, and general admission is $76. Each ticket admits a carload of up to six people to the show.

"We are so humbled by fans' response to Encore Drive-In Nights following the recent success of our Metallica and Blake Shelton events," said Walter Kinzie, CEO of Encore Live. "We are excited that Kane Brown, who is such a great artist, has joined our initiative. Our team has been working incredibly hard to provide people with fun and safe enjoyment this year and so far we've entertained more than 730,000 fans all over North America. Kane's upcoming show is further proof that people are really into the drive-in concert experience."

Since his debut, Brown has quickly established himself as one of the world's top country music artists and has helped shift the perception of the genre. He ascended to one of the industry's biggest country stars, becoming the first artist to top all five Billboard Country Charts simultaneously and topping the all-genre Billboard 200 chart with his album Experiment. As a follow up to the critically-acclaimed album Experiment, Brown recently released a seven-song EP called

District court hears five pleas in Memphis last week

The district court heard five pleas when it met in Memphis on Thursday, August 17.

District Attorney Luke Inman, along with Assistant District Attorney Harley Caudle, prosecuted the case for the State of Texas, with the Honorable Judge Stuart Messer presiding.

Roger William West, 59, of Memphis, Texas, was sentenced to 10 years in prison for the second degree felony of possession of a controlled substance.

Following his arrest for the crime on May 29, 2019, West was initially placed on probation for six years on July 16, 2019. The State filed a motion asking the Court to revoke West's probation on June 29 based upon numerous violations of probation conditions.

At the hearing on Thursday, West admitted to violating probation, and Messer sentenced him to 10 years in prison.

Billy Jay Brown, 40, was sentenced to prison for six years for the third degree felony of unlawful possession of a firearm by a felon.

Brown, from Childress, was placed on probation for the crime on October 4, 2018, after he was arrested April 7. On December 3, 2019, the State filed court documents to revoke his probation after he had failed to comply with numerous probation requirements.

Sayed Mohammad Hossein Ejtehad, 34 from Oklahoma, was placed on two years' probation for the misdemeanor offense of unlawful use of a criminal instrument. Ejtehad was arrested for the crime on May 16 in Carson County.

Ejtehad was ordered to pay an upfront fine of $4,000 to Carson County, $180 in restitution and $340 in court costs. If his probation is revoked, Ejtehad faces up to one year in the Carson County Jail.

Jose Colincontreras, from Mexico, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 78 days in the Carson County Jail for the Class A misdemeanor offense of possession of marihuana.

Colincontreras, 22, was arrested in Carson County for the crime on June 30. In addition to the jail time, Colincontreras was also ordered to pay an upfront fine of $4,000 to Carson County, $180 in restitution and $340 in court costs.

Due to the conviction, Colincontreras can be deported to Mexico upon completion of his sentence.

Nicholas Charles Moore, 36 of Estelline, Texas, was placed on one year of probation for the misdemeanor offense of eluding a police officer. Moore committed the crime on August 10, 2019.

According to the terms of the plea bargaining agreement, Moore was ordered to pay a $4,000 fine to

Hall County, $357 in court costs, and attend weekly AA meetings. If his probation is revoked, Moore could be sentenced to up to one year in the Hall County Jail.

Mario Nunez, 32 from California, was sentenced to five years in prison for the first degree felony of possession of a controlled substance.

Nunez was placed on 10 years' probation on April 7, 2015, after being arrested in Carson County on October 7, 2014. The State filed documents to revoke his probation on April 6, 2020.

In addition to the sentence, Nunez was required by the court to pay a $10,000 fine, $370 and $1,980 in restitution.

Cookoff to be held Saturday

The Saints' Roost Museum will hold its 26th annual Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff this Saturday, September 26.

With most cookoff's around the country being canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Clarendon's cookoff has drawn more participation than normal from chuckwagon teams. Fifteen teams are confirmed to be competing Saturday.

Tickets for the cookoff are still available, according to museum officials. Although admission is free, a $20 meal ticket is required to enjoy the authentic chuckwagon chicken fried steak dinner.

Other activities at the museum Saturday including live entertainment and the Western tradeshow. The Museum itself will be closed to visitors due to the pandemic.

The wagon teams will arrive Friday with a junior cookoff being held that afternoon. The junior competition pairs kids, ages 8-17, with mentors on participating wagon teams to learn the ropes of cooking over an open fire.

The tradeshow Saturday starts at 10 a.m. Local and area entertainers will also be performing.

The authentic wagons will serve at 1 p.m. with the traditional chicken fried steak dinner, and other activities will include a hay auction and the Goodnight family reunion.

To purchase tickets ahead of time, visit the Museum or Every Nook & Cranny in downtown Clarendon. Some tickets may also be available at the gate the day of the event.

American Pickers seeking collectors for Texas episode

Attention Donley County and area collectors of "stuff!" The Pickers are coming to Texas this fall.

Mike Wolfe, Frank Fritz, and their team are excited to return to Texas, and they plan to film episodes of the hit series American Pickers throughout the area in November.

Producers of the television show say they understand that with the proliferation of COVID-19, everyone is facing uncertain times. The Pickers are taking the pandemic seriously and will be following all guidelines and protocols for safe filming as outlined by the state and CDC.

"While we plan to be in Texas in November, we will continue to re-schedule if conditions change for the worse," producers said in a press release. "Regardless, we are excited to continue to reach the many collectors in the area to discuss their years of picking!"

American Pickers is a documentary series that explores the fascinating world of antique "picking" on History. The hit show follows Mike and Frank, two of the most skilled pickers in the business, as they hunt for America's most valuable antiques. They are always excited to find sizeable, unique collections and learn the interesting stories behind them.

As they hit the back roads from coast to coast, Mike and Frank are on a mission to recycle and rescue forgotten relics. Along the way, the Pickers want to meet characters with remarkable and exceptional items. The pair hopes to give historically significant objects a new lease on life, while learning a thing or two about America's past along the way.

Mike and Frank have seen a lot of rusty gold over the years and are always looking to discover something they've never seen before. American Pickers is looking for leads and would love to explore your hidden treasure.

If you or someone you know has a large, private collection or accumulation of antiques that the Pickers can spend the better part of the day looking through, send your name, phone number, location, and description of the collection with photos to americanpickers@cinetflix.com or call 855-OLD-RUST.

Historical look at policing in US

One question I like to ask my students is who are the greatest American presidents? After I gather the list of usual suspects, I then ask what makes these presidents great. What I tend to find is that the greatest usually get us through some sort of crisis.

My next question is are they really the best presidents or were they fortunate enough to have a situation to fix. How do we know how Millard Fillmore and Chester Arthur would have handled a crisis? Maybe they would have done better. Perhaps James Monroe or Calvin Coolidge were the best presidents because under their leadership we did not have a crisis. John Adams stopped us from going to war with France. Most don't think of him as great, even though I do. We only think of presidents who won wars, not stopped them.

My point always is that we remember people for things that happened, not for things that did not.

I was thinking of this example this morning as I wanted to write a piece about police. I racked my brain as I took my morning walk for historical incidents involving police. The problem was I could only come up with one positive example. The rest were times when cops behaved badly. There has been plenty out there to read and hear about police abuses, yet I know those are rare compared to the thousands of interactions happening every day. My realization was that, when police do their jobs correctly, we do not hear about it. There will be thousands of arrests across the nation today that we will not hear about. Who knows how many crimes or episodes will not happen today because of the police. Yet we never remember things that do not happen.

There are very few jobs like police work. Their job is to protect us, but often times when they do their job we get upset. We say we support the police but then curse them when we see their lights in our rear view, even when we know we are speeding. We want them to do their job, but towards others. Police are like teachers. Jobs we claim we respect for their service, yet grossly underpay and often trash for not being good at their job. Children have no respect for police or teachers anymore because they hear their parents and society at large criticize them, especially when either calls parents about discipline issues their precious children never could have committed.

Police work is not like most jobs because, though police are part of our lives, we only tend to spend real time with them on our worst days. Days when we have violated the law or had a crime committed against us. Either way, not a good day. They have to deal with us at our worst—when we are mad, agitated, angry, or often times scared. Most handle us in our crisis with patience and caring. Most of our crises will pass, while police officers move on to the next one, day after day. They will see things most of us will never have to see and do things most of us will never have to do, and then they will do and see it again and again.

Ultimately, their jobs are not like ours because, more than most, every day at their day could be their last. Their job is to rush into danger when everything is telling the rest of us to run away. They never know when what seems like a basic traffic stop is actually a life-threatening situation with a person who can cause them harm. Every day they put on a badge saying, “I will put myself in danger to protect you.” Like soldiers they do not do this for money. There are many reasons why cops become cops, but they all sacrifice time and family and security to stand on the front line.

Police are part of America, as much a part as any profession. Police forces are older than the nation itself. The oldest that we know of started in Boston in 1635 and the first death in the line of duty occurred in 1786. According to the National Law Enforcement Memorial, 1909 marks an important year. It was the last year that there were fewer than 100 deaths. 1930 led the way with 312 officers killed

I am not trying to take anything away from Black Lives Matter. Historically speaking, policing has a checkered past. Cops like Bull Conner in Montgomery, Alabama, used every aspect of his position to terrorize the Civil Rights movement in the 1960s. Protests during the time were filled with examples of cops beating American Citizens for exercising their rights. Yet, at the same time let's not forget that today as the police are being vilified that police officers of every race are working tirelessly to reach out to their communities to find solutions.

We cannot allow officers to kill a restrained man. I know it's a time to help and support our Black brothers and sisters. Yet, in the process let's not forget those brave men and women who continue to serve faithfully. Let's not compound one tragedy with another by forgetting the positives police have done. Before we decide to defund police forces, let's remember the one historically significant day that instantly comes to my mind. I still remember the day in 2001 when 72 officers ran into a burning building to save the lives of others only to lose their own. One side does not have to be evil for the other side to be right. Black lives do matter, but that does not mean all police are villains. Let's all take a moment to remember who protects our lives from unseen and unspoken evils every day that we will probably never hear about because they did their job right.

The price of having expensive tastes

When someone suggests that life is difficult, there's the temptation to ask, “Compared to what?”

Actors dating back to Shakespeare have cited another comparison concerning the difficulty of making audiences laugh. They've said it thusly: “Dying is easy, comedy is hard.”

Within a specific current context, Fletcher's Corny Dog Pop-Up Stands are offering “bargains” when compared to the Dallas Cowboys' take-out menu during games at AT&T Stadium. The former is to make us mindful of the canceled Texas State Fair, and the latter to yesteryear's packed stadiums for Cowboy games....

My aged Uncle Mort, fiddle-string tight and apt to climb over gates to save hinges, remains a natural born skeptic. An advocate of the centuries-old phrase that a fool and his money are soon parted, he says that fools ordering AT&T take-out are instead “took-in.”

The AT&T fare – for diehards whose game attendance currently is problematic at best – makes Fletcher's State Fair food seem cheap.

Cancellation of the fair is a “downer,” but Fletcher's menu prices are “uppers” alongside the AT&T offering. For starters, Fletcher's “pop-up” stands offer corn—and assorted other dogs – for $5-$7 each. Lemonade at $4 is the cheapest item. (Cash is NOT accepted, and orders must be placed in advance.)...

You may want to float a loan for the AT&T Stadium's At Home Menu. Orders are due three days before Cowboy games and are to be picked up or delivered the day before the game.

The minimum order is for 4-6 people, or one can order for 10-14 or 16-20.

Featured spread is the “Sunday Fun Day Game Day,” offering smoked prime rib, turkey, roast beef, ham, veggies and rolls for 16-20 people for $1,200, or the family-sized portion for $360. Don't know if they have the pre-figured 15%-20%-25% tip options. Delivery fee is $15. You may NOT pass “go,” but playing Monopoly instead of ingesting food that reminds fans of the Cowboys might make more sense....

My friend Lanny Hall and his wife Carol get “kicks” out of culinary procurements in out-of-the-way places, the kind often staffed by teens with limited arithmetic skills.

On a recent trip to Branson, they scarfed down wonderful fried pies at a small store in a sleepy town. They decided to buy a half-dozen pies to munch later at their Branson condo.

“Sorry, can't do it,” the young man said. Figuring he might be befuddled by the “half-dozen” number, Lanny countered: “Can you sell me one fried pie six times?” The deal was on....

Back home in Abilene, he ordered eight hushpuppies from the take-home menu. “I can't sell you eight,” the teen

the idle american by don newbury responded.

The young man said he could, however, sell him four. “I'd like four hushpuppies,” Hall said. “And I'd like a second order of the same thing.”

Again, the retired university president and skilled public servant who made three successful runs for the State Legislature was equal to surmounting obstacles between him and a transaction for eight hushpuppies....

All this reminds me of a long-ago stop at a McDonald's to purchase a 27-cent senior coffee.

I was ready to hand her a quarter and two pennies, but she didn't pour the coffee, even though the pot was full. “Can't sell you coffee or anything else,” the girl said, “Our computer is broken.” Words like “no” or “can't” don't set well with Hall. He would have tried bartering, maybe with a pack of gum. And he would have gotten his coffee.

The late Hugh White was a long-ago Mayor of Alpine, popular with everyone except mayoral candidates. Owner and operator of the popular Highland Village Café, he befriended all. He routinely cashed Sul Ross students' checks, even if they had no IDs. Smiling, he pointed to a sign above the cash register which summed up his business philosophy. Hang the grammar, here's what it said: “There ain't hardly any business got these days that ain't went out after.” He was the best....

Tralee center assists with legal fees

Tralee Crisis Center, a non-profit victim services agency based in Pampa but serving eight counties in the eastern Texas Panhandle, recently received a grant from the Texas Health & Human Services Commission to provide funding for legal services for survivors of family violence.

These funds are to be used to contract with attorneys for consultation fees, legal representation, and/or court costs to provide victims access to legal assistance in these areas: Obtaining Protective Orders; Divorce; Child Custody – both initial and/or modifications; Child Support; Child Visitation; Immigration Issues; Housing issues including landlord/tenant issues and foreclosures; Debt/credit/bankruptcy issues; and Other legal representation including those that promote safety provisions for survivors of family violence.

If you or someone you know might benefit from Tralee Crisis Center's legal services funds for family violence survivors, call 806-669-1131, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and as to speak to an advocate.

Tralee Crisis Center offers comprehensive services for victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, and other violent crimes, serving eight counties since 1984: Carson, Childress, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Hemphill, Roberts, and Wheeler. Services include 24-hour emergency shelter, crisis intervention, assistance with protective order and crime victim compensation applications, medical and law enforcement accompaniment, advocacy, emergency transportation, professional counseling, and support groups.

To learn more about Tralee Crisis Center's services to victims of domestic violence, sexual assault/abuse, or other violent crime, see Tralee's website at traleecrisiscenter.com or search “Tralee Crisis Center” on Facebook. Tralee's 24-hour hotline number is 806-669-1788 or call toll-free at 1-800-658-2796.

CC Board of Regents recognize employees

Several college employees were recognized during the regular Clarendon College Board of Regents meeting last Thursday, September 17.

CC President Tex Buckhaults said five college employees were given certificates for the Texans Caring For Texans Award because of their efforts to keep students and employees safe during the COVID-19 pandemic. All five employees are on the custodial staff of the college and continued working even when students were sent home during after spring break.

On the Clarendon campus, those recognized were Sherry Woodrome, Estela Rodriguez, Juana Cenicerros, and Maria Santos. Yesica Lerma of CC's Pampa Center was also honored.

In other college business, regents considered a request to use the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Center for a little miss pageant and let stand the current college practice of not having outside public events in college buildings due to COVID-19.

The board also approved memorandums of understanding for dual credit courses with area school districts.

A logo for the college's Block & Bridle Club was approved as presented.

Regents also approved the college's catalog, personnel handbook, and student handbook for 2020-2021 as presented.

Tax deeds for the City of Howardwick were approved as presented.

The board met in closed session for about 20 minutes to discuss personnel but took no action upon returning to open session.

Regents ratified the hiring of Wade Taylor as the assistant volleyball coach and Tadd Andrews as the Director of Student Life.

In an enrollment report, Vice President Brad Vanden Boogaard said enrollment for the fall semester is down ten percent.

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting September 22, 2020, with Boss Lion Pro-tem David Dockery in charge.

We had 13 members and no guests this week.

Lion Pam Hill updated us on the activities at the public school, and the club selected Aubrey Jaramillo to serve as our Sweetheart for this Lions year.

Lion Dockery announced that State Rep. Ken King would be visiting the Mulkey today for a town hall meeting. He also said the pool project is about 20 days from completion and said the City Council will be adopting a resolution declaring October 3 to be Lions International Day in Clarendon.

The 5K was discussed with pre-registration due this Friday. Sign-ups can also occur the day of the event, October 3, with the race starting and finishing at the new aquatic center.

Lion Bobbie Thornberry reminded us of the Chuckwagon Cookoff this weekend. Tickets are still available, and 15 wagons are participating this year.

A Note From Pastor Stephanía Gilkey

Wow! It's hard to believe we have been here three months already. Thank you, Clarendon, for making us feel at home. I want to express my excitement at becoming the first female and Black Pastor at First United Methodist Church (UMC). First UMC has proven race and gender does not matter. It is a church who loves God and wants to share that love with all people.

Here's a little about my family. I am originally from a small town in north-east Arkansas. My husband, Gerald, is from a small town in northwest Arkansas. We met in college in central Arkansas. We have been married for almost 36 years and have four sons, all grown now. I am an Air Force Veteran. I served 23 years. We lived in the Netherlands, Little Rock AFB, Turkey, Los Angeles AFB, Air Force Academy, RAF Lakenheath England, and Dyess AFB.

I graduated from Abilene Christian University with a Master of Science degree in Social Work. I completed my Master of Divinity degree at Asbury Theological Seminary. I have been in church ministry all of my life in some form. I was in the choir, taught Sunday School, women's Bible study, and children's church to name a few. One of my favorite hobbies is fishing. I also enjoy sports and reading. My husband is a big sports fan. We look forward to going to hometown games and spending time in the community. Coming to Clarendon has been a return to our small town roots. We look forward to being active members of the community. Gerald is a Certified Lay Speaker. He teaches youth Sunday School and leads the youth group on Sunday evenings.

I was the pastor at Sager-ton First UMC for six years, Grace UMC, Abilene for five years, and Trent UMC for two years. Being pastor at Clarendon First UMC and a part of the community is a blessing.

I know worship does not look the same as it did before March, but I know God has a plan to move His Church forward. We practice social distancing and masks (if you want to wear one). We would love to have you join us for Sunday School at 9:45, worship at 11:00, and/or Bible Study on Wednesdays at 6:00.

Peace and Blessings,
Pastor Stephanía

Obituaries

Strawn
Jerry Lynn Strawn, 79 of Panhandle, Texas, passed away peacefully on September 17, 2020 following a long battle with cancer.

Jerry was born June 1, 1941, in Littlefield to Norvell and Doris Strawn. Jerry's life was full of adventure as a husband, father, son, brother, friend, custom harvester, farmer, rancher, cowboy, team roper, golfer, story-teller, and his 24 years as Carson County Commissioner. He was married just over 60 years to the love of his life, Sharon Kay Hartzog Strawn.

Jerry graduated from Bovina High School in 1959 and enjoyed putting fear and trepidation into opposing football and basketball opponents. But more importantly, this is where he met his special Kay-Baby. Jerry and Kay married in Bovina on August 7, 1960, before moving to Lubbock to attend college. He obtained a Bachelor of Science degree in Agronomy in 1965 at Texas Tech University, where he excelled on their Crops Judging Team. Jerry often quoted information he learned in college and could relate and translate those things to real life. He was also quite the word-smith and an excellent teacher on the farm, in county business, and in life in general.

Jerry worked his way through college, custom harvesting from South Texas to the Canadian border in the summers and working weekends on the family farm. Jerry and Kay farmed for a few years in Bovina and Stratford and then moved their family to Panhandle in 1971, farming west of town on FM 293. The family loved their new community and Jerry particularly loved serving the public.

He is well-remembered for coaching local kids basketball and baseball and he served on the Cemetery Association Board and in several positions with the Panhandle Country Club. Jerry became County Commissioner in 1986. As an active working commissioner, he also fought fires and performed disaster recovery alongside multiple local fire departments. He had a deep respect for these dedicated men and women and wanted to assist in any way possible.

As many know, Jerry loved to tell stories about his adventures and observations and everyone loved hearing them. He had an exceptional memory and retained amazing details that surprised and entertained everyone. He made friends quickly. People from all walks of life and throughout the state appreciated his stories, knowledge, and friendship. Jerry loved to make people laugh and said of himself, that he was, "Colourful with a "u." What pleased him even more was his family. He said he never could have had a better wife, in-laws, kids, grandkids and all of their spouses. He especially loved knowing his first great grandchild, Paddy.

Jerry was preceded in death by his parents, and his son, Charlie Lynn Strawn, of Claude, who passed away suddenly in March.

He is survived by his wife, Kay; his son, Mike and Joan Strawn, Cedar Park; daughter, Karen Strawn, Panhandle, daughter-in-law, Millie Strawn, Claude; his granddaughters, Melissa and Hunter Shelley, Spearman, Dixi Strawn and fiancée Dan Villegas, Pflugerville, and grandsons, Jerry and Sheridan Strawn, Lubbock, Charles Gordon Strawn, Claude, and Caleb and Meagan Strawn, Austin. Jerry has one great-grandson, Patrick Shelley of Spearman. He is also survived by his brother, Bill and Verna Strawn of Spearman; sister Vicki and Leon Richards of Dimmitt; and sister Judy Herring of Canyon, as well as sisters and brothers-in law, Dixi and Dick Jones, Pueblo, Colo., and Roy and Trudy Hartzog, Bovina; and many nieces and nephews, who he so loved.

Funeral services were held Saturday, September 19, 2020, at the First United Methodist Church in Panhandle with Pastor Gene Weintette officiating. Burial followed in Panhandle Cemetery under the direction of Minton Chatwell Funeral Directors of Panhandle.

In lieu of flowers his memory may be honored with a gift to the City of Panhandle EMS Dept. P.O. Box 129, Panhandle, Texas 79068 or to the City of Panhandle Fire Department, P.O. Box 129, Panhandle, Texas 79068. Please write that it is a charitable donation in memory of Jerry Strawn on the memo line of the check.

Fun times at the chicken show

This weekend my family and I went to the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. For anyone who doesn't know every year we attend the fair in Amarillo where we show chickens.

We started out by cleaning all the chickens off by wiping their wings and oiling their combs and feet. This makes the chickens appear more attractive to the eye and makes their combs stand out.

The way the judging works is they give each person a number, and they put that number with the chickens you are showing along with the gender and breed of the chicken. Once that is done, a judge comes and looks at each bird and will place it and give it best variety, best breed, best of show, reserve cham-

Ashlee Estlack had the Best White Bearded Silkie Cock and the Best White Bearded Silkie Hen.

Nate and Dan also showed in the open show and had the Reserve Feather Legged Black Cochon Cock.

Estlacks' birds do well at fair

Estlack Bantams of Clarendon competed in the Tri-State Fair poultry show Saturday, September 19, with a strong performance in both the junior and open divisions.

Ben Estlack and Dan Estlack won the top titles of the junior show, and Scarlet Estlack had the reserve championship of the open show.

In the junior show, Ben had the Champion Old English with a Black Breasted Red Hen. That bird went on to win the Grand Champion Junior Show and the 4-H show.

Dan's Champion Feather Legged Birchen Cochon was named the Reserve Champion of the junior show. He also showed the Champion All Other Comb Clean Legged with a Wheaton Ko Shamo.

Ella Estlack showed the Champion Waterfowl with a White Call Duck, and Nate Estlack had the

Broncos defeat Hale Center by eight

By Sandy Anderberg

The Broncos took on the Hale Center Owls at home Friday night in their Homecoming game and gained the win at 28-20. The Broncos posted 130 yards rushing and 100 yards in the air for 230 total yards in the game.

Junior quarterback Brock Hatley connected on eight out of thirteen for the 100 yards passing and hit Lamarcus Peniger from 13 yards out for six points. Hatley also hit receivers Sylvester Ballard for 23 yards and Jmaury Davis twice for 61 yards.

The Broncos were impressive on the rushing side as well. Antwann Bassett led the way with 66 yards on 14 carries and two touchdowns, and Peniger carried six times for 27 yards. Ballard racked up 21 yards on seven carries, Davis carried seven times as well and finished with nine yards, and Koyt Tucek got his hands on the football for one carry and eight yards.

Defensively the Broncos were strong and held off a comeback attempt late in the game. Jordan Herndon played solid with 12 tackles, one interception and two QB sacks, and Rhett Caison helped with 10 tackles. Davis had one sack, one interception, and seven tackles, while Hatley posted six tackles. Tucek, Robert McGuire, and Bassett had eight tackles each in the game.

The Broncos will travel to Quanah to face off against the Indians Friday, September 25, at 7:00 p.m.

CJH Williams wins back-to-back races

Eighth grader Bryce Williams did it again. He was able to overtake the field in the Groom Invitational CC Meet last Saturday and finish first with a time of 13.15.7 for the two-mile course. Kaleb Mays was eighth at 15:20.5 and John Weather-ton was ninth with a time of 15:21.1. Aiden Word crossed the line in 15th placed posting a time of 17:30.3.

Last week the runners competed at the Chap Invitational in Lubbock and Williams crossed the finish line in first place with a time of 12:05. Weather-ton was 13th at 14:30, Mays was 15th with a time of 14:35, and Anthony Brown was 35th

Bronco JV gets the best of the Owls

The Broncos earned a hard-fought win against Hale Center on the road last week defeating them 25-15. According to coach Yancy Molloy, the Broncos played hard.

Right out of the box, the Broncos dug in when quarterback Harrison Howard connected with tight end Colts Benson for a huge 65-yard pass to set up the first score of the game. Lyric Smith took the handoff in from five yards out for the first six points. Howard threw a strike to Easton Frausto for the two-point bonus.

Smith was able to find the end zone two more times in the game to give the Broncos the upper hand. Bradin Balogh also helped the Bronco offense with to big runs for first down conversions.

“Our defense played unbelievable, holding a good Hale Center team to 15 points,” Molloy said.

The Broncos will play Quanah at home Thursday, September 24, beginning immediately after the Colts’ game.

CJH coaches focus on positives in loss

The Colts traveled to Hale Center to face off against the Owls last Thursday and despite playing hard were shut out at 0-30.

“I thought our junior high kids played really hard last Thursday,” coach Boston Hudson said. “Hale Center had a talented 8th grade team with a lot of size. Our kids held their own, at times we had our 7th graders playing against their 8th graders and that makes it hard.”

Hudson knows the Colts were out-sized, but impressed by their determination.

“I think our kids will take it as a learning experience and as coaches, we tried to point out some positives that the kids could take away from the game,” Hudson said. “We are 1-1 on the year and we will work hard this week to see if we can get to 2-1 with a win over Quanah.”

The Colts will take on Quanah at home Thursday, September 24, beginning at 5:00 p.m.
