Blood Drive set for Monday at Mulkey

Coffee Memorial Blood Center will hold a community blood drive next Monday, January 31, at the Mulkey Theatre from 2:00 to 5:30 p.m.

Donors can receive a COVID-19 antibody test to detect natural or vaccine response.

Donors will receive a free t-shirt, free movie pass to the Mulkey, and a ticket to an escape room. Mulkey popcorn will also be available.

To schedule an appointment, call 806-331-8833 or visit yourbloodinstitute.org.

Yoga classes start Tuesday at Mulkey

Community Yoga classes taught by Sara SoRelle will be hosted at the Mulkey Theatre starting next Tuesday, February 1.

The cost for the six-week class is $48 per person, and those interested can sign-up for either Tuesdays at 5:15 p.m. or Thursdays at noon. Six people needed for each class to make.

Call 806-663-1465 to sign up or for more information. The classes are perfect for beginners or advanced, and all levels are welcome.

Donley included in USDA disaster area

Local ag producers may be eligible for disaster assistance following an announcement by the USDA last week.

Donley County is listed as one of several counties impacted by drought.

This Secretarial natural disaster designation allows the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) to extend much-needed emergency credit to producers recovering from natural disasters through emergency loans.

Emergency loans can be used to meet various recovery needs including the replacement of essential items such as equipment or livestock, reorganization of a farming operation or the refinancing of certain debts. FSA will review the loans based on the extent of losses, security available and repayment ability.

According to the US Drought Monitor, Donley County and several neighboring counties suffered from a drought intensity value during the growing season of D2 Drought-Severe for eight or more consecutive weeks or D3 Drought-Extreme or D4 Drought-Exceptional.

For more information, visit farmers.gov, the Disaster Assistance Discovery Tool, Disaster Assistance-at-a-Glance fact sheet, and the Farm Loan Discovery Tool can help you determine program or loan options. To ask questions, contact your local USDA Service Center.

CEDC renews grant program for storefronts

A program to help local property owners improve their storefronts was reactivated when the Clarendon Economic Development Corporation Board met on January 11.

The CEDC Traditional Façade Grant Program, as it is now termed, provides fifty-fifty matching grants up to a maximum of $2,000 per project for properties in Clarendon's Central Business District and along the US 287 corridor through the city.

Under the terms of the program, if the total of a project costs $1,500, the CEDC would contribute a maximum of $750. A $4,000 project would be eligible for the maximum of $2,000, and any projects costing more than $4,000 would only be eligible for the maximum of $2,000 of CEDC funds.

The program was originally authorized by the CEDC in 2008 and ran through 2017. During that time, the CEDC awarded 25 façade grants totaling $32,382.04 to property owners in Clarendon, resulting in more than $64,764 in business improvements.

Projects eligible for consideration could be anything from a simple coat of paint to new signage to a complete rehabilitation of a storefront. Projects must be pre-approved by the CEDC board, and the funds will be paid to successful applicants when invoices are submitted for the completed project.

CEDC funds cannot be used for labor costs if the owner, the tenant, or the applicant's employees do the work. In that case, the grant would cover supplies and materials only.

Those interested in applying for the CEDC Traditional Façade

Grant can find the proper application at ClarendonTx.com/FacadeGrants. The CEDC board will consider façade grant applications during its regular meetings on the second Tuesday of the month at 6:00 p.m. at the Clarendon Visitor Center inside the Mulkey Theatre. To be considered, applications need to be turned in by the Friday before that month's meeting.

For property owners interested in larger renovations to historic buildings, the CEDC Historic Façade Grant Program was approved in 2018. The program is more restrictive than the Traditional Façade Grant Program but provides more money to promote heritage tourism while encouraging rehabilitation and preservation of historic properties. The program awards matching funds up to 80 percent of the actual, eligible costs up to a maximum grant of $400 per linear foot of the storefront (i.e. $10,000 for a 25-foot storefront or $20,000 for a 50-foot storefront). Information on CEDC Historic Façade Grants is also available at ClarendonTx.com/FacadeGrants.

Feed the pig!

Jax Vanden Boogaard makes a donation to the Clarendon Pony Parents "Penny Wars" fundraiser Tuesday morning. Elementary classes are booting it out to raise funds for new playground equipment. The elementary playground equipment is about 25 years old and in need of upgrades. This initial fundraiser will run through February 10 with the winning class getting a pizza party and the teacher of that class having to kiss a pig. Donations can be made at the school, through any elementary student, or through Venmo at @PonyParents.

Local property taxes due Jan. 31

The Donley Appraisal District reminding property owners that 2021 property taxes, mailed in October, are due by January 31, 2022, without a late payment penalty.

The amount due increases each month after January until the tax is paid. Accounts unpaid on July 1 will incur a 20 percent collection penalty in addition to the regular penalty and interest of 18 percent. Texas state law prescribes the penalty and interest amounts.

Delinquent notices will be mailed in May to those who still owe 2021 tax at that time. Partial payments will be accepted.

Quarter Payment Plan on Homestead property: If you have an over 65 or disabled exemption or are the surviving spouse of a disabled veteran, you may request to pay your property tax in four equal payments without penalty and interest. To apply, you must pay one-fourth of the total tax due before February 1.

Property owners who did not receive their property tax statements should contact the appraisal district. Failure to receive a tax bill does not affect the accrual of taxes, penalties, and interest on an account.

Taxes are payable by mail with a check or money order to the Donley Appraisal District, PO Box 1220, Clarendon TX 79226. In person payments can be made at 304 S Kearney St, Clarendon, Texas.

Taxes can also be paid online through DCAD's website, www.donleycad.org.

Candidates begin filing for local board seats

Candidates are slowly beginning to line up to run for positions open at seven local governments this year.

Howardwick is leading the candidate count as of Tuesday morning with all three incumbent aldermen signing up for re-election. Those are Mary Grady, Terry Barnes, and Del Essary.

In the City of Clarendon, Alderman Eulaine McIntosh has filed for re-election. The positions of Aldermen John Lockhart and Larry Jeffers are also up this spring.

Hedley Mayor Carrie Butler has filed to run for her seat again. The terms of Hedley Aldermen Tom Carson and Danny Russell are expiring, but they had not filed as of press time.

Clarendon CISD, Hedley CISD, the Clarendon College District, and the Donley County Hospital District also have positions up for election this year, but they had no candidates at press time.

Clarendon CISD has three positions, Hedley CISD has two seats, six seats – three full terms and three partial terms – are up on the Clarendon College board, and the hospital district has four positions.

All local boards are elected at-large, but hospital board candidates must file for a specific place on the board. Candidate applications are available from the administrative offices of each entity.

Filing began January 19 and continues through Friday, February 18. Elections are scheduled to be held Saturday, May 7, 2022.

County GOP candidates forum to be February 10

The Donley County Republican Party is reminding all voters that January 31, 2022, is the deadline to register to vote in this year's primary election on March 1.

The county party will host a Meet & Greet with the Republican candidates for county office on Thursday, February 10, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. at the Bairfield Activity Center.

Early voting in the state primary elections will begin on February 14 and end on February 25. The deadline to apply to vote by mail is February 18.

The county positions up this year are all being sought by Republicans.

Four people are running for one position on the March Republican ballot. Sarah Hatley, Connie Lane Ashley Savage, and Kristen Taylor are running for the Justice of the Peace of Precincts 1 and 2. Incumbent JP Pam Mason resigned her office last month.

The only other competitive race on this year's Republican ballot will be the position of Precinct 4 Commissioner Dan Sawyer, who is being challenged by Brad Dalton.

Other positions are uncontested and those candidates are Judge John Howard, Treasurer Wanda Smith, Clerk Vicky Tunnell, Precinct 2 Commissioner Daniel Ford, and Precinct 3 & 4 Justice of the Peace Pat White.

Former Donley County deputy Randy Bond is also running for Constable of Precincts 3&4, a position that is currently vacant.

Texas Secretary of State John Scott last week encouraged all Texans to be registered to vote.

"Every year, the Secretary of State's Office voluntarily provides voter registration applications to numerous entities, including county election offices, county clerks, public libraries, high school principals, and others," Scott said. "This is in an effort to reach and register as many eligible Texas voters as possible and assist them in exercising their constitutional right to vote."

"While we are not legally required to do so, we do this as a courtesy to Texas voters and those organizations helping eligible Texans register to vote," Scott said. "Don't wait until the last minute if you haven't already registered - get the process started today."

Voting information is also available at www.votetexas.gov.

Pantex deploys system to enforce 'No Drone Zone'

The Pantex Plant has deployed a system to counter all unauthorized unmanned aircraft systems (UAS), or drones, over Pantex airspace, which is a Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) designated "No Drone Zone."

"The National Nuclear Security Administration Production Office (NPO) is announcing this deployment and the airspace restriction to the public to minimize the threat of unauthorized UAS flights over Pantex," said Teresa Robbins, NPO Manager. "This will enhance our ability to effectively protect this vital national security facility."

The Pantex system is intended to detect, identify, and track potentially malicious UAS threats. The 2017 National Defense Authorization Act provides the legal authority from Congress for the National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) to protect its facilities for its counter UAS program.

UAS operators who violate the airspace restrictions at Pantex may also be subject to enforcement action, including potential civil penalties and criminal charges. NNSA and contractor officials are working closely with federal, state, and local law enforcement to coordinate necessary enforcement actions. Advertisements and social media messages will also be issued to remind the public of these restrictions.

NNSA welcomes assistance from the local community and UAS operators to help ensure the safety and protection of the Pantex Plant and its personnel from unauthorized UAS activities. NNSA will educate the public about the "No Drone Zone." Education efforts will include installing signage around the Pantex site perimeter advising the public of the site boundary where drones are not allowed, as well as outreach to local officials and community groups, the media and UAS hobbyists.

NPO is responsible for ensuring the safe, secure, and effective operation of Pantex Plant and the Y-12 National Security Complex, Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

FAA regulations on UAS and counter UAS measures can be found by visiting <https://www.faa.gov/uas/>.

The Creation of the USA Middle Class

Fourth in a series on student educational debt.

By Dr. Walter Wendler

Universities provide a key ingredient for the foundation of a free society. They help create, through active faculty and engaged students, the fabric of informed economic growth. “A research university is a critical component of economic development in its local region and collectively, they are a critical component of economic development for the nation,” said Dr. Clyde Briant, former Vice President for Research at Brown University.

Fifteen years ago, I had the opportunity to spend time in Vietnam. For veterans who served “in-country,” Vietnam is a different place today. It is teeming with free enterprise, the entrepreneurial spirit, new business start-ups everywhere and a sense that nothing is impossible. The Jeffersonian dream at work is a powerful experience of the human spirit overcoming adversity to accomplish something better for society. We won...if not on the battlefield, at the bank.

The very freedoms at the center of that decades-long war – a way of life, a chance for people to choose their work – are alive and well even under a faltering one-party system of government. It seems effective from an economic standpoint. However, I was a university professor looking around, not an expert, just seeing what there is to see. My eyes got tired.

The economy was vigorous. After China, the most vigorous in the world. The skies in Hanoi and Saigon are filled with tower cranes. The streets are seething with Honda motor scooters carrying pigs, steel reinforcing for concrete, wedding cakes, eggs, live and cooked chickens and families of four in the way of enterprise, to and fro. The commerce of freedom on wheels.

I had a stiff neck from bending and twisting to see the raw materials and the energy of an economy building in a fashion hard to imagine and impossible to describe. This strength of the will of individuals at work is very close to the university’s goal and powers the interests of our best students and faculty. The university and the nation of Vietnam aspire to build an educated, entrepreneurial middle class.

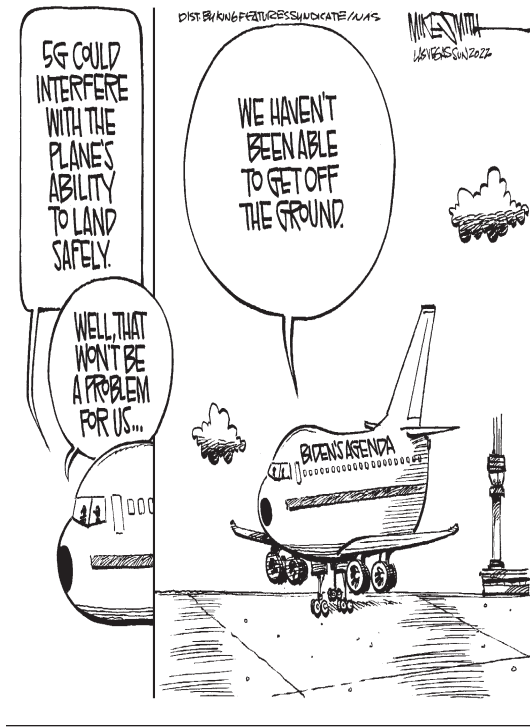

The court of public opinion and the scholarship of the day-to-day have rendered their decision in action – the middle class is not just a good idea, but the essence of a free society. Not royalty, not peasantry, not serfs and lords, but those in the middle. People who have skills, ideas, and the determination and ability to make something better, always for themselves first, not in opposition to human nature but in concert with it, not fighting an incoming tide like a jetty, but riding its power like a surfer. What I saw in this vibrant nation looked like opportunity and its exercise in a ballet of trade and advancement, one Honda at a time, like cowboys on horseback, with cell phones rather than six-shooters.

“What does all this have to do with a university?” The purpose of the university is to heighten people’s intellectual aptitude and ability to make themselves, and therefore by extension their society, better; to improve the greater good by improving the whole, one person at a time...by engaging and releasing the power to do something well. Entitlements won’t do this because entitlement will not load up a Honda with more than it should ever carry and send it on its way. Raw opportunity does that. Nothing else will. It defies logic and is unsafe; it is not completely thoughtful, but it is the exercise of a kind of freedom that no one person can give to another. It has to be grasped when it is there, risk and all.

What I saw in Vietnam moved me deeply, and I thought how fortunate to be part of our nation where strength is dependent on the extent this happens every day. Additionally, my good fortune to be in a university working to provide the foundation for this social energy daily. West Texas A&M University should sense the power and burden of this responsibility, nurture it and turn it loose, with as little student debt as possible, since debt pickpocket’s choice.

“Debt is the fatal disease of republics, the first thing and the mightiest to undermine governments and corrupt the people.” Wendell Phillips, Harvard, 1831, Harvard Law, 1833

Radio’s habit of tangling the tongue

Time delay – a feature that allows deletion of serious blunders—has not always been a “backstop” when there’s tongue entanglement on radio broadcasts.

A classic, of course, was the announcer who said he “got his tang toungeled up.”

Perhaps the first nationally-recognized blunder occurred in June 1921, when Harry Von Zell needed to make just one statement to introduce the new US President for his inaugural address: “Ladies and gentlemen, President Herbert Hoover.” What he said, however, was definitely mangled: “Hoobert Heever.”...

Groucho Marx, radio and TV personality who appeared in several thigh-slapping movies with his brothers, had a keen mind and an ever-present cigar. He was a comic weekly on his radio show, “You Bet Your Life.”

One night a contestant who was basically out of it after she’d stated her name listened intently when Groucho asked the ever-so-simple question: “What does one add to water to produce soap suds?”

Pausing, she finally answered, “Lye?” Ever the quick thinker, Groucho answered, “That’s a lie, but we’ll take it anyway.”...

Many of the best “foul-ups” have been in local situations, dying when radio signals and word of mouth ended near county lines. This day, I will share some accounts I’ve come across, starting with yours truly.

I recall ending a New Year’s Eve sports broadcast on KBWD in Brownwood.

I wished listeners a “Happy Newbury.”...

My friend Gilbert Stogsdill remains amused by a radio station story involving his late brother, Jim Stogsdill, 13 years his senior. They were living in Guymon, Oklahoma, where their father was on a church staff.

Jim had a radio “gig” at KGYN, providing him “walking around money” during his college days at nearby Panhandle A&M College.

Each afternoon, he made on-the-air phone calls to local residents, ending each session up with small gifts to the lucky listeners....

One day, he reached a youngster who provided limited conversation. Jim asked if the kid’s mother could come to the phone.

Jim complimented the young man, admitting to the mother that he didn’t even know her son’s name. “It’s Gooley,” she responded. Jim figured she hadn’t had much schoolin’ herself. Taken aback, he said he’d never heard the name before.

“We hadn’t either,” she remarked. “But I read it in a book before he was born, and my husband and I both liked it.” The rejoinder came when Jim asked about the spelling. “Just like it sounds,” she responded, “G-U-Y.” (Maybe she thought herself to be a resident of “Goocymon,” OK.)....

Here’s another foul-up with a hos-

american by don newbury

pital setting. I can’t verify it, so there’ll be attribution to exactly no one.

Having given birth to a daughter, the mother said she’d call her new baby “Fee-molly.”

Taken aback, her nurse said she’d never heard the name before. “I hadn’t, either,” the new mom confessed, “but I saw it on the hospital registration form.” (The word she had seen was “female.”)...

No radio personality provided more good cheer than the late Joy Culwell, albeit pretty much limited to the confines of Colorado City and Mitchell County. She had a daily chit-chat on Radio Station KVMC, rarely failing to joke about her size, which was, well, ample and then some.

A woman with many stories, she recounted an unlikely experience in an Abilene department store. “I got stuck in the revolving door,” she laughed. Emergency personnel urged her to “turn sideways.” Joy responded that she “didn’t have a sideways.”.... On another program, she bragged about being hugged by three Texas governors, but “not all at the same time.”

In Snyder, a student of Western Texas College was a part-time announcer at Radio Station KSNY. President of WTC at the time, I watched as a tornado bore down on Snyder. It made a welcome turn, but the announcer’s warning is memorable. “A tornado is approaching Snyder. Details in a moment, but first a word from Piggly-Wiggly.”...

Dr. Newbury, a longtime university president, still writes weekly and speaks to groups of all types throughout Texas and the Southwest. Contact him at 817-447-3872. Facebook: Don Newbury. Twitter: @donnewbury.

Census program means $$$ for Texas

By Holly Heard & Lloyd Potter

It’s been more than a year since the US Census was supposed to be completed. But your community still has a lot to lose if the count isn’t right.

Population counts conducted through the census determine how much federal funding flows to states, cities and towns. Incorrect counts can strip Texans of millions in federal dollars that can be used for road improvements, housing, Medicaid and other basic needs and services.

If you or your local officials determine your 2020 Census counts may have some inaccuracies, then your community could miss out on federal tax dollars, and you deserve to have that money spent in your community.

The COVID-19 pandemic left the 2020 count especially vulnerable to undercounts. Despite a 2020 Census count showing that Texas gained more people than any other state in the nation, the Urban Institute found that our population may have been undercounted by 1.28%. That small percentage could cost Texas $247 million in Medicaid reimbursements alone.

There is an important mechanism to fix problems with the census count. It’s called the Census Count Question Resolution (CQR) Program. This very technical and bureaucratic-sounding process allows state, local, and tribal governments to request a review of 2020 Census counts of housing units in their jurisdictions.

Through the program, the Census Bureau determines whether processing or geographical errors contributed to housing count inaccuracies. If the review leads to a corrected count of housing units, the Census Bureau will publish the revised counts on the CQR website and use the updated numbers in all subsequent population estimates.

An analysis by the Institute of Public Policy at George Washington University found that Texas received more than $59 billion in federal dollars in 2016 from programs that rely on census population data.

The impact of an incorrect census count can last for years. These population distribution and density tallies also help determine whether communities are designated as metropolitan, rural, or urban areas. That affects federal funding formulas.

The Census CQR does not review population counts themselves. But it does make sure that measurements of housing units are in line with population counts. If there are big discrepancies, it could lead to corrections that boost a city or community’s population count — and the funding that the city or community can qualify for.

A decade ago, the city of Cibolo had its geographic boundaries reviewed after the 2010 Census. The review of housing units within its city limits resulted in a 4,000-person increase to their population counts. This revised count was included in all subsequent population estimates and for federal funding distribution and resulted in far more federal funding across the community for a wide variety of needs.

The Census Bureau is available to help local officials going through this process. The Texas Demographic Center is sponsoring a webinar with the Census Bureau at 10:00AM on Thursday, Jan. 27 to discuss the process and answer questions. Local governmental units can learn more about the CQR process by visiting the Census Bureau’s CQR website or by contacting them directly at 1-888-369-3617 or cdmd.2020.cqr.submissions@census.gov.

The Demographic Center (which is funded by the state), Texas 2036 and others are shining a light on this issue because accurate and complete data is an essential tool for ensuring Texas is prepared for the future. Holly Heard, Ph.D. is director of data and analytics at Texas 2036. Lloyd Potter, Ph.D. is the Texas State Demographer and Director of the Texas Demographic Center.

First authorized in the 2014 Farm Bill, RCPP has leveraged partner contributions of more than $1 for every $1 invested by USDA, resulting in nearly $3 billion collectively invested in natural resource conservation on private lands. Since inception, RCPP has made 579 awards involving over 3,000 partner organizations. Currently there are 408 active projects, with at least one active project in every state and area. Successful RCPP projects provide innovative conservation solutions, leverage partner contributions and offer impactful and measurable outcomes.

Praying for more rain or snow

I was beginning to think the Lord had forgotten us when here came an inch or so of snow with extremely cold temps. My pipes all ran as they should, but Buffy the Wonder Dog did not want to put her paws outside until some thawing had taken place. Snow is forecast for Wednesday. Keep the prayers going for rain or snow. This drought is terrible.

N-95 masks ae available free of charge to residents of Howardwick with a limit of two per person. You may stop by City Hall and pick them up. With COVID-19 raging in our county, a new mask is welcome. Just a reminder, there will be a follow up vaccination clinic at the community center March 11. In listening to the news and reports of COVID, and no matter what your political views, having the vaccine helps keep you out of the hospital even if you get it. Solving mysteries with the 'Daltons'

Last Saturday, my family, friends and I went to the murder mystery night at the Mulkey. It was put on by people who host an escape room in Amarillo, and the theme was that a hated news reporter gets evidence of everyone's wrongdoings and then she gets murdered. Then we had to find out what evidence she had against us.

We all got to wear disguises, and my friends and I decided to dress up as our other friend, Dalton. When we got to our table we put first, so we didn't win. It turned out that we were doctors who had been sued for malpractice and paid off the lawyers to make the case disappear. It was a really fun game, and I hope that the Mulkey puts on another one very soon.

I also want to talk about my Mom. Her birthday is this Friday, and I want to thank her for everything she does for me and our family. She is a great Mom, and she also does a lot for my friends! Happy birthday, mom!

Lady Colts win Panhandle Tournament

The eighth grade Lady Colts blew through Childress and Panhandle to claim the top spot in the Panhandle Tournament last weekend.

They easily defeated Childress in their opening game at 45-27. Two players finished in double figures in the win. The Lady Colts jumped out early to find an offensive rhythm in the game and make good shots to get on top in the first quarter of play. The Lady Cats narrowed the gap before the break, but a strong third quarter for the Lady Colts allowed them to earn the win.

Presley Smith led the way with 11 points, and Kenidee Hayes added 10. Berkley Moore put in nine, and Whitney Williams and Gracie Ellis each helped with five. Kashlyn Conkin hit one from the arc for three, and Elliot Frausto added two.

The Lady Colts took on Panhandle next and won 30-24. The Lady Colts' perseverance was strong as Panhandle took the early three-point lead in the game. Clarendon put together an awesome second quarter of play on both ends of the court to take the lead by five points going into the locker room.

After letting the Pantherettes back into the game early in the second half, the Lady Colts were determined to get the win. A good shooting fourth quarter and strong defense helped the Lady Colts take control to get the win.

Hayes led the way in double figures with 10, and Smith put in eight. Moore had six and Conkin, Williams, and Ellis had two each.

The seventh grade Lady got by Childress in the opening game defeating them 27-22. Clarendon jumped out to the early advantage going up by three points at the break. But the Lady Cats came back to tie the game at 20 all.

The Lady Colts were able to regroup and turn up the heat on both ends of the court and put in seven points accompanied by a strong defensive effort to win the game.

Cambree Smith led the way with 14 points, 10 of which were in the first quarter of play, and Kinslee Hatley turned up the heat in the final quarter and added five of her seven points. Jayla Woodard was able to help with six.

The Lady Colts took on Panhandle in the next game and were defeated 12-38. The Pantherettes took control in the first half of play and held the Lady Colts to single digits until the third quarter. Defensively, the ladies stepped up their game and held their opponent to only two points in the final quarter.

Smith and Woodard each put in four points while Hatley had three and Lindley Hill helped with one.

Earlier in the week, the Lady Colts traveled to Amarillo to take on San Jacinto and brought home a solid win at 43-27. The first quarter of play turned into a big quarter for both teams with the Lady Colts holding a seven-point lead at the break. After a slow shooting third quarter of play, the Lady Colts executed offensively to extend their lead and get the win.

Conkin put in 11, and Hayes added 10 to lead the way. Moore had seven, Williams put in six, and Smith added five. Ellis, Millie McAnear, and Ella Estlack added two each to the point total.

Broncos defeat Shamrock

By Sandy Anderberg

The Broncos had a good week on the court with two big district wins over Shamrock and Memphis.

Early in the week, the Broncos took on Shamrock at home and defeated them 69-24.

The Broncos got things going early and were unstoppable as they led by 36 points at the break. The Broncos held the Irish to single digits until the third quarter of play, but by then they had control of the game and the win.

Lamarcus Penigar finished with 19 points, Cayden D’Costa put in 11, and Tyler Harper added 10. Jordan Herndon helped with nine; Jmaury Davis, Lyric Smith, and Anthony Cenicerros added six points each; and Harrison Howard finished with two.

On Friday, the Broncos traveled to Memphis and had an easy time defeating the Cyclones, 72-23.

After jumping out to the early lead, the Broncos were able to play fundamental basketball and maintain their lead over the Cyclones until the final buzzer. They put in six three-pointers and shot just over 50 percent from the bonus line.

Penigar had another big game and put in 21 points with 13 of those coming in the first quarter. D’Costa was strong in the second quarter and put in 12 of his 16 points. Davis put in nine, and Howard added seven. Smith put in six, Herndon added five, and Harper and Cenicerros each helped with four.

The Broncos will play at home against Wheeler on January 28 and go to Wellington on February 1 to play the Skyrockets.

Lady Broncos grab big wins

By Sandy Anderberg

The Lady Broncos had good games last week on the court as they netted two big District wins over Shamrock and Memphis.

The ladies put together four good quarters of basketball against Shamrock and walked away with a 71-32 win. Three players finished in double figures in the win.

A quick start in the first quarter set the pace for the rest of the game as the Lady Broncos led by 13 points after the first eight minutes and increased that lead to 25 at the break. With the win secured, the ladies were able to settle in and finish the game.

Madie Smith turned in a great game and finished with 23 points that included one three-pointer and hitting four of six from the bonus line. Makenna Shadle ended the game with 15 points, two three-pointers, and hit seven of eight from the free throw line. Courtlyn Conkin was the third player in double figures with 13. Conkin hit three big shots from behind the arc. Finley Cunningham also hit three three-pointers for nine, Jayde Gribble and Tandie Cummins had four each, and Hayden Elam helped with three.

On Friday, the Lady Broncos traveled to Memphis and won 67-29. They were able to get the start they needed against the Lady Cyclones and executed on both ends of the court. The ladies hit seven three-pointers and went seven of nine from the bonus line.

Four players finished in double figures. Smith led the way with 16, Cunningham helped with 11, and Conkin and Elam added 10 points each. Shadle and Graci Smith put in five, Gribble had four, and Kennadie Cummins, Elyza Rodriguez, and Kimbrasia Ballard finished with two points each.

The Lady Broncos will play Wheeler at home on January 28 and travel to Wellington on February 1.

Bronco JV earns two wins last week

The Bronco junior varsity fared well over two district teams last week with big wins over both teams. They defeated Shamrock early in the week at 32-29 and breezed by Memphis 68-36.

The Broncos stormed out of the gate against Shamrock and built up a 13-point lead at the break. But the Irish bounced back in the second half to get back into the game in the final minutes.

Kaleb Bolin led the scorers with 11, and Jaxan McAnear was right behind him with 10. Mason Sims and Mason Allred put in four point each, Levi Gates added two, and Colten Caudle helped with one.

On Friday night, the Broncos traveled to Memphis and gave a strong showing to win at 68-36.

Bolin was on fire and put in 23 points in the game that was only close in the first quarter of play. Gates added 10 points, and Grant Haynes helped with eight. Allred put in seven, Caudle had six, Sims, Riley Wade, and Anthony Brown put in four each, and Darrius McDaniel helped with two.

The Broncos will play Wheeler at home on January 28 and travel to Wellington on February 1.

Lady Bronco JV beat Shamrock 59-7

The Lady Bronco junior varsity played Shamrock last week at home and gained a big district win over the Lady Irish at 59-7.

The ladies jumped out and grabbed the early momentum in the game and put in 11 points in the first quarter of play. Defensively, the ladies were sharp and held the Lady Irish to only two points in the first half of play. Offensive execution was also the name of the game as the Lady Broncos were able to score points at will over Shamrock. A big second half of play sealed the win for the ladies and sent Shamrock packing.

Kimbrasia Ballard played a solid game and finished with 16 points, shot 50 percent from the bonus line, and hit a big three-pointer. Elyza Rodriguez added 14 points that included two from behind the arc, and Kennadie Cummins added 13 to the point total. Gracie Clark put in eight, Bayleigh Bruce helped with six, and Avery Sawyer added two.

The ladies will play Wheeler at home on January 28

is that my shadow?

Hey! What are you doing down there?

I'm searching for my shadow – I think it is escaping the cold weather!

On February 2nd, all eyes will be on Punxsutawney Phil, the famous groundhog who predicts whether spring and warmer weather will come soon, or if winter and the cold weather will stay longer.

How does he do this? Well, legend holds that when a groundhog pokes out of his hole, if the sun is shining, he will see his shadow, be frightened and dive back into his burrow to wait out six more weeks of winter. But, if he sees clouds when he comes out of his hole, he will not be afraid, will venture out – and we will know that spring is near!

Should I be adventurous and go out to explore?
I'm not sure.

Scenes from the Mulkey
Mystery Dinner

About 50 people participated in the "Master of Disguise" mystery dinner at the Mulkey Theatre Saturday night, which was hosted by the theatre along with Amarillo Escape & Mystery. The fun-filled night was a big hit among those in attendance, and Mulkey managers say they plan on holding more mystery dinners in the future.

the lion's tale
by russell estlack

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting January 25, 2022, with Boss Lion Landon Lambert in charge.

We had 13 members and Sweet-heart Darcy Grahn present this week.

Lion Tex Buckhaults reported on the college where enrollment is looking up over last year and the basketball teams split games in Hobbs with the men losing and the women winning.

Lions Jacob Fangman and David Dockery reported on the city. Employees are returning from having COVID and work continues to clean up properties and battle feral cats. Also an election is set for this year for three aldermen.

Lion Sandy Childress said all is good in The 'Wick and said Lion Ashlee Estlack is having a Valentine's Paint Party there this weekend.

The Boss Lion reported that the contractors showed up earlier than expected for repairs on the courthouse and that work has started on his county attorney office.

Lion Anndria Newhouse said Sara SoRelle will be teaching yoga at the Mulkey on Tuesday and Thursday and people can call 806-663-1465 to sign-up. Lion Anndria also reported that spots are available for members wanting to visit the school cafeteria for the Colts and the Community program, and she reported that the elementary school is raising money for new playground equipment.

Lions met last Thursday to sort about 1,000 cans of food that was surplus donations from the Christmas Food Basket program. The food was sorted and divided with a portion going to the local clinic for COVID patients, a portion going to the Donley County Senior Citizens, and the remainder going to local food pantries. Thank you to the Clarendon Junior High Student Council and everyone who helped make the food drive such a huge success!

Lions will volunteer again next Wednesday, February 2, at 5 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center to prepare non-perishable food boxes for the Meals on Wheels program.

Lion Roger Estlack encouraged everyone to bring donations of eyeglasses by the Enterprise office so they can be delivered to the Texas Eyeglass Recycling Center next week.

The club also agreed on a "side bet" to for the membership drive challenge with the Perryton Lions Club. We will see if Perryton will agree now.

There being no further business, we were adjourned to deliver food boxes to the senior citizens center and spread Lionism throughout our community.

DONLEY COUNTY
Commissioner

Working Relationships

Political Ad Paid for by Dan Sawyer, 4516 Hwy 70, Clarendon, Texas. Subject to the Republican Primary.

To the Voters of Precincts 1&2,

My name is Connie Lane, and I have lived in Donley County for more than 21 years. I started out in 1993 as a Certified Nursing Assistant and went on to become a Certified Medication Assistant in 1994. I attended Clarendon College, where I graduated nursing school in 2003 with a 4.0 GPA. I have been an LVN for 18 years now.

Some of you may know me from my time at Lane's Plumbing & Electric, where, until recently, I worked alongside my husband. In that time, I worked closely with the Texas Dept. of Family Services to get some of our elderly running water and proper drain lines. I also worked with the US Dept. of Veterans Affairs to get some of our veterans' homes updated for their needs. In order to maintain licensure for plumbing and electric, we were required to attend continuing education classes yearly.

I look forward to learning the scope of practice it takes to be a Justice of the Peace. As your elected Justice of the Peace, I will preserve the rule of law and not be subject to outside influence and will make impartial decisions based on the facts without prejudice or bias.

I would appreciate your vote on March 1, 2022.
