Memphis residents win annual 5K

About 100 people helped raise awareness of child abuse during the ninth annual Chance Mark Jones Roar & Run 5K & Polar Bear Plunge last Saturday, April 17, at the Clarendon Aquatic Center.

Ninety-five people registered for the event with about 50 actually running or walking the 5K, and 16 or more braving the biting cold weather to be the first members of the public to jump into the city's new pool. Dozens more volunteers, supporters, and spectators were also in attendance.

Two Memphis residents were the top men's and women's finishers of the 5K. Ryder Robison, age 15, had the best overall time of 18 minutes, 24 seconds, and took first place in the 11-19 age group. Kay Mendoza, age 18, had the best time of all women, coming in at 22:21 in the same age division.

New this year, city officials allowed registered participants to jump into the new Clarendon Aquatic Center pool, which will formally open on Memorial Day weekend. One feature of the new center is a basketball goal purchased by the Clarendon Lions Club in honor of the late Chance Mark Jones.

Participants of the 5K and the plunge were encouraged to wear crazy costumes for the events.

Judges selected Boss Lion Landon Lambert's tutu outfit as the best of the plunge participants and 12-year-old Ayden Bordonaro's dinosaur costume won the runner's division.

Complete results of this year's race are as follows: Top Men's Time – Ryder Robison, 18:24; Top Women's Time – Kay Mendoza, 22:21; 10 and under – 1st Kutter O'Keefe 31:46, 2nd Lester Graham 58:50, and 3rd Joshua Jones; Ages 11-19 – 1st Robison 18:24, 2nd Bryce Williams 20:15, 3rd Tyler Tuttle 21:57; Ages 20-29 – 1st Monty Holland 25:30, 2nd Caitlin Christopher 30:12, and 3rd Haley Kirk 52:17; Ages 30-39 – 1st John Robison 29:04, 2nd Amber Williams 47:00, and 3rd Cody Jones 55:36; Ages 40-49 – 1st J.D. McMahon 24:37, 2nd Maria Hale 25:32, and 3rd Andrew Brown 29:48; Ages 50-59 – 1st Michelle Branigan 29:43, 2nd Christi Benson 32:00, and 3rd Shirley Blank 33:57; and Ages 60 and Up – 1st Dan Purdy 32:10, 2nd Nancy Kidd 47:27, and 3rd Bob Weiss 48:12.

Proceeds support the charitable activities of the Lions Club.

Franks spurs the San Angelo lead

By Ted Harbin

SAN ANGELO – Cole Franks has spent his life around rodeo.

That happens when he's the son of a ProRodeo cowboy, but there's more to it. He is making his way in the game his own way as a bareback rider. Though he's just beginning, he proved Friday night that he's more than capable.

He spurred Northcott Macza Rodeo's Hot Flash for 88 points to take the opening-night lead at the San Angelo Stock Show and Rodeo on Friday at Foster Communications Coliseum. It was just the second time he'd ever posted a score that high and was the first time he'd done it at an event sanctioned by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, the premier body in the game.

"I'd seen a couple videos on Facebook of that horse with Will Lowe and Orin Larsen, and he looked pretty hard to ride," said Franks, 20, the son of Bret Franks, a three-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier in saddle bronc riding and now the coach at Clarendon College.

Franks came out the winner. More importantly, he will return in two weeks to compete in the championship round and take a shot at winning one of the most coveted titles in the sport.

"He left (the chute) really hard and had a little move right out of there and almost got me out of shape," said Franks, a sophomore rodeoing for his dad at Clarendon and the leader of the Southwest Region's bareback riding and all-around standings. "I let my feet come up to the riggin' and got back under him. He was strong and fast, but it felt really good.

"Being 88 was relieving, but it just wants to make you want to be 89."

This is his rookie season, but it's been a bit rough heading into the first performance. He's finished just out of the money at most rodeos he's attended, but he gained a great deal of confidence with Friday's performance.

"I'd really like to win the rookie (of the year) title this year," he said. "If I could make the NFR, that would be great, but I'm really going for it in 2022. That's all in the crosshairs."

While his dad serves as his college coach, there have been plenty of mentors along the way. His dad can help with some aspects of bareback riding, but Bret Franks' forte was in the saddle. When he was first getting started, Cole Franks received a grand education from Jeffrey Collins, the 2000 bareback world champion.

"Dad helps a lot with the mental aspects of rodeo," Cole Franks said.

Former CHS coaches in UIL top 100

Clarendon High School basketball made headlines this year with the Broncos' first ever state championship last month, but two former CHS coaches have also received notable recognition.

In celebration of 100 years of UIL Texas high school basketball, the University Interscholastic League with the help of some of the state's foremost experts and historians, the UIL earlier this spring honored 100 of the top coaches to walk the sidelines in UIL History in both boys' and girls' competition.

Only two names from CHS made those lists – Coach Carl Irlbeck for boys' basketball and Coach Jimmy Avery for girls' basketball.

Irlbeck played for Clarendon College in 1959 when the Bulldogs won the Western Junior College Conference championship. He then coached basketball at Nazareth, Clarendon, Abernathy, Plainview, Plainview Christian, Monterey, and Hart. He's known for his crew-cut hair and cowboy boots, which he used to stomp the floor and get players' attention.

Irlbeck

Avery

Irlbeck took the Broncos to the state tournament in 1971 and overall has had 25 teams advance to regionals and coached nine state champions in four sports – three in basketball, three in tennis, two in cross country, and one in volleyball. He has taught for more than 59 years and coached for 55. He's been inducted into the Texas High School Basketball Hall of Fame and the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame and has a career record of 1,065 wins and 501 losses.

Avery coached for 32 years. He began his career at Petersburg followed by Levelland, Spur, Shallowater, Lubbock-Roosevelt, Clarendon, Big Spring, Tuscola, Grady, Trophy Club Byron Nelson, and Ponder.

Coaching boys basketball at CHS, Avery led the Broncos to bi-district championships in 1995 and 1997. He won a state championship Tuscola Jim Ned in 2008, made two other appearances in the state tournament, and coached a state championship in cross-country in 2003. Avery has a career record of 813-315.

Coach Avery has been honored with the Chuck Moser Coach of the Year award, was named the Big Country Coach of the Year twice, and was the 2A South Plains Coach of the Year in 1993.

Executive orders take center stage

All Americans should be concerned about President Biden’s recent executive order on gun control. Try to forget for a moment, if you can, whether you agree with Biden or not and try instead to focus on the procedure. Biden is falling back on the two justifications that other presidents have used to skirt the Constitution, that Congress is not doing its job and that he is only following the will of the American people. However, is that statement true? In some ways, yes. But, historically speaking, presidents were never supposed to represent the people’s will and sometimes non-action is action.

historically speaking
by dr. james finck

First, let’s look at the idea of representation. Does the president represent the will of the people? The answer is no. That was never the Founders’ intention when creating the Constitution. Biden did win the presidency, but he only won the popular vote by 51.3%. In other words, he really only represents about half of the ideas of Americans. Even if the percentage was much higher, he represents the nation as a whole, not the people individually. That is the job of Congress. Congress is made up of both parties proportional to the political ideologies of the people. Congress represents the will of the people. Even if your representative is from a different party, congressmen represent all Americans virtually, so your ideas are represented – unlike the president who only represents his party.

This is exactly how the Founders envisioned it, but without the parties. The Constitution was written so that the president did not represent the will of the people. If the Founders had wanted a popular vote to choose the president, they could have done so. Instead electors are chosen to vote for the president. Although the people elect the electors today, that was not the case when the nation first started. The point of the Electoral College is to actually separate the people from the president. Congress is where there is a direct vote, at first only in the House, but today in both houses of Congress. When a president makes an executive order, that goes against Congress. In fact, he is actually fighting the will of the people, not representing it.

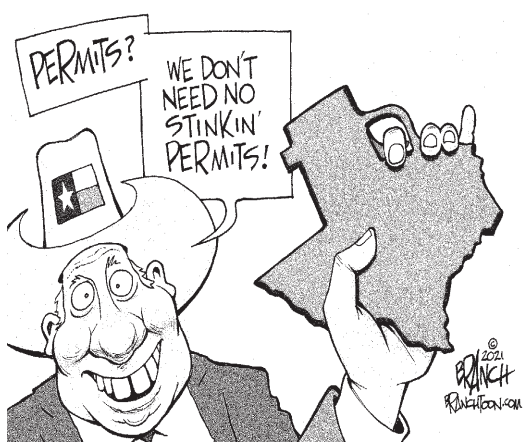

Secondly, should the president act if Congress refuses to do so? The answer is no. The Constitution says, “All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States.” No second clause stipulates, “or with the president in times of inaction or if things do not go the president’s way.” This is American Government 101. Only Congress can make laws.

Thirdly, sometimes inaction is action. The president assumes that Congress is not doing its job if Congress does not pass the laws that he desires. All presidents who make this claim assume action is agreeing with them. In today’s particular case about gun control, however, Congress is not acting because it can’t. Though most Democrats support gun reforms, not all Democrats do. In other words, Congress is not making new gun restrictions because it does not have the votes in the Senate to pass any legislation. The Democrats would need every vote, plus the vice-president to pass with a simple majority, let alone ten Republicans votes to pass the filibuster. The Democrats have neither. There are some moderate Democratic senators who oppose the current gun control laws. In this case, the action is the Senate saying that it does not support current gun law proposals, which is different from the Senate doing nothing.

If the Congress, which represents the will of the people, decided against new laws and the president used an executive order to circumvent Congress to pass laws anyway, that makes the president a tyrant. The Founders were scared of a tyrannical president when they wrote our founding document, hence they put in checks and balances. Bypassing Congress goes against the very fabric of the Constitution.

Now that we have addressed procedure, let’s quickly address the content. We need some common-sense gun laws. The mass shootings need to stop. However, the fact that one man and his pen can make such an important decision by himself, and against the wishes of Congress, is the reason we have the Second Amendment to begin with. It was an armed citizenry that revolted against a tyrant in 1776. The Founders wanted Americans to have that right if needed again.

No room at inn for some immigrants

Most American settlers in early Texas tried to be helpful to the non-English speaking foreigners, but there were a few who did not welcome these newcomers.

Frank and Rosalie Sebesta arrived in Galveston from Moravia in 1855. Their three-month voyage across the Atlantic had been quite rough, with storms rocking the ship and blowing it off course. Sea sickness and hunger were common ailments for the passengers. Along with the other Czech immigrants in their party, the Sebestas traveled by barge from Galveston to Houston, and then by ox-driven wagon on their way to Cat Springs.

It was a cold, biting winter, and after crossing the Brazos River at San Felipe, they found themselves unable to proceed because of heavy rains and impassable roads. Night was upon them, and it was dark as well as colder.

The Sebestas were parents of several children including a four-month-old baby who had been born at Roudnice, Bohemia, while they were en route on their journey. Fearing for the life of the young child, they went in search of shelter. They found a farmhouse, and with Rosalie clutching the baby close to her breast to keep it warm, they begged for shelter.

Despite the language barrier, the man of the house let it be known that he was not giving up the only bed in the house, nor would he permit the Sebestas to remain overnight in any other part of the house. The farmer’s wife pled on behalf of the Sebestas, but to no avail. Her husband was adamant.

Frank and Rosalie retreated to a fence where they and their children crouched in anticipation of spending a long, cold, and wet night.

Shortly thereafter, a lone horseman rode up and stopped at the farmhouse. Upon hearing from the farmer’s wife of the plight of the Sebesta family, this rider went out, with lantern in hand, to find them. Succeeding in his quest, he led them to his own home which was a little farther down the road. This second farmer and his wife provided dry clothing, blankets, and food, and cared for the forlorn family as best they could. After staying three days in their temporary abode, the weather improved, and the Sebestas proceeded on their way to Cat Springs with the other immigrants.

The rest of the immigrant company had stayed in an improvised camp and had suffered intensely before being able to resume the journey. The overall losses of the group have not been recorded, but two of the Sebesta children died a short time later from the exposures endured.

Frank and Rosalie Sebesta became successful farmers. Starting on property rented from a German landowner, they raised cotton, corn, rye, and wheat. After working and saving for a few years they bought their own land at Vesely (now Wesley) in Washington County. Frank died in 1874 at the age of forty-eight. He is buried at Wesley in ground he donated to the community for a cemetery. Rosalie managed the farm alone until, at an advanced age, she retired to live with a daughter at Snook in Burleson County. She died in 1907 at the age of seventy-six and is buried at Snook. George Hubbard is the author of several books and a resident of Clarendon.

Yoga’s a good way to clear the mind

“If you stand up straight, be still and concentrate on your breathing, you’re doing yoga. It is the best way to clear your mind. Thoughts will come into your head but the trick is to not engage those thoughts, just sort of observe them.” - Kevin Lewis

When he’s not working on professional sports television broadcasts around the country, my son Kevin teaches yoga at YMCAs in Dallas. Growing up he had a mystical streak and was always fascinated by India. I was in bed sick with the flu once and he came to my bedside and said, “Dad, if you look at something beautiful it’ll make you feel better.” I think he was about 8 years old at the time. Sure enough, I looked at him and felt better.

Kevin has been doing yoga 20 years and spent 10 years becoming certified to teach it. “Doing yoga in a class with other people is an experience that can’t be replicated at home when you’re on your own just watching a computer screen. Nothing can compare to feeling the energy in a room with other people who are experiencing the same thing you’re experiencing. During the pandemic a lot of people practice at home alone. They do it while watching TV, listening to music or whatever floats their boat. If they like having a goat walk all over them fine and dandy. Just do what is comfortable. I think it’s best to do yoga on a hard floor, outside if possible. There’s nothing like breathing fresh air.”

He didn’t start doing yoga until he was in his 30s. “I don’t think I would have had the patience to do it when I was a younger person. You’ve got to be so patient. In fact, you should have zero expectations because expectations are the root of all misery in life anyway so if you remove any expectations about how you will progress it will happen naturally if you continue to do it.”

Although there are many physical

benefits to yoga, he does it for the state it puts him in, the experience that happens to him between his ears. “There are a few times when I’ve experienced complete bliss and contentment and joy and quiet and peace. It is a magical feeling. When you consciously try to reach that state you have trouble because it needs to happen organically.”

Kevin loves his broadcasting job but it’s stressful at times. “It requires intense concentration for a long amount of time and yoga keeps me grounded. It has helped immensely in my job with live sports television.”

Although Kevin can do amazing things with his body there are still yoga poses, he cannot do and probably will never be able to do them. “I can do some that I thought were impossible, but I kept exercising and stretching until I mastered them. Regarding exercise, the best is the one that you will do on a consistent basis. If you like walking, do that. If you like to ride a bicycle, do that. Just do what you like and are comfortable doing.”

CC places third at Western Texas rodeo

The Clarendon College Men's Rodeo Team competed at Western Texas College rodeo in Snyder this past weekend and won third place as a team with Cole Franks winning the bareback riding championship and Dawson Gleaves with the bull riding championship.

Franks won both rounds with an 87-point ride in the long go and an 84 in the short round to win the average. Weston Patterson was 78 points in the long go; and while he failed to make a qualified ride in the short go, he still finished 6th in the average.

In the saddle bronc riding, four riders made it back to the short round. Trey Elshere was the only one to ride both horses and scored 73 in the long go and 77 points in the short round for 3rd in the average. Patterson won second in the long go with his 80-point ride, Brody Wells had a 79-point ride tied for 3rd place, and Cash Wilson was 78 points for 5th place.

Team ropers Krees Milligan and Dawson Reedy had a 6.7 time in the team roping for a spot in the short go but missed their steer in the short round.

In the bull riding, Dawson Gleaves was 85 points in the long go and tied for 2nd place, 89 for 1st in the short go and the average while Reedy was 83 points in the long go for 4th place but bucked off in the short go but still earned 5th in the average.

The Bulldogs still hold the number one spot in the regional team standings but not by much. It will come down to the wire in the team standings and a couple events as the team competes in their last regular season rodeo this weekend at Tarleton State.

The top two teams and top three individuals in each event will advance to the College National Finals Rodeo held in Casper, Wyo., in June.

Concert, 5K make for fun weekend

This past weekend, my friend Mason came to stay at my house for a night. On Friday night, we went to a concert out at the Sandell. It was a Christian rock concert; and since we had two extra seats on our ticket, I took a friend and my sister took a friend.

The next day we woke up and went to the 5-k which was at the swimming pool. The Lions Club needed someone to do the two-mile water station, so I volunteered along with my little cousin Monroe. Since it was cold, I took a blanket with us, and we sat there waiting for runners to come by. We sat for about 15 minutes before the first runners came by and we continued that for about 20 minutes. After that, the cub reporter

by benjamin esclack

we went back, and I did the polar plunge.

Later that night Mason and I made white bread and meatloaf from scratch and ate it for supper

The next day, he went home, and we went to Lubbock to see our family friends and I got to buy a beef tenderloin. I'm going to cook beef Wellington sometime!

In all it was a very eventful weekend, and I'm looking forward to more cooking fun.

Museum, firemen to host June fundraiser

The Saints' Roost Museum and Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department are teaming up to sponsor a fundraiser benefiting the "Wheels of History" Transportation Complex.

Due to COVID restrictions in December 2020, the Museum was unable to host its Annual Christmas Reverse Drawing Benefit, therefore the Museum and Clarendon VFD will jointly host a reverse drawing to raise funds for a new transportation building.

The joint fundraiser is scheduled for June 12, 2021 at the COEA Areana Dance Slab. There will be food, live music, reverse drawing, and loads of fun. Tickets are $50 and may be purchased from any Museum board member or Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department member. Gates open at 6pm. The Martin Band will provide live music. Some lucky person will win $5,000 with the remaining proceeds going toward the building project.

The "Wheels of History" Transportation Complex will be built on the museum grounds to house a 1906 Bain chuck wagon, restored and donated by Johnny Brumley; a 1927 Seagraves fire truck donated by the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department; a 1923 Model T donated by Dr. Keith C. Hudson; and a buggy purchased by W. J. Lewis, Jr. and donated by Bobby and Jenks Boston.

A total of approximately $200,000 will be needed to construct this new building to preserve these valuable pieces of transportation history.

If you purchased a ticket for the original Museum Christmas Party Benefit that was scheduled for December 5, 2020, your ticket remains valid for the upcoming fundraiser on June 12. The public is encouraged to come out and support our efforts to raise funds for this transportation preservation project.

Thornberry

Don D. Thornberry, a life-long resident of Donley County, passed away on April 18, 2021. Born on the family ranch in Donley County in 1935 to William C. "Bill" and Mary Thornberry, Don graduated from Clarendon High School and New Mexico A&M University (now New Mexico State). After college, he returned to Donley County and was a proud rancher all of his life. Ranching was the life he loved and cherished, and, apart from fishing trips to Creede, Colorado, there was never any other place he wanted to be.

Don served the community in a number of ways, including as a member of the Clarendon School Board, the Outdoor Entertainment Association, the Donley County Hospital Board, the USDA Farm Services Administration Board, and the Donley County Appraisal Board. He was a lifelong member of First United Methodist Church of Clarendon.

Most of all, Don was devoted to his family. He is survived by his beloved wife of 63 years, Tookie

Thornberry

Thornberry, and their sons Mac and his wife, Sally; Lance and his wife, Judy; Drew and his wife, Lesa, and cherished grandchildren Chase Thornberry, Cortnee Thornberry Smith, Amber Thornberry Lewis, Ashlen Thornberry, Will Thornberry, and Mary Kemp Thornberry. He is also survived by eight great grandchildren, his sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Jackie and William Clark, sister-in-law Pat Thornberry, niece Haley Clark Esters, and nephews Richard Thornberry, Sandy Thornberry, and Mark Clark.

Don leaves a legacy of faith and integrity, as well as a strong work ethic, to his family and all who knew him.

After a private family burial, a memorial service will be held at the First United Methodist Church of Clarendon on Thursday, April 22 at 2:00 p.m. A reception with the family at the church will follow.

The family requests that in lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the First United Methodist Church of Clarendon or the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department.

Arrangements are by Robertson Funeral Directors of Clarendon.

Clarendon High School took seven students to West Texas A&M University for UIL Academic Regional competition Friday, April 16. Josiah Howard earned a silver medal in Lincoln Douglas Debate and qualified for State to be held May 25-26. Pantex, Y-12 receive Silver Awards for sustainability

Congratulations to the Pantex Plant and the Y-12 National Security Complex in Oak Ridge, Tenn., for receiving 2020 Silver GreenBuy Awards, presented by the US Department of Energy's Office of Environment, Health, Safety and Security.

Both sites, managed and operated by Consolidated Nuclear Security, were recognized for "green purchasing" that extends beyond the minimum compliance requirements. Pantex had eight products in three different categories, and Y-12 had seven products in four different categories. Categories range from lowering health and environmental impacts to reducing maintenance and waste management costs.

"It is great that Pantex and Y-12 received awards," Sherith Hudson, CNS Sustainable Acquisition Program lead, said. "Receiving the awards shows we're being successful in establishing a baseline of sustainable products that both sites are prioritizing for purchasing. During fiscal year 2020, our sites continued their focus on electronic recycling and purchasing concrete, paper towels, and toilet tissue with recycled content, as well as electronic equipment as Priority Products."

Alicia Barley of Pantex Environmental Compliance suggests that everyone "Use a cup or refillable water bottle instead of plastic, and recycle when you do use plastic or aluminum. Explore new, more sustainable options in paper towels, tissues, and soaps. At Pantex, the site has evolved from managing waste (recycling) to managing purchases also. Prioritizing the purchase of recycled content or bio-based products when possible can really contribute to our overall sustainability."

"Procuring materials that meet sustainable requirements allows Consolidated Nuclear Security to minimize the use of natural resources, meaning we leave a smaller and lighter footprint on the earth," Hudson said. "Receiving these awards helps us guide our program toward more challenging opportunities for implementing sustainability when our sites purchase products to help us plan and execute our services and contracts."

In addition to purchasing sustainable materials, Pantex recycled more than 1.2 million pounds of items such as plastics, paper, metal, batteries, and electronics in 2020. Y-12 recycled 3.8 million pounds, for a total combined effort of 5.1 million pounds of recycled materials.

First inning rally proves too much for the Irish

By Sandy Anderberg

The Broncos are peaking at a great time in their season as they look to go deep in post-season play adding two big wins last week. They were able to slam Shamrock 16-2 and stop Valley 18-2.

The Broncos racked up 15 huge wins in the first at bat to take a 14-point lead. Koyt Tucek, Brock Hatley, Calder Havens, Harrison Howard, and Easton Frausto jumped all over Shamrock's pitcher early on to record big hits.

Freshman Frausto had a great game against Shamrock with four huge hits in five at bats. He was able to triple and double in the first, double in the second, and hit a strong single in the fourth. Frausto and Harrison Howard took the mound late in the game with Frausto recording the last three outs for the Broncos.

Brock Hatley earned the win for the Broncos throwing for two innings. He allowed one hit, one run, and struck out five with one walk during his time on the mound.

Overall, the Broncos blasted 16 hits in the game. Frausto, Howard, and Aiden Caudle had multiple hits in the game. Hatley was able to easily steal bases and racked up three to lead the way with the team recording 14 bases in the game.

Caudle was on the mound in the Valley game and earned the win in the 18-2 finish. Caudle has been a constant on the mound for the Broncos and recorded two hits, one run, and struck out seven in his four innings on the mound. Hatley stepped in to finish the game.

Caudle was on fire at the plate as well and recorded a homerun in the first. Teammate Lyric Smith got his hands on one in the first inning also to mark a homer. Stolen bases came easy for the Broncos as they posted 19 total steals with Smith nabbing five of them.

Big hits were recorded by Howard, Smith, Hatley, and Jordan Herndon to help with the 14 hits in the game.

The Broncos will travel to Nazareth April 23, Memphis April 26, and Nazareth again on May 1 at home before ending regular season play.

Lady Broncos slam Gruver

By Sandy Anderberg

The Lady Broncos busted out of the first inning of play with four runs in their shut out over Gruver last week at 16-0. They were able to get the win in record time in only 2 ½ innings recording no errors and 16 runs on only eight hits.

The first Lady Bronco runs came when Jade Benson made good use of a missed fly ball to advance to third and score quickly on a wild pitch.

After Ashlynn Crawford reaches base on walks, Jentrye Bellar was able to knock her in on a line drive to left field. Their scoring run ended on a ground out to the second baseman.

The second and final batting round netted 12 runs for the Lady Broncos. Benson got on base with a single and Bellar knocked down a double to advance the runners. Kaylin Hicks, Madi Smith and Madison Broussard all made big hits from the plate.

On the defensive side, the ladies were able to go three up and three down several times on Gruver. Smith earned the win on the mound.

The Lady Broncos will travel to Follett April 23 to finish regular season play.

Lady Broncos compete in Area Meet

By Sandy Anderberg

Three Lady Broncos made the trip to the Area Track Meet to compete in three different events and did a good job, but they did not advance to the next level.

Senior Jade Benson made her final outing in the 300m hurdles and finished 8th with a time of 51.78. Madison Smith has run well this season in the 400m and had a personal best time of 1:08.84 for 8th place.

Smith also competed in the triple jump and finished 12th with a leap of 30'9 ¼".

Finley Cunningham gave her best effort in the high jump and finished 10th with a jump of 4'5 ¾" which was a personal best.

Waiver for Driver Licenses has Ended

AUSTIN – The COVID-related waiver on expiration dates for driver licenses (DLs) and identification cards (IDs) has now ended. The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) continues to urge customers with an expired DL or ID to make an appointment or renew online today.

To assist customers with expired licenses who were unable to schedule an appointment prior to the waiver ending, DPS implemented a new procedure allowing them to request a temporary driving permit that will remain valid until their appointment date. For additional details on that process, please visit the DPS website.

The expiration waiver, originally granted by Governor Greg Abbott in March 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic, applied to DLs, commercial DLs, commercial learner permits, ID cards and election identification certificates that expired on or after March 13, 2020.

Driving with an expired license

The department cannot determine what action a law enforcement officer or the court may take if someone is stopped while driving with an expired license as both have discretion in these matters. That is why the department continues to encourage anyone with an expired DL to make a renewal appointment now and apply for the temporary driving permit in order to stay in compliance.

Many Texans are eligible to skip the trip to the office entirely by renewing their DL or ID card or changing their address online at Texas.gov. As of April 1, 2021, there were approximately 858,000 expired driver licenses in the DPS system. Of those, roughly 130,700 are eligible to renew online. Customers can also renew by phone at 1-866-DL-RENEW (1-866-357-3639). The requirements and cost for online and phone renewal are the same as in-person transactions. (When you schedule an appointment, you will be notified if you are eligible to renew online.)

To assist customers needing in-office DL services, designated high-volume offices continue offering expanded hours from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Scheduling an appointment

A reminder that all services at driver license offices are now conducted by appointment only. To schedule an appointment or check availability, visit the online appointment scheduler. If you are unable to find an appointment at the office of your choice, check back for availability at that office or other locations nearby. Please check often as availability does change.

If you are unable to make your scheduled appointment, please reschedule or cancel ahead of time. While the department is working to serve as many customers as possible, people not showing up for their appointments continues to be a major obstacle. The appointment system, which debuted in May 2020, is designed to provide additional convenience, reducing the time Texans wait in line. Customers can book appointments for a specific day and time, up to six months in advance, and show up 30 minutes or less before their scheduled time. Customers can check-in using the kiosk inside the office or from their mobile device.

All offices offer a limited number of same-day appointments. These appointments are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Customers who book these appointments can leave the DL office until their designated time.

To ensure a safe environment, COVID-19 protocols have been implemented at DL offices.

Day of the Child El Día de los Niños

What's wonderful about being a child? You have your own special day! In 1998, the U.S. Congress named April 30 as "Day of the Child" - a day to honor kids, to promote their well-being, and to encourage good reading and writing skills. This national celebration borrows from the traditional Mexican holiday, "El Día de los Niños," and is a day for fun, family and friends. What will you be doing on the Day of the Child?

Read the clues to fill in the puzzle with fun community activities:

- Draw and color pictures or _____ and hang them around your community.
- Dress up as your favorite story character and go to a storytelling time at the library or join in a _____ on the street.
- _____ in the park with other families. Join in soccer exercises or fly kites.
- Listen to and _____ to the music of a mariachi band.
- Try _____ cutting, origami, cookie dough art or arts and crafts set up by your school or library.
- Enjoy snacks: apples, cookies, _____, ice cream.
- Go to a children's _____ or fair and try a new activity and a new food.
- Visit your _____ and take out books that are bilingual (written in two languages - English and Spanish).
- Work with your family to be in a menudo _____ contest or other event (hint: think food).
- Hang banners, write _____, put on plays that show what's great about being a kid.
- Watch a _____ show such as "La Cucaracha" (The Cockroach).
- Have a blast with family and friends making a _____ and then breaking it.
- Hear Hispanic _____ read their books aloud.
- Have a Cascarones festival. Learn about their _____ and traditions (confetti-filled eggshells).
- Organize a huge children's tag sale. Give the _____ to a children's organization.
