DCSC hosting 'That Senior Thang' Saturday

The excitement is building as "That Senior Thang" prepares to hit Clarendon this Saturday evening, August 21, with activities, food, and fun for people of all ages.

With proceeds benefiting the Donley County Senior Citizens Center, organizers have lined up live music, free games, food vendors, competitions, a country store, Chicken Drop Bingo, a 50/50 raffle, and more to have something to do for people of all ages.

"I'm excited," DCSC Director Denise Bertrand said. "Our volunteers are coming in, we have a lot of items coming to our country store, and our 50/50 raffle is up to $2,200, which means we'll give away more than $1,000!"

Bertrand also said the silent auction is generating a lot of cool items, including a Harold Bugbee print from the Saints' Roost Museum and some collectible model cars.

"We have school athletes coming to help, the COEA is bringing in tables for us, the Lions Club will be volunteering, and so will the Christian Mothers from Saint Mary's Catholic Church," Bertrand said.

In addition to coverage in the Enterprise, Bertrand said she has talked to a reporter from NewsChan-nel 10 about the event and also been on the air on KLSR radio.

Saturday's fundraiser starts with the sale of barbecue chicken halves from noon to 1:00 p.m. No advance orders are being taken for the chicken, Bertrand says. It will simply be a "first come, first served" sale with pick up and go. Any chicken halves that don't sell from noon to 1:00 will be available at the country store that evening.

The "Thang" itself will start at 5:00 p.m. and run until 10 o'clock.

Bertrand says people are welcome to wear face coverings at the event and masks will be available for free.

Hand sanitizing stations will also be provided courtesy of the Donley County Extension Office.

Competitions will include water balloon volleyball, watermelon seed spitting, wheelchair races, jalapeno eating, red Solo cup stacking, a crazy bike challenge, and Texas skis.

Among the free activities will be water polo, ring toss, corn hole, ladder ball, horseshoes, a roping dummy, and dominoes.

Concessions will be available with barbecue beef sandwiches, pulled pork sandwiches, hot dogs, homemade ice cream, watermelon, and jalapeno poppers.

The entire community is invited and encouraged to attend and participate in That Senior Thang. A complete description and list of activities is available on "That Senior Thang's" event page, which can be found at Facebook.com/DonleyCountySeniorCitizens.

Sponsors for "That Senior Thang" are A Fine Feathered Nest, Flying A Tack, Howard Farms, Road Runner Home Health, Broken Road Jr. Liquor Store, Shonda's Snack Shack, Clarendon Bicycle Club, Estlack Bantams, VFW Post 7782 Auxiliary, Clarendon VFD, Trinity Steel, and Saints' Roost Cottage.

Library caretakers

A librarian reunion was held as part of the Burton Memorial Library's celebration of its 40th anniversary in its current facility last Wednesday, August 11. Shown here are librarians Mary Green (1994-1999), Annis Stavenhagen (1982-1987), Carolyn Blackerby (1999-2003), Diane Skelton (1987-1991), and Jerri Shields (2003-present). Several citizens attended the celebration and enjoyed displays prepared by the Friends of the Library documenting the history of the facility over the last four decades, including the move of the library from the old City Hall building to temporary quarters in the Courthouse, and finally to its present location.

Clinic reports seven active COVID cases

Seven people have active cases of COVID-19 in Donley County this week, according to the Clarendon Family Medical Center.

That figure is down one from last week, but officials say the total positive cases for August now stands at 16 as cases continue to rise in the Panhandle region.

Amarillo Public Health Director Casie Stoughton said last Tuesday that 98 patients were hospitalized for COVID in area facilities at that time, 50 of those patients were in the ICU, and 30 were on ventilators.

CFMC spokesperson Marsha Bruce says there have now been 395 total positive cases of the disease confirmed at the local clinic since the pandemic began more than one year ago. A total of 1,587 COVID-19 tests have been performed at the clinic with 1,192 negative results.

As always, it is important to note that those figures do not count Donley County residents who test positive for the disease at other facilities, such as regional hospitals or other clinics.

The Moderna vaccine is available at no charge at the local clinic for everyone ages 18 and over. The Pfizer vaccine is available in Amarillo for children ages 12 and over.

The Texas Tribune reports this week that overall only 28.2 percent of Donley County residents – a total of 944 people – are fully vaccinated as of August 17.

City sales tax figures slip with August allocation

Sales tax figures slipped slightly for the City of Clarendon when Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar distributed August allocations last week.

Clarendon's sales tax income dropped 4.55 percent for the month with revenues of $47,414.75 down from $49,677.44 last year at this time.

The city is still ahead for the calendar year-to-date, up 11.41 percent at $318,271.94 compared to $285,652.67 at this point in 2020.

Clarendon has seen record sales tax revenues this year for three months – February, March, June, and July.

The August allocation also marks 13 straight months of sales tax revenue increases for the City of Clarendon.

Hedley was up significantly for the month at $3,170.18, compared to $1,383.01 last August, and is now running 28.67 percent ahead for the calendar year-to-date at $9,490.31.

Howardwick was also up 4.98 percent at $1,823.48 for August and is now up 9.64 percent for the year at $12,902.60.

Statewide, Hegar delivered $1.07 billion in local sales tax allocations for August, 17.4 percent more than in August 2020.

These allocations from the comptroller are based on sales made in June by businesses that report tax monthly and on sales made in April, May and June by quarterly filers.

How cool is that

Apparently its cooler sometimes to stash your cash under the fridge than to bank the dough or stuff it under your mattress, at least in South Korea. A fellow who lives on the South Korean island of Jeju purchased a secondhand refrigerator online recently and got a potentially happy surprise when it was delivered-- the equivalent of $130,000 taped to the underside, reports the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. It turns out that South Korea has a law that requires the finder to try and locate the original owner before he or she can claim a find such as this. The Korea Times reports that people started hoarding their cash under their refrigerators some time ago due to record low interest rates.

Escape room fun in Amarillo

This past weekend, my friend's mom got my friends and me a trip to an escape room. I have never done an escape room before. I thought it was going to be easy, and we were just going to get out really fast, but I was very wrong.

We got there and went in to the room, and it was a scary escape room. We got into the room only using one hint. As soon as we got in, my friends and I immediately got a key and opened a box with a clue then we got another box open; and at this point, we had used half of our time up. We then opened a box and got one of the four clues we needed to escape.

Then we had a guy in a clown mask come in and scare us. He wasn't scary, but it was the girls screaming that was scary. Then we asked for more hints and got very close to opening another clue when we ran out of time. They showed us where the other three clues were and how to get them.

After we left, we went to the mall, and later we went swimming and spent the night in Amarillo.

It was a really fun weekend, and I hope we get to do an escape room again because I enjoyed it.

Getting ready for Dog Days of Summer

August – known for the “Dog days of summer,” the Perseid meteor showers, back-to-school-shopping, and the first day of school. We have had some of those Dog Days, hot and muggy.

This is the time of year the brightest star, Sirius, rises and sets at the same time the sun rises and sets which caused the ancient Romans to speculate Sirius added heat to the sunshine.

Since Sirius is part of the constellation Canis Majoris It is known as the Dog Star so logically the Dog Days of Summer.

To view the Perseid meteor shower, cool off during the day and take a nap under the air conditioner so you are prepared to wake up and set up a viewing area under the stars. The best time to see meteors is after midnight to dawn; the peak time passed on Aug. 13 but can still observe some, just not as many. If I understand correctly, school starts this week, Aug. 19, school shopping has probably passed. I hope the air conditioners are all in working order.

Enjoy the last part of August. With September comes changing of the seasons once more. Protect yourself and the children from COVID-19, and God bless our community, and God Bless the USA

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Bison ranching ‘how-to’ now available

The South Dakota State University Center of Excellence for Bison Studies in collaboration with the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service recently published “Getting Started with Bison Ranching” as a guide for ranchers who are considering incorporating the native ruminant to their operation.

This resource was created to highlight the opportunities and challenges that exist for those interested in transitioning to bison ranching, whether they are new to ranching or have a background in ranching other livestock species.

The information covers a variety of topics including herd health, managing rangelands and pasture for bison, economic feasibility and more.

Growing interest in bison ranching

Chase Brooke, the publication’s co-author and AgriLife Extension agriculture and natural resources agent, Collin County, said bison ranching is becoming increasingly popular due to the increased economic profitability that can be achieved compared to other livestock species.

“From an AgriLife Extension mission perspective, we are seeing a growing interest in bison production and the desire for more information. This publication directly addresses that need,” Brooke said. “The learning curve is always steepest at the beginning of something relatively new, and this collaboration with South Dakota State is dedicated to reducing that curve for producers.”

Bison are desirable among ranchers for their economic opportunity but also from a land/resource conservation and sustainability standpoint, he said. The species contributes to rangeland conservation efforts by integrating into native rangeland ecosystems, he said. Having evolved with the native plant species found throughout the Great Plains, bison grazing habits utilize forages more sustainably and maintain long-term forage health.

“The main challenge is that producers cannot treat bison like cattle,” he said. “Their behavior, habits, nutrient needs and facility requirements are different, so making producers aware of the opportunities and challenges related to bison can make potential transitions much smoother.”

Brooke said AgriLife Extension has offered several bison-related programs in various Texas regions and is expected to continue providing educational information and events regarding the species into the future.

South Dakota experiences shared

Jeff Martin, Ph.D., director of research, SDSU Center of Excellence for Bison Studies, said the goal is to show producers and potential producers the similarities and nuanced differences between bison and cattle and how management should reflect those differences.

Brooke and Martin plan to release more bison-related content in the future focused on specific management topics related to the advantages and challenges of bison ranching.

“The Great Plains and Inter-mountain West are home to the historic range of bison distribution and are where the most bison are produced today,” said Martin. “It is likely that new producers will be in or near these regions, so we anticipate that they will also likely need to know about the additional resources being produced out of the Center of Excellence for Bison Studies at South Dakota State University.”

For more information on the article, contact Martin at 605-394-2236 or jeff.martin@sdsstate.edu or Brooke at 972-548-4342 or chase.brooke@ag.tamu.edu.

Social Security expedites decisions for disability benefits

Kilolo Kijakazi, Acting Commissioner of Social Security, has announced 12 new Compassionate Allowances conditions.

Those conditions include Charlevoix Saguenay Spastic Ataxia (ARSACS), Choroid Plexus Carcinoma, CIC-rearranged Sarcoma, Congenital Zika Syndrome, Desmoplastic Mesothelioma, Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy – Adult, Pericardial Mesothelioma, Refractory Hodgkin Lymphoma, Renpenning Syndrome, SCN8A Related Epilepsy with Encephalopathy, SYNGAP1-related NSID, and Taybi-Linder Syndrome.

Compassionate Allowances is an initiative that quickly identifies severe medical conditions and diseases that meet Social Security’s standards for disability benefits.

“Everyone who is eligible for benefits under the programs we administer should receive them,” said Acting Commissioner Kijakazi. “Our Compassionate Allowances program helps us address barriers by helping accelerate the disability application process for people who are likely to get approved for benefits due to the severity of their medical condition.”

The Compassionate Allowances program quickly identifies claims where the applicant’s condition or disease clearly meets Social Security’s statutory standard for disability. Due to the severe nature of many of these conditions, these claims are often allowed based on medical confirmation of the diagnosis alone; for example, certain cancers, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), and a number of rare disorders that affect children. To date, more than 700,000 people with severe disabilities have been approved through this accelerated, policy-compliant disability process, which has grown to a total of 254 conditions.

When a person applies for disability benefits, Social Security must obtain medical records in order to make an accurate determination.

The agency incorporates leading technology to identify potential Compassionate Allowances cases and make quick decisions. Social Security’s Health IT brings the speed and efficiency of electronic medical records to the disability determination process.

With electronic records transmission, Social Security is able to quickly obtain a claimant’s medical information, review it, and make a fast determination.

For more information about the program, including a list of all Compassionate Allowances conditions, please visit www.socialsecurity.gov/compassionateallowances.

TxDOT calls on everyone to keep children safe

AUSTIN – Despite much lower traffic levels around Texas schools due to the pandemic, there were still hundreds of crashes in school zones last year. So as millions of Texas students return to class, the Texas Department of Transportation is reminding drivers to watch out for kids walking and biking to school to keep everyone safe.

Unfortunately, crashes in school zones can and do happen. There were 11 people seriously injured in school zone crashes in 2020, along with 1,214 crashes involving school buses across the state.

The most common causes for these crashes in school zones are failure to control speed, driver inattention, failure to yield the right of way at a stop sign and failure to yield the right of way at a private driveway.

TxDOT is urging drivers to slow down, stay alert and follow all traffic laws to keep children safe and avoid costly fines and tickets.

We all have a responsibility to keep children safe on their way to and from school.

Tips for Driving in School Zones

Be aware that traffic patterns around schools may have changed since the last school year, and expect more vehicles on the road as many students will be returning for the first time since the start of the pandemic.

Stay alert and put your phone away. Using a handheld electronic device while driving in an active school zone is against the law.

Always obey school zone speed limit signs. Remember, traffic fines increase in school zones.

Drop off and pick up your children in your school's designated areas, not the middle of the street.

Keep an eye on children gathered at bus stops.

Watch for children who might dart across the street or between vehicles.

Tips for Drivers Sharing the Road with School Buses

Follow at a safe distance, keeping in mind that school buses make frequent stops.

Always remain alert for children around buses and remember that they may not always look for vehicles before crossing the street.

Stop for flashing red lights or a stop sign on a school bus, regardless of which direction you're headed. Continue your trip once the bus has moved, the flashing lights stop flashing or the bus driver signals it's okay to pass.

Violations can lead to a fine of up to $1,250 for a first offense.

Tips for Children Walking or

Biking to School

Always use sidewalks. If there's not a sidewalk, walk on the left side of the street facing traffic.

Make eye contact with drivers before crossing the street. Never assume a driver sees you.

Look for traffic when stepping off a bus or from behind parked vehicles.

Always wear a helmet when riding a bicycle.

Don't be distracted by electronic devices that take your eyes and ears off the road.

Follow all traffic rules, signs and signals.

"Be Safe. Drive Smart." is a key component of #EndTheStreakTX, a broader social media and word-of-mouth effort that encourages drivers to make safer choices while behind the wheel such as wearing a seat belt, driving the speed limit, never texting and driving and never driving under the influence of alcohol or other drugs. Nov. 7, 2000 was the last deathless day on Texas roadways. #EndTheStreakTX asks all Texans to commit to driving safely to help end the streak of daily deaths.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

A tax rate of $0.244121 per $100 valuation has been proposed by the governing body of Clarendon College.

PROPOSED TAX RATE	$0.244121 per $100
NO-NEW-REVENUE TAX RATE	$0.225901 per $100
VOTER-APPROVAL TAX RATE	$0.244121 per $100

The no-new-revenue tax rate is the tax rate for the 2021 tax year that will raise the same amount of property tax revenue for Clarendon College from the same properties in both the 2020 tax year and the 2021 tax year.

The voter-approval rate is the highest tax rate that Clarendon College may adopt without holding an election to seek voter approval of the rate.

The proposed tax rate is greater than the no-new-revenue tax rate. This means that Clarendon College is proposing to increase property taxes for the 2021 tax year.

A PUBLIC HEARING ON THE PROPOSED TAX RATE WILL BE HELD ON August 24, 2021 AT 6:00 PM AT the VIP room of the Bairfield Activity Center of Clarendon College.

The proposed tax rate is not greater than the voter-approval tax rate. As a result, Clarendon College is not required to hold an election at which voters may accept or reject the proposed tax rate. However, you may express your support for or opposition to the proposed tax rate by contacting the members of the Board of Regents of Clarendon College at their offices or by attending the public hearing mentioned above.

YOUR TAXES OWED UNDER ANY OF THE RATES MENTIONED ABOVE CAN BE CALCULATED AS FOLLOWS:

Property tax amount= (tax rate) x (taxable value of your property)/100

FOR the proposal: Edwin Campbell, James Shelton, Carey Wann, Susie Shields, Dr. Guy Ellis, Tommy Waldrop

AGAINST the proposal: None

PRESENT and not voting: Lon Adams

ABSENT: Ruth Robinson

The 86th Texas Legislature modified the manner in which the voter-approval tax rate is calculated to limit the rate of growth of property taxes in the state.

The following table compares the taxes imposed on the average residence homestead by Clarendon College last year to the taxes proposed to be imposed on the average residence homestead by Clarendon College this year.

	2020	2021	Change
Total tax rate (per $100 of value)	$0.236629	$0.244121	increase of $0.007492, or 3.17%
Average homestead taxable value	$43,971	$45,443	increase of $1,472, or 3.35%
Tax on average homestead	$104.05	$110.94	increase of $6.89, or 6.62%
Total tax levy on all properties	$622,318	$677,263	increase of $54,945, or 8.83%

Interest & Sinking Fund Balance(s)$0

A school district may not increase the district's maintenance and operations tax rate to create a surplus in maintenance and operations tax revenue for the purpose of paying the district's debt service.

When we began our ministry here, our deacons suggested I join the Lions in order to be involved in the community, so I did. Since then, being a Lion has become much more than community presence. Lions membership has given me many opportunities to serve, as well as a way to be acquainted with and fellowship with other community leaders. I am so blessed, and proud, to be a Lion.
