Lelia Lake man dies in accident on 287

A Donley County man died on US 287 early last Wednesday morning, May 5, near Lelia Lake.

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported that Clayton Shields, age 28, of Lelia Lake pronounced dead on the scene by Justice of the Peace Pat White.

According to DPS Sgt. Cindy Barkley, A 2020 Freightliner truck tractor towing two semi-trailers was southbound on US 287 northwest of the community of Lelia Lake. The vehicle moved from the outside lane to the inside lane due to an emergency vehicle on the outside shoulder. Shields was walking south in the inside lane. The driver of tractor-trailer did not see Shields in the roadway until after he changed lanes and was unable to avoid striking the man.

The accident was investigated by Texas Highway Patrol Troopers.

Senior Citizens plan Bingo night May 20

Small Business Week set in Texas May 9-15

Governor Greg Abbott invites all Texans to celebrate the unique role small businesses play in the economic resurgence in communities throughout the state of Texas as he issued a proclamation officially designating May 9-15 as Small Business Week in Texas.

"An amazing 99.8 percent of businesses in the Lone Star State are small businesses. They are the heart of every Texas community, and their continuing resilience drives local job creation and fuels our mighty economy," said Abbott. "Men and women willing to take a risk, to dig deep into their own pockets and stake their future on an idea, have long written the story of Texas. That pioneering spirit still fuels our shared prosperity today."

Bi-District Champions

The Clarendon Broncos secured the bi-district title last week with a 8-6 victory over Sunray last week in Borger. The Broncos will now face New Deal on May 14 at Tascosa High School for the area championship. See more on page seven.

County denies District Nine request

Donley County Commissioners this week made a final determination on a repeated request by the District Nine Volunteer Fire Department to be recognized and dispatched for fires in the northwestern part of the county.

County Judge John Howard said District Nine volunteers first approached commissioners in August of 2019 about having a designated service area and to be dispatched by 911 to respond to incidents in that area. County officials, however, had questions about the department's equipment and their ability to respond.

Howard said the county did eventually designate a service area for District Nine, north of Howardwick, so that the department could apply for a grant, which he says they did not get.

"That area is already covered by the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department as well as by mutual aid agreements with Groom and McLean," Howard said. "The City of Howardwick Volunteer Fire Department covers that municipal area and a little bit outside of it as well, and Clarendon is dispatched to assist them."

District Nine again approached the county last month requesting to be dispatched to its service area, but the commissioners' court tabled the issue.

This week, Howard said District Nine's representative did not satisfactorily answer questions about the department in terms of water supply, power, funding, and insurance. That led commissioners to unanimously vote not to dispatch fire calls to the District Nine department and to not reconsider the request, the judge said.

"We are very appreciative of volunteer firefighters, people who stand in the breach to protect the lives and property of others," Howard told the Enterprise. "But we also have to think of the county's potential liability in this case."

In other county business, commissioners tabled a request from the Smiley Johnson Municipal Airport Board for financial support, approved travel for training requests from the County Attorney and Precinct 3&4 Justice of the Peace, and approved tax deeds for the City of Howardwick.

Commissioners discussed a proposal to replace aging hot water heaters in the Courthouse but took no action pending further proposals.

The court also discussed soliciting bids to repair paint, plaster, and woodwork damaged by a water leak earlier this year.

Judge Howard said a dehumidifier has been reinstalled in the vault of his office and has pulled out about 70 gallons of water in the last week. Restoration will likely not proceed until more moisture is pulled from the 1890 building. The county will then seek a general contractor to oversee repairs to the building.

Representatives of the NRCS addressed the commissioners' court Monday regarding Lakeview Site 1 - Sandy Camp and a conservation dam built in 1974 that is leaking and is under the care of the county. Howard said the federal government will be undertaking repairs on that dam that will cost an estimated $1 million.

District court hears five pleas

Five pleas were heard when the 100th Judicial District Court met in Clarendon last Thursday, May 6, via the internet-based meeting app Zoom.

District Attorney Luke Inman, along with Assistant District Attorney Harley Caudle, prosecuted the case for the State of Texas, with the Honorable Judge Stuart Messer presiding.

Christopher Ray Weatherton, 25, of Childress, was sentenced to six years in prison for the third-degree felony offense of assault family violence, enhanced.

Following his arrest on September 16, 2017, Weatherton was initially placed on probation for three years on June 11, 2018. The State filed a motion asking the Court to revoke Weatherton's probation on October 1, 2020, based upon his violation of certain conditions of his probation.

At the hearing on Thursday, Weatherton admitted to violating probation, and Messer sentenced him to six years in prison.

John Robert McAllister, 39, of Memphis, was placed on five years' probation for the second-degree felony offense of credit or debit card abuse against the elderly. McAllister was arrested by Memphis Police Sergeant David Yochum on January 26.

McAllister was also ordered to pay a $400 fine to Hall County, $3,656.92 in restitution, $305 in court costs, and complete 300 hours of community service. If his probation is revoked, McAllister faces up to 20 years in prison.

Amanda Renee Klinekole, 43, of Childress, was placed on four years' probation for the third-degree felony offense of injury to a child. Klinekole was arrested by Childress Police Officer Manda Carrizales on January 22.

Klinekole was also ordered to pay a $4,000 fine to Childress County, $340 in court costs, and complete 200 hours of community service. If her probation is revoked, Klinekole faces up to 10 years in prison.

Regino Martinez Gonzalez, 50 from Dallas, was placed on two years' probation for the class A misdemeanor offense of possession of marijuana. Gonzalez was arrested in Carson County by DPS Trooper Micah Goodrich on January 25.

Gonzalez was also ordered to pay an upfront fine of $4,000 to Carson County, $340 in court costs, $180 drug lab restitution and complete 100 hours of community service. If his probation is revoked, Gonzalez faces up to one year in the Carson County Jail.

Orion Sidwell Greer, 30 from Columbia, Tenn., was placed on two years' probation for the class A misdemeanor offense of unlawful use of a criminal instrument. Greer was arrested in Carson County by DPS Trooper David Stambaugh on November 7, 2020.

Greer was also ordered to pay an upfront fine of $4,000 to Carson County, $340 in court costs, $180 drug lab restitution and complete 100 hours of community service. If his probation is revoked, Greer faces up to one year in the Carson County Jail.

City offers passes for new pool

The grand opening of the Clarendon Aquatic Center is just over two weeks away, and City Hall says annual passes will go on sale to the public next week.

Annual passes will allow frequent users of the facility to save money over the course of the summer. Day passes will cost $5 for everyone over the age of 17, $4 for ages 4-17, and free for ages three and under. Annual passes are $100 per individual and $250 for a family of up to four members and $50 for each additional household family member.

City Administrator David Dockery also encourages anyone wishing to plan a birthday party or other event after regular hours to please call City Hall right away at 806-874-3438 to get on the calendar so that lifeguards can be scheduled appropriately. Parties can be scheduled at the aquatic center after hours at a rate of $125 per hour.

The center will be open regularly from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday and will be closed on Mondays. Private parties can be planned after hours, and the city is working with the Donley County Senior Citizens on the potential for senior events during the morning hours, and other morning-only activities are being discussed as well.

An invitation-only grand opening reception for donors and others who made the aquatic center possible is being planned for Friday, May 28, and regular hours will begin Saturday, May 29, in time for the Memorial Day weekend.

Dockery said Trinity Cavanaugh will serve the manager for the aquatic center and 12 people have now successfully completed training to serve as lifeguards at the facility.

This week, work is underway to curb and pave the center's parking lot, and the city is also planning to resurface the paving on Kearney Street along the aquatic center from Fourth Street to Sixth Street.

Looking back at university leadership

By Walter Wendler, West Texas A&M University President and John Sharp, Texas A&M University System Chancellor

Some university leaders have had a transformative impact on their institutions and, in turn, the larger community. Leadership excellence is leadership excellence, no matter how, where or when it occurs. Earl Rudder at Texas A&M University lead transformative change that helped turn an undergraduate military school into a leading world university; the seeds of his effort continue to germinate. He was fearless and committed to forward-looking change, and it happened. Clark Kerr at the University of California envisioned a state-wide organization that provided an unparalleled opportunity to thousands of Californians in three different kinds of higher education settings, and it happened. Theodore M. Hesburgh at Notre Dame recognized that a university could, and indeed should, impact the world through the application of deep principles of his faith in the public square that recognized the power of the University as a beacon for the larger social order, and it happened. Leadership does not stop there, however. Joseph A. Hill at West Texas A&M University held deep principles that informed every university decision made in response to the power of the Panhandle, and it happened.

President Hill led West Texas State University beginning in 1918 and concluded his tenure in 1948. The greatest depression in modern history, the greatest war the world had ever experienced, and the birth pains of a social revolution in the life of the American Experiment did not deter him. Hill repeatedly stressed the importance and power of individual responsibility that coupled the exercise of responsibility to results. Many contemporary forces seek to transfer responsibility from individual to state. Hill and other university leaders “worth their salt” exercised transparent guidance through principle-driven leadership.

Texas A&M University President Earl Rudder was singularly committed to purpose and rugged individualism in everything he did. According to Thomas Hatfield, “He was simply an authentic person who had a calling in his life. He was very purposeful, with values that were as firm as his character. He was one of the greatest citizen soldiers.”

Hill didn’t believe in social guarantees but a level ground that provided an opportunity to all. Other than fairness, guarantees can become thieves of the human spirit, grievously robbing men and women of aspiration. Nothing undermines a free society more than actions that diminish personal aspiration. Hard work and determination were the cornerstones of Hill’s perspective that recognized this reality: Not everybody gets a blue ribbon. Emotional toughness is essential.

Hill identified the importance of free moral agency and free thought as part of the university experience. In a speech entitled “Educational Implications of The American Theory of Government,” before the annual conference of County Superintendents and County Supervisors at The A&M College of Texas, July 29, 1935, he made this prescient observation: “A fact of first importance in the democratic theory is the capacity, the right, and the responsibility of the individual.” He went on to state, “The Declaration of Independence proclaims, among other things, that every human being has measureless capacity for the abundant life; that he has an inalienable right to the opportunity to attain it; and that he is under heavy obligation to the society that makes this attainment possible. Not one of these three elements of the American system can be omitted without serious danger to our whole governmental and social structure.”

Eighty years ago, voices cautioned all regarding a shift from individual responsibility and accountability towards holding the state accountable for individual outcomes. There was legitimate fear that Jefferson’s free moral agency, Hill’s rugged individualism, and Rudder’s emotional toughness would imperceptibly disappear. Personal responsibility could not, and cannot, be bartered away for material prosperity or social guarantees. Such thought rots the core of the American dream and the value of a university experience.

Rudder and Hill recognized human nature’s darkness and light. Self-interest in isolation, or personal progress attained by toil and treasure in varying degrees, is neither good nor bad. Rather, as noted by Adam Smith in The Theory of Moral Sentiments, while people serve their interests first, they also seek to serve a greater social good. Smith declared, “How selfish soever man may be supposed, there are evidently some principles in his nature, which interest him in the fortunes of others, and render their happiness necessary to him, though he derives nothing from it, except the pleasure of seeing it The greatest ruffian, the most hardened violator of the laws of society, is not altogether without it.”

Hill and Rudder combined the very best of these traits from different perches that helped, and continue to help, shape higher education in Texas in ways that have lasting impacts. Presidents Kerr and Hesburgh had nothing on either. These traditions will continue to guide West Texas A&M University and The Texas A&M University System, married in their pursuits of excellence in service to our state.

The original sons of Katie Elder

To those familiar with the movie, “The Sons of Katie Elder” starring John Wayne and Dean Martin, it might be interesting to know that the movie was based on real people living just outside the town of Ridgway in Ouray County, Colorado. Katie Elder was really Martha Jane Marlow who is buried in a small private grave at the far end of Billy Creek in Ouray County.

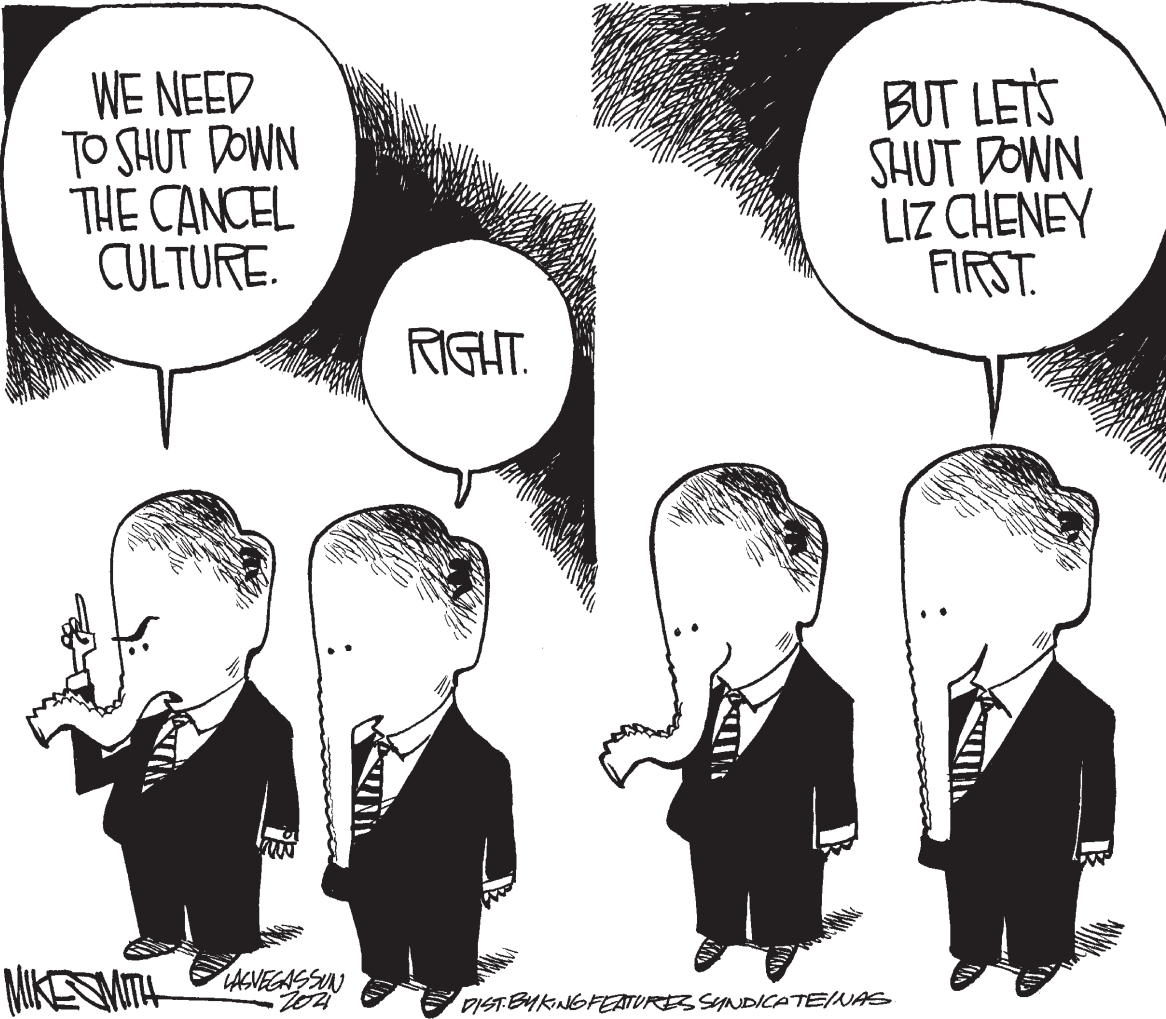

Martha had five sons who were pursued and hunted from Texas to California on charges based on false evidence. In the process, three of the sons were murdered. After finally proving their innocence, Martha and her remaining two sons, George and Charles, came in 1888 to Ridgway hoping to settle down. They purchased 160 acres of land, and the boys opened a blacksmith shop in town.

For three years they were respected and well-liked citizens of the area. Then on a fateful day in June of 1891, two Texas Rangers stepped off a train in Ridgway with the intent of arresting George and Charles and taking them back to Texas for complicity in the killing of a Sheriff Wallace by their brother, Boone Marlow. J. H. Bradley, sheriff of Ouray County and a friend of the Marlows, went to the Marlow’s cabin and advised them to come with him to have a talk with the Rangers. George and Charles made it clear that they would not go back to Texas unless they had “fifty strong armed government men” for protection.

The legendary pie lady of Flynn, Texas

When Kelly Storey was growing up in Houston her mother taught her to make pies. Now Kelly has a pie shop in Flynn, a small community near Centerville.

“I do six different kinds of chess pies and 4 different kinds of meringue pies,” says Kelly. “Then we start in with pecan and other types of pies: caramel, strawberry, rhubarb, butterscotch and so forth. The best seller is coconut cream hands down. The second is buttermilk and buttermilk pecan. People ask me if I make all these pies myself and I tell them yes. They’ll ask me how I do it and I say one by one. Every pie is an extension of me. They’re like my children.”

She worked in law offices for 40 years but always dreamed of owning a pie business. When she bought ten acres of land in the country she started making pies.

“I took a piece of plywood and make a tacky sign with the words Homemade Pies on it and put it by the road every Sunday. My house sits near the road where the sign is and I’d sit on the porch and wait for a car to stop. Then I’d haul pies down there. I baked all day Saturday.”

She has a café that is open Thursdays through Sundays. During the pandemic she shut down her dining room but that didn’t stop customers from coming.

“They started bringing card tables and chairs and telling me ‘we miss you.’ They’ll sit outside and I’ll serve them pie under the shade trees in my picnic area. I’ll carry the coffee pot out there and give everybody an extra splash of coffee. I have these two crazy donkeys that’ll stand there and watch people eat and bray at them.”

She just serves breakfast now (yummy cinnamon rolls). Later she might resume serving lunch (a glass of

Otherwise, they were sure they would never be allowed to return home.

The citizens of Ridgway rallied around the Marlows and let it be known that if the Texas Rangers wanted George and Charles, they had better send 2,000 men instead of two. The Marlows appealed by telegram to the governor of Colorado who immediately wired back that they were under his protection. The two Rangers returned to Texas empty-handed. Shortly thereafter, George and Charles were cleared of all charges in federal courts.

The next year, in 1892, George and Charles became deputies to the county sheriff. They spent the rest of their lives in Ridgeway, loved and respected by all.

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting May 11, 2021, with Boss Lion Landon Lambert wielding the gavel.

We had 16 Lions and Sweetheart Aubrey Jaramillo present this week and again livestreamed our meeting over the club's Facebook page.

Lion Larry Capranica led in singing "Home on the Range," and Lion Pam Hill updated the club at the public school where softball finished their season at the area playoff game, the Broncos are playing Friday, testing is underway, and there are just six days left on the count down for the end of school.

Lion Sandy Childress said things are going great in "The 'Wick," where plans are being made for the annual Hoedown, and Lion Scarlet Estlack said the college completed five graduation ceremonies last week and registration is underway from summer classes.

Lion David Dockery said 12 lifeguards have passed their training for the aquatic center, and the staff is set for the opening of the facility Memorial Day weekend.

The Boss Lion reported on the county criminal docket conducted via Zoom and warned everyone about scam phone calls claiming to be from Amazon. If you receive a call claiming to be from Amazon, hang up, because it's just someone trying to gain access to your accounts.

The 2021 flag service was discussed, and Lions began signing up to set out and pick up flags on six major holidays starting with Memorial Day. The club along with local Scouts BSA and Cub Scouts will be taking responsibility for placing flags at Citizens Cemetery during Memorial Day and Veterans Day and will be working with former members of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary to continue that service. Lion Capranica reported that the VFW Post is now officially dissolved, and the club voted to partner with Scouts BSA Troops 433/4433 to continue the VFW's service of having a repository box for flags in need of retirement.

Officers were elected for the 2021-2022 year as follows: Boss Lion Landon Lambert, First Vice President David Dockery, Second Vice President George Hubbard, Third Vice President Sandy Childress, Sec./Treas. Roger Estlack, Tail Twister Jacob Fangman, Lion Tamer Bobbie Thornberry, Songleader Larry Capranica, and 5K Chair Ashlee Estlack. Officers will begin their new terms in July.

There being no further business, we were adjourned to spread Lionism and good cheer throughout our fair county.

Special dinner honors Mom on Mothers Day

Last weekend was a very full weekend for my family, and the first thing we had to do was work on my Eagle Scout project.

For my Eagle Scout project, I'm putting up signs around the cemetery to show where different cemetery sections are. These signs are going to be like street signs but will have the section numbers. We went to the cemetery Saturday to clean up trash; and while we were there, we decided to mark where every sign will be.

After that, we celebrated

Mother's Day with my mom, and I just wanted to say thank you to her for everything that she does for me and my family. To thank her I decided to cook her something special, so I got a beef tenderloin and made it into Filet Mignon. I mainly wanted to write this article in dedication to her. I don't know how to thank her enough for all she does.

Deaths of Texans not wearing seat belts spikes

AUSTIN – Despite a drop in the number of traffic crashes throughout the year, 2020 saw a spike in the number of fatalities overall and deaths of people in Texas from not wearing a seat belt. That’s why TxDOT is reminding everyone that buckling up is the best defense in a crash.

Last year, the simple act of buckling up saved many Texans from death or serious injury in crashes. Unfortunately, in 2020 there was a 16 percent increase in deaths of unbuckled motorists. There were 1,073 fatalities in 2020 and 926 fatalities in 2019 due to people not wearing seat belts.

Putting on a seat belt only takes a few seconds and doing so reduces the risk of dying by up to 45 percent for people in the front seat of passenger cars and up to 60 percent for people in pickup trucks.

“This past year we have all been reminded of the simple acts we can take to protect our lives and those of our loved ones,” said TxDOT Executive Director James Bass. “Wearing a seat belt is the most important step we can take to protect ourselves from serious injury or even death in a traffic crash. Instead of putting yourself and others in danger, remember: buckle up day and night, every rider, every ride.”

Research shows pickup truck drivers and passengers continue to lag in seat belt use. Close to half of all pickup drivers killed in crashes last year in Texas were not wearing a seat belt. Additionally, people driving at night wear their seat belt less often, even though it’s a more dangerous time to drive. Last year, 59 percent of all crashes in which unbuckled drivers or passengers died occurred at night.

From May 24 to June 6, as the summer driving season starts and families head out to celebrate Memorial Day, Texas officers and deputies will step up enforcement of the state’s seat belt and child car seat laws. Texas law requires everyone in a vehicle to be properly secured in the front or back seat or face fines and fees up to $200. Children younger than 8 years old must be restrained in a child safety seat or booster seat unless they are taller than 4 feet, 9 inches. If a child isn’t secured, the driver faces fines of up to $250.

From 2002 to 2019, the Click It or Ticket initiative in Texas is estimated to have saved more than 6,000 lives, prevented more than 100,000 serious injuries, and resulted in $23.6 billion in economic savings, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The Click It or Ticket campaign is a key component of #EndTheStreakTX, a broader social media and word-of-mouth effort that encourages drivers to make safer choices while behind the wheel such as wearing a seat belt, driving the speed limit, never texting and driving, and never driving under the influence of alcohol or other drugs. November 7, 2000 was the last deathless day on Texas roadways. #EndTheStreakTX asks all Texans to commit to driving safely to help end the streak of daily deaths on Texas roadways. For more information, contact Public Information Officer Ginger Wilson at 940-937-7288.

Larry Gatlin to headline Medicine Mounds Gathering

Larry Gatlin, country singer known for his work with the Grand Ole’ Opry and the Gatlin Brothers, will perform live in concert in Quanah on Friday, June 18 in a fundraiser for the Quanah Parker Society.

Gatlin is one part of the first annual Quanah Parker Medicine Mounds Gathering, a music and culture festival scheduled for June 17-20 in Quanah and at the Medicine Mounds near there. Tickets in the 716-seat high school auditorium range from $40-$75, with a separate meet-and-greet ticket available for $50. For tickets and a full schedule, see: quanahparkermedicinemounds.com.

The Medicine Mounds, four dolomite mounds southeast of Quanah, are culturally significant to many Comanche, and to the descendants of Quanah Parker. Parker, of the Quahada band of Comanches, was the son of Chief Peta Nocona and Cynthia Ann Parker, who had been captured from her family’s log fort in Comancheria in 1836. He is considered the last Comanche chief. The Quanah Parker Society (quanahparker.org) is hosting the Gathering, a 4-day event June 17-20 that allows public access to the mounds, celebrates Comanche culture, offers a variety of live music, highlights the history of the area, and includes a 5K Spirit Run and 1 Mile Walk on Saturday morning.

Primitive campsites (RV, tent, or tipi) are available at the Mounds for the duration of the event (8 a.m. Thursday to 2 p.m. Sunday) for $50. Visitors to the Mounds will have the opportunity to climb a mound but must register and leave identification before setting out.

Dancing and drumming begin at 2 p.m., Thursday, June 17 at the Mounds. Festivities in Quanah begin at 5 p.m. with free, live music at 2nd and Mercer Streets, downtown. The musical guests for this Gathering Kickoff Event are Monica Taylor, Travis Fite, Jared Tyler, and Casey Van Beek. Comanche fry bread and other food will be available for purchase. At 8 p.m., the Mounds will host men’s and women’s sweat lodges (reservation required) and a campfire gathering under the stars with stories, drums, and live music. In Quanah, the “Friends of Quanah Parker Music Jam” will take place at the Old Bank Saloon at 8 p.m..

On Friday, June 18, a free breakfast at the Quanah Country Club should fuel an attendee’s day (reservation required), and opening ceremonies will be held at the Hardeman County Courthouse at 9:30 a.m., featuring the Quanah Parker family, along with Comanche drummers, musicians, and dancers. Friday afternoon will feature Comanche culture seminars in the Quanah High School auditorium, and presentations and demonstrations at the Mounds campsite area. The Meet and Greet with Larry Gatlin begins at 6 p.m. (ticket required; 50 people max), with The Red Dirt Rangers and Darby Sparkman playing at 6:30. Gatlin, known for his hit songs “Broken Lady,” “All the Gold in California,” “Houston (Means I’m One Day Closer to You),” “I Just Wish You Were Someone I Love,” “Night Time Magic,” and many more, takes the stage at 7:30 p.m.. Immediately following the concert, an “After Concert Jam” at the Old Bank Saloon in downtown Quanah will keep the music flowing until midnight. At the Mounds, sweat lodges continue on Friday night, and there will be another campfire gathering with stories, drums, and live music.

At 8 a.m. Saturday morning (June 19), a “Spiritual Journey to the Medicine Mound” takes place.

Everyone is invited to the base of the Medicine Mound for a ceremony from 8:30 to 9 a.m.. At 9 a.m., those who have registered (maximum 100), will have the opportunity to have their own “Spiritual Journey” to the top of the Medicine Mound, followed by a small ceremony at the top at 9:30. Please register for the journey, and for all ticketed events, at quanahparkermedicinemounds.com. Runners and walkers may want to participate in the QPS 5K Spirit Run or 1 Mile Walk, both starting at 8 a.m. at 210 Mercer St. in Quanah. The registration fee is $25 for either event. From 1-5 p.m., a series of local/regional history presentations will be held at the Quanah High School Auditorium, while free live music will be available in the 3 Rivers Ballroom in downtown Quanah. Travis Komacheet and Friends will play in the 3 Rivers Ballroom beginning at 7 p.m. (free), and at 9 p.m. there will be more free, live music with Jason Swindell and Hillbilly Weed outdoors in downtown Quanah.

Saturday night at the Mounds, sweat lodges will be held, and there will be a campfire gathering with stories, drums, and live music beginning at 9:30 p.m..

Throughout the event, food trucks and vendors will be located in downtown Quanah and at the Medicine Mounds campsite. They will be serving native Comanche fry bread and Indian tacos, buffalo burgers, barbeque, Mexican food, and Cajun specialties.

You can register for the event, see a full detailed schedule with times, performers, and additional events as they are finalized, and volunteer to help at quanahparkermedicinemounds.com. Donations and memberships are also accepted online.

Broncos grab bi-district trophy

By Sandy Anderberg

The Clarendon Broncos are moving on to New Deal in the Area Round on May 14 at Tascosa after their big win in Borger over Sunray last week. The Broncos fought back and dug themselves out of a hole in the first game after Sunray took the early lead. Clarendon won that game 8-6.

After scoring four runs in the first inning, the Bobcats went cold and the Broncos took advantage by evening out the game at four all in the second. Both teams posted a run in the third and went scoreless in the fourth. With the game tied at five, Jared Musick hit a critical single that scored one run and the Broncos would score another before that inning was done. The Broncos added one more in the sixth to get to a comfortable spot to secure the win.

Aiden Caudle has been strong all year on the mound and this game was no exception as he allowed only two hits and six runs in six and a third innings while posting 11 Sunray strikeouts. Harrison Howard came on to finish the game and earn the save for the Broncos.

The Broncos had 14 hits in the game with Howard, Brock Hatley, Jordan Herndon, and Koyt Tucek slammung multiple hits. Hatley and Howard each collected three hits in the game. Herndon, who has been speedy around the bases, led the way with two stolen bases of the nine that the Broncos recorded.

The Broncos took on Sunray in the second game on Saturday and earned a big 18-7 win. The Broncos posted nine hits in the game with only three errors. Sunray struggled at the plate to put runs on the bard and committed 18 errors in the field. The Broncos were able to capitalize on those errors to get the win.

A huge fourth inning proved to be golden for the Broncos as they scored nine runs to seal the win and earn the Bi-District title. The Bobcats tried to come back that same inning, but the Broncos handled the pressure and went the distance.

Hatley was on the mound for five innings for the Broncos and earned the win. Hatley only allowed four hits and struck out eight hitters. Levi Gates came in for one inning to relieve Hatley.

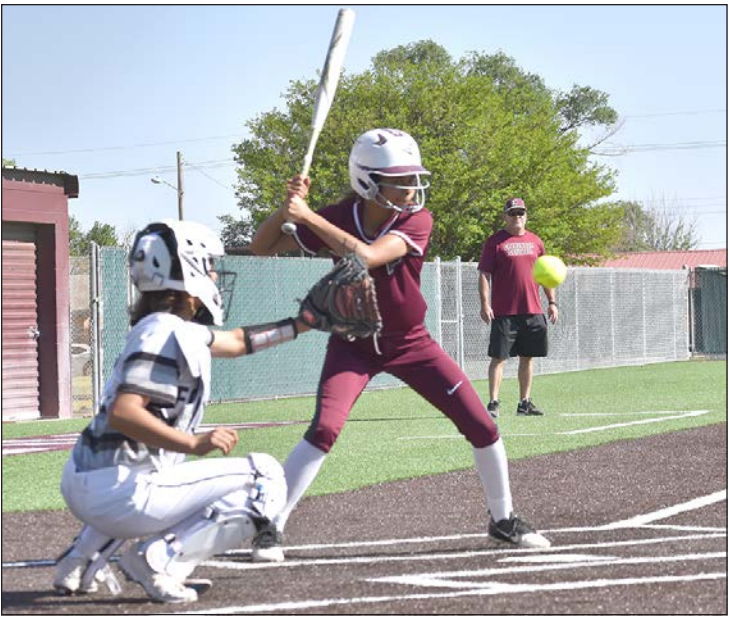

Big hitters for the Broncos were Easton Frausto, Calder Havens, Herndon, Lyric Smith, Caudle, Howard, and Hatley who all had several hits. The Broncos collected 20 stolen bases on the day with Smith claiming five of them.

The Broncos will play New Deal at Tascosa on May 14 at 5:00 p.m. There will be only one game.

Lady Broncos' season ends at the hands of Forsan

By Sandy Anderberg

The Lady Broncos have rebounded solidly this year after a short season last year and made the playoffs after missing a couple of years. They went up against a good Forsan team and were defeated in the best of three series.

The ladies played hard in the first game on Thursday but struggled to get hits late in the game falling 2-19. Forsan put up a run in each of the first two innings, before the Lady Broncos were able to touch Homeplate. One of the scores came when senior Aubrey Jaramillo grounded out but made the path home easy for the runner. The third inning was disastrous for the Lady Broncos as Forsan knocked down 15 runs to pull away.

Madi Smith was on the mound and took the loss. She allowed seven hits and struck out two. Jentrye Bellar stayed strong at the plate going three for three. Clarendon finished the game with two runs, five hits, and seven errors.

The Lady Broncos regrouped after the first loss to face off against Forsan in game two. They had their bats going in the game but fell short to cause a game three. They were defeated 6-11 to end their season.

Defensively, the Lady Broncos were sharp and ready in the opening two innings but allowed Forsan nine runs over the next two innings while remaining scoreless until the sixth.

Once again, Bellar had her bat going and had a big hit to get things rolling in the sixth. Bellar went deep in the seventh to post a home run. But it was not enough for the ladies as they took the loss racking up 12 hits and only three errors.

Bailey Bruce took the loss for Clarendon allowing 12 hits and 11 runs over six innings. Bellar, Ashlynn Crawford, and Bruce had multiple hits with Bellar leading the way with three hits in four at bats.

Bronco Brock Hatley slides into home last week during the Broncos big win over Sunray in Borger. The Broncos will play New Deal on Friday at 5:00 p.m. at Tascosa.

Fresh! At the Farmers' Market!

Read the clues to fill in the puzzle:

You can't buy fresher fruits and vegetables than those at the farm or the farmers' market! I love buying my berries, peaches and apples there!

Oooooooo...pie!

Have you ever been to a farmers' market? It is a place where farmers bring, set up and sell their fruits, vegetables, potted plants and baked goods.

Most of these markets are held once a week, often at fairgrounds or in parking lots. Some people like to go to the market because they enjoy talking with other shoppers and asking farmers about their products. Others enjoy being outside where their children can play a little and help to choose and buy items.

There are many sights at the farmers' market. Read the clues to fill in the crossword:

1. green and yellow _____ piled high
2. home-baked _____
3. _____ for weighing food
4. straw _____ for cooling heads
5. _____ giving shade
6. _____ talking and selling

‘The Handle: Living While Black’ free online event

Panhandle PBS is hosting an online viewing and panel discussion event on its “Living While Black” content series at 6 p.m. Thursday, May 13. Visit panhandlepbs.org/livingwhileblack or the station’s Facebook events page to RSVP and take part.

Content discussed will be moving towards racial equity, with Black residents from Amarillo sharing their thoughts on how we can’t “stay in the same comfortable setting and make change.” Moderator Karen Welch of Panhandle PBS will lead discussion with interviewees Patrick Miller and Melodie Graves alongside video content from the “Living While Black” series.

Part of the station’s local newsmagazine, “The Handle,”

“Living While Black” is a product of extensive research and more than 20 hours of interviews. Local residents, Black and biracial people of different ages and backgrounds, sat down with Welch to tell their personal stories and experiences in the Texas Panhandle and beyond. One theme remained universal: We have to learn to listen to each other.

Content from “Living While Black” is available on the Panhandle PBS website, YouTube channel and other social media platforms. The series is presented by Bank of America. Education support is provided by the Equity Fund, an Amarillo Area Foundation Community Collaboration. Visit panhandlepbs.org/livingwhileblack or call 806-371-5479 for information.
