Residential customers with even-numbered street addresses water on Thursdays and Sundays. Commercial customers water on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Also limit washing of motor vehicles, motorbikes, boats, and other vehicles at home to before 10:00 am or after 7:00 pm on your designated watering day, and then use a bucket and/or a hand-held hose equipped with a shut-off nozzle. Commercial car washes are excepted.

City sales tax dips for month of April

Clarendon's sales tax revenues dipped when Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar delivered April allocations last week.

The City of Clarendon received $32,661.86 for the month, down 7.52 percent from the same period one year ago. The drop pulls the city down for the calendar year-to-date by 0.76 percent over the same point in 2022 with revenues of $155,931.94 through April.

Hedley's revenue was up 31.97 percent at $838.58 for the month and is now up 25.97 percent on the year-to-date at $4,220.13.

The City of Howardwick was also up in April by 19.19 percent at $2,043.90. The lakeside city is now up 19.01 percent for the year-to-date at $7,945.71.

Statewide, Hegar sent $977.2 million in local sales tax allocations for April, 12.8 percent more than in April 2022.

These allocations are based on sales made in February by businesses that report tax monthly.

The project was led by the Pony Parents, which spent the last two years raising about $109,000 to purchase and install the facility. There are still a couple of items to be installed, but the playground includes six swings, five spinners, three slides, and two climbing structures. The playground also includes inclusive features that allow children with disabilities to have fun as well.

CCISD teacher arrested here last Thursday

A Clarendon CISD teacher was arrested last week on a charge of furnishing alcohol to a minor.

Jacob Diaz, age 24, was arrested, April 12, on the Class A misdemeanor, according Donley County Sheriff Butch Blackburn.

Prior the arrest, Diaz turned in his resignation at the school, which was accepted at last Monday's CCISD board meeting, and the school released a statement last Thursday morning.

"Clarendon CISD has placed Mr. Diaz on administrative leave," Superintendent Jarod Bellar said. "This is in the best interest of the district, and Mr. Diaz has resigned effective the end of the year. We are working toward hiring a replacement at this time."

'We cannot have a teacher doing this," Blackburn said. "The public needs to be able to trust a teacher will be a guardian for our kids and not allow them to do the wrong things."

Diaz, who started as the school's band director this past fall, was arraigned by Justice of the Peace Sarah Hatley and released on bond

Lions district meeting to be this Saturday

Local and area Lions Clubs members will be in Clarendon this Saturday for a day of service and fellowship during the annual District 2-T1 Convention.

The day will start with registration at the Bairfield Activity Center at Clarendon College. Several Lions Clubs in the district have active partnerships with Texas Ramp and the local club is considering such a partnership also.

Lunch will be served back at the Bairfield Center with the Lions Alert trailer providing the food. The new trailer is the district's disaster response unit and is ready and available to feed first responders and victims in times of disaster.

A business meeting led by District Governor Roger Estlack of Clarendon will be held during lunch.

Lions training workshops are also planned during the day.

A tree planting will be held at the Lions Hall that afternoon, which will be followed by Bingo games and cornhole at the Lions Hall. A hospitality hour will begin at 5 p.m. along with voting on district and state Lions ballots.

The awards banquet will be held at 6 p.m. at the Bairfield Center with Past International Director Justin Faber on hand for keynote remarks. Several district Lions will be recognized with awards during the evening, which will showcase service projects around the district during the past year.

Urgency of

preventing child abuse

One of the most important responsibilities that all of us have – as individuals, families and communities - is to ensure the safety of the children in our lives and throughout our community. As we recognize National Child Abuse Prevention Month in April, we must also recognize the urgency of strengthening families and equipping communities with the services needed to prevent abuse from ever occurring.

In 2022, there were 56,944 victims of abuse or neglect in Texas. This harrowing number highlights the need to not only provide care and treatment for those children who have suffered the trauma of maltreatment, but also to deploy services that can keep children safe in their families by preventing abuse from happening in the first place.

guest commentary

Nationally, there has been a recent bipartisan move toward prevention programs that aim to keep families together. Those of us who work in the child welfare space go about this mission with a variety of programs and services that have been proven to work,

- Providing free counseling to families and children that need it, including in the school setting.
- Inviting parents to participate in classes and workshops that teach them strategies for managing children's behaviors and help them parent in positive and constructive ways.
- Treating substance abuse and other conditions that can disrupt families.
- Supporting extended families as they navigate their way through various support systems.

The need for these types of services always outpaces the funding available to provide them. In fact, the demand for in-home services is increasing in Texas because recent legislation has dramatically decreased the number of children being removed from their homes. This is why it's important for federal and state legislators to continue to make funding available for prevention services. Helping families manage and overcome their struggles causes far less trauma - and is far less expensive for taxpayers – than removing children from their homes and placing them into the foster care system.

That said, there are times when removal from the birth family is necessary for the safety of the child, which is why another key component of keeping children safe is maintaining a strong network of wellvetted, well-trained foster families who can provide temporary care and, when reunification with the birth family is not possible, can create forever families through adoption. However, stepping forward to provide foster care is one way that individuals and couples can help ensure that children can have safe and loving

Becoming a foster family is a major commitment, but there are other ways that we can help contribute to children's safety and the prevention of maltreatment. For starters, we can raise awareness of child abuse and neglect this month by displaying blue ribbons to honor victims. We can contribute to programs and causes that help struggling families meet their basic needs, from food to paying the rent.

Texans should also remember that it is not only the job of teachers, health care professionals or social workers to report abuse. If you know, for example, that a child is exposed to domestic violence or children sustain suspicious injuries or injuries that are not getting the medical attention they need, do not hesitate to call the Texas Abuse Hotline at 1-800-252-5400.

Those of us in the fields of child safety and welfare continue seeking the most effective possible programs and services to prevent the maltreatment of children. We understand that positive parenting comes more naturally to some than it does to others, which is why we approach prevention from a place of support rather than judgment. In April and throughout the year, we are committed to preventing the abuse and neglect of children — and we are heartened to know that we are not alone.

Sam Houston spoke out on the Utah War

In 1857, President James Buchanan ordered the US Army to march to the Territory of Utah to quell a supposed insurrection of the Mormons in the newly organized territory. Now what, if anything, does that episode have to do with Texas? It turned out that Sam Houston, a US Senator from Texas, became one of the most vocal critics of the expedition.

The expedition was initially commanded by General William S. Harney. Becoming needed elsewhere, Harney left the expedition while en route and was replaced by Colonel Albert Sidney Johnston. The expedition then came to be known as Johnston's Army, Sympathizing somewhat with the Mormon reactions to the inhumane treatment by corrupt and autocratic Federal officials in their territory, Sam Houston decried the sending of the army. In an oration on the U.S. Senate floor, Houston suggested that instead of having sent an army, "why not send them men to whom they could unbosom themselves." He further suggested that if the United States would send "honest men and gentlemen, whose morals, whose wisdom, and whose character, comport with the high station they fill," that the Mormons would likely be willing to surrender to them and act in obedience with the laws of the United

tales of the old west by george u. hubbard

Houston was especially incensed by one incident that occurred just outside of Utah. Being bogged down for the winter and running out of supplies, the army was in a state of severe hardship. Salt was especially needed by their cattle. Learning of the situation, Brigham Young sent a large supply of salt out to the army with the message that it was a free gift, but if the commander preferred, he could pay a fair price later. Being loathe to accept anything from the "rebellious Mormons," the Union commander refused to accept the salt at all.

To Houston, refusing the salt, besides being an act of needless discourtesy, meant that if the soldiers had to resort to eating their cattle, the unsalted meat could produce cholera which might be especially fatal to men in tents in such Continuing his oration on the Senate floor, Houston said, "What was the message the military officer sent back? I believe the substance of it was that he would have no intercourse with a rebel, and that when they met they ably whipped. That was a time to make peace with Brigham Young, because Peaceful arrangements finally prevailed, and Johnston's Army was allowed into the Salt Lake Valley the following Spring without shots being fired. Brigham Young accepted the new Territorial Governor appointee, Alfred Cumming, as an honest and fair-minded man, and the supposed rebellion existed no more. When the U. S. Government policies and actions became consistent with Sam Houston's expressed views, peace and harmony prevailed.

IS THAT HIS POLL NUMBERS, OR THE INVESTIGATIONS DEMOCRATS ARE LAUNCHING AGAINST HIM? HIIGH

A few of my judgmental observations

Way back when, I agreed to serve as judge of pageants held annually in Fort Stockton and DeLeon. I – and another couple of judges – were to select queens of the Water Festival and the Peach and Melon Festival, respectively.

It shouldn't have been "rocket surgery," but I didn't realize that I would be detested (or near thereto) by all attendees, save the families of the winners.

One guy chanced to attend both festivals. Disgustedly, he called me "an equal opportunity offender." Upon hearing this snarky comment, I vowed to let others fill judging roles at all such future events....

Quite unexpectedly, I'm breaking my own rule, the one regarding repositioning of myself to onlooker status. You'll understand more two paragraphs

When my wife and I boarded the Ruby Princess in Galveston for our first cruise in almost four years, we anticipated good food, pampered treatment and a wide array of entertainment.

We did NOT, however, expect to be privileged to enjoy the most entertaining personality we've ever seen on 25 or so cruises over the past two decades....

Tom Franck is billed as a "pianist/ singer/comedian," and if "best" preceded the billing, you'll get no argument from

He is proudest, of course, of his piano accomplishments, including recordings considered for three Grammy Award nominations. After playing all sports in grade school in his hometown of Northfield, MN, he gravitated toward the arts in high school. The entertainer, with a half-dozen suits of various bright colors (when wearing red attire, he claims sponsorship of Heinz ketchup), once had a substantial problem. His seat-of-the-pants stitching split when he was positioning to play from underneath the piano. He calmly addressed what had happened to those who didn't know, then kept on going, keeping his frontside toward the audience, never revealing his backside. (Now, his suits have reinforced stitching in strategic places.)....

Who is he like? He reminds us of many late, well-known entertainers, including Mark Russell, political satirist and pianist in Washington, DC, for 30 years; classical pianist Liberace and zany Jerry Lee Lewis.

He has performed for more than a decade for nine cruise lines. Princess Cruise Lines booked him first. In 2018. he was named the cruise line's "entertainer of the year."

The youngest of three children of Northfield's fire chief and a nurse, he is proud of his Midwest upbringing. He is humble to the core, beginning each show with, "How's everybody doin'?," answering, "Pretty durn good!"

Watch for Tom on cruises, or at corporate conventions, state fairs, or other events with unique entertainment. He was the "talk" of our cruise, rewarded by immediate standing ovations after all four performances, all of which we witnessed.

Check YouTube, see clips from his ABC television appearances or visit his website, www.tomfranek.com. You can't miss his unique haircut, swept up on all sides. I asked if he gets haircutting estimates, or if his stylist stands on a ladder. "I cut my own hair," he said, admitting there's plenty of room on the top of his head for birds to nest....

Fun By The Numbers

mind-bending puzzle will have vou hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

| 8 | |

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

IRS Invitational Tournament

hosts 18 teams By Mary Green

Good sportsmanship and laughter prevailed among the participants in the IRS Invitational Tournament hosted last Saturday by the Clarendon Country Club Ladies Golf Association.

The cold and windy day saw 18 teams try to earn refunds and avoid penalties on 18 holes of rule restricted golf. The rules were somewhat twisted and confusing – similar to government forms.

Scores were turned in for non-government auditors to adjust according to luck of the draw and the whims of the auditors. A third nine score, based on blood pressure readings after playing hole number 9, was added to make it a 27- hole competition.

Government surplus beans, cornbread, W-4 burgers, and cobbler were enjoyed before Sacks of Cash were presented to the top three teams. First place was a tie, but Wes Shields and David Johnston won after a penalty was assessed to the team of Derek and Cord Shields, who took home second place honors. Third place was won by P.J. and Jana Lemmons.

house beautification and building the kitty to host the 31st Annual Western Lone Star Senior Ladies Golf Association Tournament. For five days (September 10-14) our community will welcome 72 lady golfers from all over North Texas and the Panhandle.

The IRS Invitational raised more than $900 through the golf, a 50/50 drawing for cash and door prizes donated by Broken Road Jr Liquor Store, The Clarendon Enterprise, Country Bloomers and Lowes Grocery Store. The generosity of our local merchants is greatly appreciated.

The coming months are full of great golf tournaments at Clarendon Country Club. This coming weekend is the always fun Jack and Jill Scramble.

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting April 18, 2023, with Boss Lion Pro Tem David Dockery in charge.

We had 15 members and Sweetheart Laney Gates attending in person and three people attending virtually.

Lion Scarlet Estlack reported on the college ball teams, and Sweetheart Laney reported she will be signing to join the horse judging team at West Texas A&M University.

DG Roger Estlack led a discussion and plans were set for this weekend's District 2-T1 convention, which will be held at the Bairfield Activity Center and the Lions Hall.

There being no further business, we were adjourned to spread Lionism and good cheer throughout our fair county.
