CVFD gives warning on welding, cutting

The Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department has responded to two fires in two days this week as a result of welding or cutting activities, and the department would like to encourage everyone to use caution when performing these types of activities.

Clear a work area by removing grass and weeds down to bare soil, have a second person to act as a spotter, and have more than one fire suppression method on site to help prevent these accidental fires.

The department understands that work must be done, but they encourage it to be done safely.

If you do have a fire start, please call 911 and the fire department will be glad to help you make sure the fire is extinguished.

Late Night Shopping continues Thursday

The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce will continue its Late Night Shopping this Thursday as it leads up to this month's Totally Locally $500 giveaway.

Several merchants will be staying open until 8 p.m. on December 10 and 17 with the Chamber drawing for its grand prize next Thursday.

Shoppers can register at any "Totally Locally" merchant during the season for a chance to win $500 in Clarendon Cash as well as other donated prizes.

Current "Totally Locally" merchants are listed on page five of this week's issue of The ClarendonEnterprise.

Angels still available on community tree

The Community Angel Tree has angels available at the Burton Memorial Library for children age 12 and under needing gifts in Donley County.

Gifts for the Angels need to be returned to the Library by December 17. Donations in support of the Angel Tree Project can be made at Pilgrim Bank or mailed to PO Box 45.

For additional information, call the Burton Memorial Library at 874-3685.

Referrals sought for CCISD GT program

Clarendon CCISD will be taking referrals for its Gifted & Talented Programs from December 3 to through December

Anyone can nominate a student for the GT program, and referral forms are available in each campus office. For more information, contact Counselor Jenae Ashbrook at 806-874-4355.

Casper riding high in finals

By Ted Harbin, TwisTed Rodeo

ARLINGTON - Bret Franks is a three-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier who coached Wyatt Casper to Clarendon College's first national championship when Casper won the saddle bronc riding title in 2016.

Even after graduating, Casper is still receiving lessons from Franks, and they're just a little part of the mix in the younger cowboy's success in ProRodeo. Sitting No. 1 in the world standings, Casper rode Korkow Rodeos' Onion Ring for 90.5 points to win Monday's fifth round of the NFR at Globe Life Field.

"After last night, I really needed today," said Casper, who was bucked off Bar T Rodeo's Lady Vain on Sunday. "Onion Ring is an incredible horse. I got on him earlier this year at The American and it pretty well felt exactly like he did today. He takes the perfect amount of rein. He goes out there, he is honest and he bucks hard. He just gives you all the time to spur him.

"He's an awesome horse."

It's his first round title at his first NFR, and he pushed his season earnings to $233,830, nearly $89,000 of which has come over the last five nights. His ride Monday was worth $26,231. Bigger yet, the No. 2 man in the standings, Utah cowboy Ryder Wright, finished out of the money, so Casper extended his lead to nearly $39,000.

How big are the stakes for Casper? Because he bucked off Sunday, he sits fifth in the average race with 352 points on four rides; if he stays in that spot through the final five nights of the NFR, he will earn a $22,846 bonus. Wright, who is No. 1 in the average, would pocket $67,269 for winning the aggregate

That's actually about the same amount of money Franks won the entire 2000 season. The money in ProRodeo has changed dramatically, for the betterment of the contestants that make a living in this game.

"Bret texted me the other day after I got on Miss Valley (Friday)," Casper said of Franks. "He said, 'Make sure you're getting a little quicker on your markout on your

He pocketed $603,000 in March, of which $50,000 counted toward the added another $95,000 through the go-round victory during the second rest of the regular season to enter ProRodeo's grand finale atop the world standings.

Ryder Wright, the 2017 world champion from Utah, had gained ground on Casper over the first two nights, but the Miami, Texas, cowboy stayed strong.

27 new cases of COVID-19; Death count climbs to six

Twenty-seven new cases of COVID-19 were confirmed by the Clarendon Family Medical Center in the first five days of December, and Donley County Judge John Howard, MD, says at least six local residents have now died from the disease.

Howard says adding known local cases that tested in Childress would raise total new positives the first week of December to 32. The hospitalization rate in December, however, has fallen to one in 30, compared to one in ten in November.

As of Sunday, total tests at the local clinic number 800 with 236 of those being positive since the COVID-19 virus was first detected here in March. Adding the known tests on local residents conducted at other facilities raises that total number of positive cases to 279.

The clinic is reporting 20 active cases under its care this week.

Robertson Funeral Directors of Clarendon reports they handled 35 deaths during the month of November in the six area communities they serve. While not all of those deaths are COVID-related, the funeral home's average for November is usually 15 deaths.

Howard also noted that a third FEMA mobile morgue has been delivered to Amarillo to handle the deaths occurring in the metro area, and hospital beds are also in short supply for COVID patients.

"They don't have room in the hospitals in Amarillo, and they are turning away people they would probably ordinarily admit," Howard

To help alleviate sending people to the hospital, Howard said the local clinic is doing more than normal to get COVID patients hydrated and get them on oxygen.

"Dehydration is a problem with this disease," Howard said.

Howard also said vaccines for COVID-19 will be coming out soon and the state is developing plans for distributing those.

The Pfizer vaccine will come out first, Howard said, but must be stored at -90°F and then can be kept in a refrigerator for up to five days. Medical facilities are finding it very difficult to get the refrigeration equipment needed to store the Pfizer vaccine, and the minimum order for it is currently 975 doses.

The vaccine from Moderna will likely be the first available in our area and the first doses will be for those professionals with direct patient contact, clinic staff, nursing home residents and staff, EMS, and school nurses. The second round of the vaccine will be for other first responders.

Howard said obstacles still have to be overcome in terms of distributing the vaccine. The Moderna vaccine will have a minimum order of 100 doses, but locations like Donley County doesn't need that many in the first round so there are still questions to

Serving up some Old Tyme Stew

The original recipe came from the Norman Rockwell Illustrated Cookbook, but I started making my own changes.

Uncle Mort's "throwaway" lines grow mountainous in trash heaps on his place back in the

Some heard, though, are "keepers," worthy of repeated consideration.

When still in his 90s, he warned about paying the least bit of attention to kitchen recipes that have unrecognizable or multisyllabic words, exotic wines, or ingredients to be "folded in." He also said upon sighting the words "foie de gras," one should "duck" into simpler, less "uppity" recipes. Finally, he suggested avoiding the idle recipes running in large, metropolitan newspapers....

"Look for 'em in community newspapers, where Mort claims they are more lovingly shared, often handed down to daughters, granddaughters, great-grands, etc." I spotted such a recipe in a recent edition of Granbury's Hood County News.

The stew recipe-traced by columnist Nancy Pricer to her late mother-in-law-first saw light of day in The Norman Rockwell Illustrated Cookbook.

Anything associated with Rockwell is fine stuff, advantaged by a name with a distinctive "down-home" feel....

Several years ago, my wife of 54 years bought a "cutesy" wall hanging, stating "Kitchen is Closed."

She meant it. Dipping deep into the well of compromise, I agreed to take on cooking chores if she'd accept KP duties.

Brenda agreed. I mess up; she cleans up....

Now, back to the stew recipe. At the risk of "quibbling," I don't like the name: "Lazy Lady Stew." Now I'm not believing for a minute that Old Norman would have given in to "reverse chauvinism." After all, he painted pictures of numerous lazy men.

Who knows? Maybe his own grandmother provided this recipe, but he dared not offend her by suggesting a different name.

I plowed into rounding up the ingredients, noting that only three have more than two syllables-potatoes, tomatoes and onions....

If your appetite is whetted, and/or you happen to remember those marvelous Rockwell paintings that for decades appeared weekly on the cover of The Saturday Evening Post, following is the "Lazy Lady Stew" recipe, with added comments that I think make it even

Here are the ingredients: 2 lbs. cubed stew meat, 1 10-oz. package frozen peas, 2 cup sliced carrots, 2 chopped onions, 2 potatoes, peeled and sliced about ½ inch thick, 1 tsp salt, dash of black pepper (maybe 1/3 tsp), 1 can cream of tomato soup, ½ of soup can of water and 1 bay leaf.

Bake in a 275-degree oven for six hours....

Wait up! I don't expect anything to truly bake at 275 degrees. If it does, it'll be as rare as pine trees in West Texas.

I followed other instructions almost to the letter, except I immediately crossed out peas, which I don't enjoy unless they are "blackened." Instead, I substituted a 10-oz package of mixed vegetables. It never hurts to add celery, so I did. And water chestnuts, too. (Bay leaves may be multiplied to suit your taste, or eliminated if you choose.)

Now, back to the baking modifications. I tossed all ingredients into a crockpot, setting the temperature on high for eight hours. (An hour or so may be trimmed off IF the potatoes are cut in dice-sized cubes. Otherwise, you'll wind up with a dish you'll otherwise like, but object to chomping into not-fully-cooked potatoes.)...

My wife offered "thumbs up" on the stew, but muttered about my using meat tenderizer next time. I thought the cubed beef was plenty tender, but some battles simply are not worth waging.

During her "cooking years," she also preferred simple recipes. I chuckle at the thought of her mother standing at her side for the "cake-cutting" at our wedding reception, saying, "Remember, dear, you must use the sharp edge."

Since I've modified the recipe, I may enter the fair competition-no, not the state fair, but the county fair. I may call it "Chef Newbury's Old-Tyme Stew." That's the way Cracker Barrel would spell it....

COVID-19: Protecting others and ourselves

On behalf of the Clarendon City Council, I want to stress the importance of protecting others and ourselves as we experience more and more COVID19 cases in the city and throughout Donley

The ethical argument for doing what is right is not hypothetical or academic. It is quite literally a matter of life or death for us and our fellow citizens. As reported by Dr. John Howard, in the December 3 Enterprise, virus cases in Donley County have increased rapidly in a two-week period. We had 201 confirmed cases on November 19, and that number stands at 255 as of December 3. More alarming is that the number of deaths has gone from one death to five deaths during that same time period and has increased by at least one death since December 3.

commentary by mayor sandy skelton

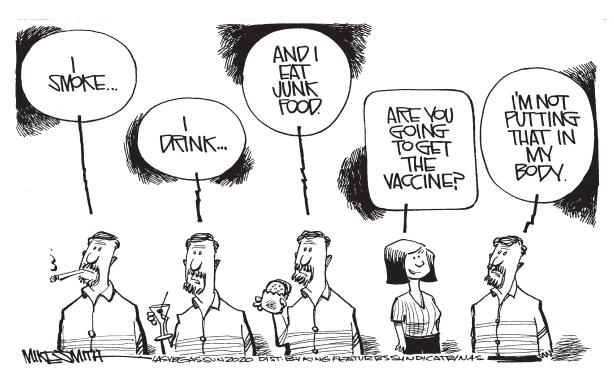

Our health officials have strongly encouraged us to wear masks while shopping and in other public settings. Additionally, we should all avoid close contact by putting six feet of distance between ourselves and people who do not live in our households. It is imperative that we continue to limit our socializing as much as possible in order to minimize the spread of the virus and to decrease the pain and suffering in our families and communities. Unfortunately, almost every Donley County citizen knows someone who has had COVID19, and, more unfortunately, most of us know one or more local citizens who have died.

COVID vaccines are on the way and should be available to us over the next several months. In the meantime, we must persevere by doing the right things for others and ourselves. Please wear that mask for the safety of others and yourself.

Vignettes: Chinese culture in Texas

By George U. Hubbard

Chinese laundries had unique ways of identifying customers. Back in the days before social security numbers, driver's license numbers, and other examples of numerical identification of people, unique ways were often devised for identifying customers.

For example, after the Civil War, the federal government authorized the creation of the Freedman's Bank as a financial service to former slaves who were now free. Intended as a safe repository for money that would now be theirs, the bank had to devise a way if identifying each depositor uniquely even though many could not read nor write.

The scheme they adopted was to have each depositor give the names of his or her parents, siblings, and as many other relatives as possible. Although the bank eventually failed, its records are now an important genealogical resource for black people today.

The Chinese were equally ingenious, and perhaps a little more unique.

In 1889 in El Paso, where all 18

laundries were owned and operated by Chinese, one laundryman, Wong Wun, identified his customers by their physical characteristics. In Chinese characters in his rice-paper book, his clientele were known as "Fat man with long fingernails," "Freckled gentleman with loud voice," "Sneezing man who scratches head," and other similarly descriptive phrases. It is believed that Wong Wun never returned laundry to the wrong customer.

George U. Hubbard is a resident of Gladewater's famous Christmas store

"We have Christmas all through the house and never take the trees down," says Jan Greenwood of Gladewater. "Our Christmas collecting sort of got out of hand," says her husband Don, "so we just got in the Christmas business." They have the Greenwood Christmas Store in Gladewater.

"We have more selection and more glass ornaments than anyplace," says Don. "I mean you cannot go to Dallas and get some of the things in our store." It has some expensive Christmas tree ornaments made from hand blown glass. Don showed me one. "I've never seen this go below a thousand dollars and I've never seen it any higher than fifteen hundred. If I put it up for sale it goes in a hurry. We've got bunches of them in the 500 to 800 dollar bracket."

They carry the Old World Christmas ornament brand. Another brand is Christopher Rothko. "It's one of the best ornaments," says Jan. "They have good resale value and are very collectible. People search them out."

They have had their store 22 years. It's open Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Their building has been in the same corner location since 1907. They have all kinds of Christmas display items including lighted miniature houses, manger scenes, snowmen and Santas. The hottest sellers are water lanterns. The most popular single ornament is a glass pickle from Germany. "Legend says they would hide the pickle and whatever kid found it got an extra present." Much of their merchandise is from countries that used to be behind the iron curtain. Some are made the same way they were made in 1820 and from the same family.

Don and Jan are experts on Christmas legends. When you go to the store, be prepared to stay a while because there are so many things to see and so many stories to hear. Don loves to tell about Christmas legends. He told me one about Christmas stockings.

"There were three sisters. They were from a poor family and their father couldn't afford a dowry. Back then a woman had to pay to get married. So one cold winter night the three girls took off their stockings and hung them up by the fireplace and went to bed. Well, Saint Nicholas came through there and took some gold coins and threw them down the chimney and they landed in their stockings. So when they got up the next morning they went to the fireplace to put their nice warm stockings on and found the coins. Now they had a dowry and could get married. So after that, everybody started hanging their stockings up around the fireplace hoping that Saint Nicholas could come along and fill them up. Even today, they're making new legends that go with the ornaments. Jan's favorite is the ice cream cone. It's a wonderful treat. However, if it's not enjoyed quickly it soon melts and disappears. The ice cream ornament reminds us to enjoy and appreciate what we have today because it may be gone tomorrow."

People from all over the world have been in their store.

Carry-out available at Senior Citizens

By Mary Lynn Hello from the Donley County Senior Citizens Center! We hope everyone had a blessed Thanksgiving and is getting ready for our Christmas

The staff and volunteers here want all to know that carry-out is available from 11:30 to 12:30. The dining room is not yet open. Donations of $5 for 55 and under and $6 for over 55 is as usual. And any age is welcome. Meals are nutritious and tasty. What better way to be able to take home lunch in the middle of all those errands and shopping? Please, we ask you to wear masks for the safety of all.

Our prayers go out to all in our community who have been affected by the COVID-19 virus. Please be safe and take care of yourselves while we're in the midst of this crisis.

I want to also remind everyone that our volunteers have continued to deliver meals. They are out there as they've always been. Some have been ill themselves, some selfquarantined for their families' safety. Someone, however, is there at the doors of those who need a meal. God bless them all.

Christmas is fast approaching. I pray people are recovering from COVID and that we live to receive the vaccine. Continue to wear your masks, stay at least 6 feet away, and wash your hands often. God bless you all.

Cub Reporter's busy weekend

The past week I've had a lot was decorate of stuff happening. Starting with the treehouse. I Saturday me and my dad decorated liked it so much the outside of our house for because I got to Christmas.

The first thing we did was the treehouse put the lights around the top of the putting lights the cub house and get them hooked up to up and I got to our switch. The next thing we did climb under the reporter was decorate the bushes, and the last treehouse to by benjamin estlack thing we did, which was my favorite, wire it all together.

climb around

Then after we were finished I went to the movies with my friends to see "Come Play."

The next day we decorated the inside of our house and put up our Christmas tree. And on Monday I had a basketball game and my team scored our season high in points. That pretty much is everything I did this weekend and I am ready for next weekend.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Broncos outscore Canyon

By Sandy Anderberg

The Clarendon Broncos hosted Canyon last week and smoked them 47-34. The Broncos built up a huge lead in the opening minutes but allowed the Eagles to chip away in the second half.

Senior Donovan Thompson put together 32 minutes of really good basketball and posted a personal best 27 points to lead the Broncos on the scoreboard. Along with all his two-pointers, Thompson added three three-pointers and went two for two from the bonus line. Cayden D'Costa finished in double figures as well and hit two three-pointers and finished with 10.

The Broncos stormed out of the box and put up 30 points in the first half and stunned the Eagles, who only mustered 11 points. Coldshooting hindered their attempt to catch up to the Broncos as they posted several missed shots. But, Canyon exploded in the third quarter and chipped away at the Broncos' big lead only trailing by 12 after the third eight minutes. The Broncos regrouped and answered Canyon's comeback attempt and played them even in the final period.

Joining Thompson and D'Costa on the scoreboard was Sylvester Ballard with seven and Jordan Herndon with three.

The Broncos will travel to Pampa on December 11 and Dumas on December 15.

Lady Broncos serve up revenge on Perryton at home

By Sandy Anderberg

The Lady Broncos were able to right a wrong last Friday night at home when they squeezed by Perryton who had defeated them in their season opener. The Lady Broncos turned a three-point deficit into a one-point lead after three quarters of play to get the 42-35 win.

Perryton held the upper hand in the opening period, but only by three points. Makenna Shadle and Madi Smith each hit big three-pointers to grab some momentum. Point leader of the game was senior Jade Benson who was shut out of the first quarter but began to connect after the first eight minutes and finished with 15

The ladies worked together to execute offensively and stayed strong against their physical opponent. Clarendon did struggle at the freethrow line only hitting 46 percent of their shots and failed to convert a few inside shots early.

Finishing up the scoring was Smith who had nine, Ashlynn Crawford with eight, Shadle with seven and Finley Cunningham who added a three-pointer.

The ladies will host Quanah December 11 and travel to White Deer December 15. Games begin at 6:30 p.m.

Lady Bronco JV takes care of Perryton

The Lady Broncos hustled on both ends of the court and earned a 34-26 win over Perryton last Friday night at home. The scoring was spread out over seven players and they hit seven out of eleven free throws for 64 percent.

Clarendon led by eight points after one quarter, but the Rangerettes closed the gap somewhat in the second seven minutes to only trail by five. The Lady Broncos were able to turn up the heat in the second half of play as they stayed with their game plan to get the win.

Courtlyn Conkin played well and gathered 11 points in the win, Anna Randall added 10, and Laney Gates hit four. Aliyah Weatherton, Jayde Gribble, and Aleyah Weatherton finished with two points each and Avery English added one from the bonus line. The ladies will be at home against Quanah on December 11 and go to White Deer on December 15 at 5:00.

Eighth grade Colts breeze by Shamrock

The eighth grade Colts had no trouble taking Shamrock down at home last week as they earned a 38-17 win. Colton Caudle led the Colts on the scoreboard with 10 points, and Kaleb Bolin with eight.

The Colts handled the Irish from the tip off and were able to execute easily as Shamrock struggled on both ends of the court. Offensively, the Colts put their game plan in gear and led by 13 at the break. Shamrock could not stop the Colt defense and was able to put only 10 more points on the board before the buzzer.

Also scoring was John Weather with six, and Bryce Williams and Mason Sims with four each. Mason Allred and Anthony Brown added two each to the score.

The Colt seventh graders played a great game but fell short at 9-10. After finishing the first quarter of play with zero points, the Colts turned it around somewhat and put up three before the break while holding their opponent scoreless in the second quarter of play. Their good defense came through again in

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST

On October 13, 2020, Southwestern Electric Power Company (SWEPCO or Company) filed a Petition and Statement of Intent to Change Rates (the Petition) with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC or the Commission) in Docket No. 51415, and with those municipal authorities in its Texas service territory that have original jurisdiction over SWEPCO's electric rates. This notice is being published in accordance with Section 36.103 of the Public Utility Regulatory Act and Commission Procedural Rule 16 Tex. Admin. Code § 22.51(a)(1).

SWEPCO has approximately 187,000 Texas retail customers. All such customers and all classes of customers will be affected by the relief requested in SWEPCO's Petition.

SWEPCO's request to change its rates is based on the financial results for a 12-month test year ending on March 31, 2020. SWEPCO's Petition seeks an overall increase of $105,026,238, an increase of 30.3% over adjusted Texas retail test year base rate revenues exclusive of fuel and rider revenues. SWEPCO's proposed revenue increase will be offset by a $14,826,502 decrease in annualized Transmission Cost Recovery Factor (TCRF) and Distribution Cost Recovery Factor (DCRF) revenue. Thus, the net proposed Texas retail revenue increase is $90,199,736, an increase of 26.0% over adjusted Texas retail test year base rate revenues exclusive of fuel and rider revenues. The overall impact of the rate change, considering both fuel and non-fuel revenues, is a 15.6% increase. The impact of the rate change on various customer classes will vary from the overall impact described in this notice, as shown in the table below. In addition, SWEPCO is seeking recovery of the reasonable rate-case expenses, including expenses paid to reimburse intervening municipalities, that it incurs in this case and those rate-case expenses incurred in three prior dockets that have yet to be recovered.

A Residential Service customer using 1,000 kilowatt-hours of energy per month will see an increase in their total bill (including fuel costs and rate riders) of $15.71 per month, an increase of approximately 15.0%.

The following table presents the percentage annual revenue increases, by type of service, under the proposed rates in this proceeding:

SWEPCO Texas Proposed Base Rate Increase Applicable Service Change in Non-Fuel Change in Total Bill (%)

SWEPCO has proposed that its requested rate change become effective 35 days after the filing of the Petition and Statement of Intent. The proposed effective date is subject to suspension and extension by actions that may be taken by the Commission and other regulatory authorities.

SWEPCO is proposing revisions to most tariffs and schedules. In addition, in order to facilitate future TCRF, DCRF, and Generation Cost Recovery Rider (GCRR) filings pursuant to 16 TAC §§ 25.239, 25.243, and 25.248, respectively, SWEPCO requests that the Commission: (1) set the Company's current TCRF and DCRF to zero; and (2) establish in this docket the baseline values consisting of the inputs to the calculations that will be used to calculate SWEPCO's TCRF, DCRF, and GCRR in future dockets.

Persons with questions or who want more information on this Petition may contact SWEPCO at 428 Travis Street, Shreveport, Louisiana 71101, or call toll-free at (888) 216-3523 during normal business hours. A complete copy of the Petition and related filings is available for inspection at the address listed in the previous sentence.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission at (512) 936-7120 or (888) 782-8477. Hearing- and speech-impaired individuals with text telephones (TTY) may contact the commission at (512) 936-7136. A request for intervention or for further information should refer to Docket No. 51415. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is 45 days after the date the application was filed with the commission, unless otherwise provided by order of the presiding officer. The presiding officer for Docket No. 51415 has ordered an intervention deadline of February 10, 2021.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the preferred method for you to file your request for intervention or comments on the application is electronically, and you will be required to serve the request on other parties by email. Therefore, please include your own email address on the intervention request. Instructions for electronic filing via the "PUC Filer" on the Commission's website can be found here: https://interchange.puc.texas.gov/filer. Instructions for using the PUC Filer are available at http://www.puc.texas.gov/industry/filings/New_PUC_Web_Filer_Presentation.pdf. Once you obtain a tracking sheet associated with your filing from the PUC Filer, you may email the tracking sheet and the document you wish to file to: centralrecords@puc.texas.gov. For assistance with your electronic filing, please contact the Commission's Help Desk at (512) 936-7100 or helpdesk@puc.texas.gov. You can review materials filed in this docket on the PUC Interchange at: http://interchange.puc.texas.gov/.

^{} Transmission and distribution cost recovery factor revenue recovered in existing base rates will be reset to zero with this filing.

^{} Bill impact includes base rate revenue plus fuel factor, energy efficiency cost recovery factor, rate case expense surcharge, transmission cost recovery revenue, and distribution cost recovery revenue.
