Street improvements

City workers were busy this week preparing streets on the east side of town for paving this month. Third and Fourth streets east of SH 70 along with portions of Davis, Hartzell, and Wells streets are being improved under the $240,000 project, which is being paid for by COVID-relief funds. The project also includes curbing on one block of Wells and two blocks of Davis to help manage runoff water. City Administrator Brian Barboza says the city hopes to have the two-course chip seal on the streets by October 25.

Burton Library plans for 100th birthday

Burton Memorial The Library will celebrate its 100th anniversary the week of October 16-20, 2023.

The library, which was started by the Pathfinders Club, has activities scheduled by the library staff and the Friends of the Library. The Patron of the Year will be recognized, and a reception for all patrons will be held Friday, October 20, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. A book-signing will also be held.

Registration for the fourth annual contest is $20. Participants display a homemade Scarecrow of any kind at their home or business. Judging will be held on October 23, and winners will be announced October 25.

Residents can vote on their favorite scarecrow on Facebook or in person at the library. This year a Friends of the Library judging committee will choose one residence and one business winner as the grand prizes.

the upcoming state constitutional amendment election on November 7.

"Texans will have the opportunity to vote on 14 proposed amendments to the state constitution, and some local governments will also hold elections this November," said Nelson. "Now is a good time to take note of upcoming election deadlines and prepare."

October 10 is the last day to register to vote in time for the November 7 election, and October 27 is the last day to apply for ballot by mail. Early voting will begin on October 23 and end on November 3.

Additionally, after the passage of House Bill 357 during the 88th Legislative Session, the Secretary of State's office is now required to set the date of a runoff election resulting from an election held on a uniform election date. The runoff date for the November 7 election will be December 9.

While there are no runoffs for constitutional amendments, runoffs may be required for some local and special elections.

This information and all the details for casting a ballot can be found at VoteTexas.gov, Texas' official voting resource.

Stepping down

The Honorable Stuart Messer (left) retired as the 100th Judicial District Judge, effective September 30. Donley County Judge John Howard (right) presented Messer with a granite plaque on September 20 recognizing his 15 years of service to the district and the people of Donley County. Howard said he could not let Judge Messer leave without some token of appreciation even though the district judge did not want a retirement party. "He is a son of Donley County and served faithfully as district judge and district attorney before that," Howard said. Area Administrative Judge Anna Estevez will oversee the 100th Judicial District, making sure visiting judges continue the court's work until Messer's successor is either appointed by the governor or elected by the people. Messer himself will be one of the visiting judges who will help cover cases during that time. COURTESY PHOTO / KRISTY CHRISTOPHER

'Boomtown' at Mulkey October 15

The Mulkey Theatre will host its first live theatrical performance Sunday, October 15, with the musical comedy, "Boomtown."

In the 1920s, wildcat oil strikes, overnight wealth and Prohibition gave rise to lawless new towns. The most notorious of these was the unruly city of Borger, Texas.

Presented by Texas Comedies, "Boomtown" is based on memoirs and trial transcripts and follows land promoter Ace Borger, who capitalized on oil strikes in the Texas Panhandle. With the notorious Two-Gun Dick Herwig installed as sheriff, the town is soon overrun with wild dancehalls, bootleg liquor joints, and gambling halls.

The "mostly true" story will be a first for the 1946 Mulkey Theatre since its reopening in 2019. In addition to movies, the Mulkey has hosted concerts, dances, reunions, conferences, town hall meetings, yoga classes, a game night, and mystery dinners. "Boomtown," however, will be the theatre's first theatrical performance.

Tickets for "Boomtown" are $20 each and are on sale now at MulkeyTheatre.com and at the Clarendon Visitor Center. Tickets may also be purchased by calling 806-874-2421.

Newspapers play vital role in our nation

This week is National Newspaper Week, and it's a good time to reaffirm our commitment to our readers and advertisers as well as to our community in general.

For more than 145 years, THE CLARENDON ENTER-PRISE has been bringing you the news – or Spreading the Word, as we like to say – about all the comings and goings and doings around Donley County. As perhaps the oldest business in town and for sure one of the oldest in the county, it's easy to take for granted that the newspaper has always been here and always will be. That's certainly our plan; and with your continuing support, that's how it will be.

Many small towns have not been so fortunate. Over the last several years, we've editor's commentary by roger estlack seen several rural newspapers close - some due to lack of advertising revenue and others due to a lack of someone to pass the torch to. But for the most part, we still see that vibrant communities are ones that have active newspapers.

Today more than ever, our communities need reliable information. Rumors can spread fast with social media, but digging out the truth and reporting honest facts is work. It takes time and resources, but in the end it is worth it to know what is really happening. You can find that kind of information on social media - on THE CLARENDON ENTERPRISE page, of course. You can also get it on our website - ClarendonLive.com - and in our printed and digital editions of the paper.

Some say newspapers are relics of the past, but this is not true. Good newspapers have adapted to serve modern audiences. Our web and social media audiences continue to grow, and our digital subscriptions have grown more than 33 percent in the last year with new subscriptions being added weekly. People want reliable news, and the ENTERPRISE and other community newspapers deliver that.

In addition to providing you news right now online and in print, we also are the county's historian. Today's news is tomorrow's history. We are mindful of that, and so we carefully maintain digital and physical archives that date back to 1878. If you want to know how the Bronchos faired in 1930, you turn to us. If you want to know who they will play this week, you turn to us. Our Facebook page carries live updates from the football games, and then our printed edition records forever how the game came out.

Look at this week's issue. Readers will learn who their new city administrator is, what events are coming up, what's happening with the district court, what streets are being paved, what have Hedley school kids been up to, how did the junior high football teams do, what real estate is available, and so much more. News and information like that is available every week in print and more often online. None of this would be possible without you – our readers and advertisers. You keep us going literally and figuratively. To you we pledge to continue to keep covering the news as fairly as we can and to keep being your eyes and ears for the place you've chosen to call home. Thank you for your support.

Everyweek, newspapers for all of us

By Dean Ridings

Americans have more media options than ever. We are inundated with stories, memes, videos and promotions 24 hours a day. Most of us are on social media, which is built to provide an endless feed of content to keep us glued to our screens. And unfortunately, misinformation is prevalent and much of that content isn't fact-checked, verified or professionally produced. The result is that we're not always shown what we need to know, or the information that is most likely to impact our lives. That's where local newspapers come in. Your local newspaper takes a different approach.

National Newspaper Week is a good opportunity to recognize the commitment that local newspapers make to the communities they serve. Your local newspaper is just that - local. It hires reporters who are trained to provide reliable information about the issues that matter most. Whether it's the latest happening from the local school board, changes in real estate zoning, high school football scores or a review of that new restaurant you've been wanting to try, newspapers deliver what's important to you.

Your local newspaper is far more than just print. In the ever-changing media landscape, local newspapers have evolved to true multi-channel content providers. From websites to apps, emails, newsletters, video and podcasts, local newspapers are delivering news in innovative ways. As a reader, you get to choose when and where to get the news you need, and no matter the method, can always be assured what you're reading is credible and reliable.

Although the format or device readers use to connect with their local newspaper might vary, it's clear that newspapers are relied on as the source for local news. A recent national study conducted by the independent research firm Coda Ventures shows that 79 percent of Americans use local newspapers to stay informed about their communities and depend on them to feel connected and to decide where they stand on local issues and to find places and things to do. Further, six out of 10 American adults use newspaper advertising to help them decide what brands, products and local services to buy. It's clear that local newspapers are vital to healthy communities.

In spite of the new ways to connect with your local newspaper, it's true that the newspaper industry is facing significant challenges. Rising costs, national competitors and the impact of Big Tech companies using newspapers' content without compensation have all impacted your local newspaper. Now, more than ever, we need their commitment to journalism's core values. As we recognize National Newspaper Week, let's focus on the vital role that newspapers play, and consider how we can support them. Subscribing or advertising in your local newspaper not only supports the newspaper but is also an investment in your community.

On a national level, the Community News and Small Business Support Act (HR 4756) has recently been introduced in Congress. This bill would provide local newspapers with financial support for their newsroom employees, and would go a long way to providing your newspaper with support for the reporters and photographers that are sorely needed. Encourage your members of Congress to support this bill!

Whether you access the content from your local newspaper in print or online, remember that it is produced for you. And behind the articles, columns, and images your newspaper produces is a team of local residents who are committed to making your community stronger! Join me in thanking your local newspaper - during National Newspaper Week – for the good work it does to keep your community informed. Dean Ridings is the CEO of America's Newspapers.

Meanwhile...

Last week, City Administrator David Dockery hung it up and retired. But then on Monday he was back at City Hall to serve as a consultant for a limited time. So while he's gone but not totally gone, we still take this time to tip our hat to his service to our community.

Being a city administrator is a tough job, especially in this town. Like being the editor, you'll never make everyone happy. Some people may even wonder why we need an administrator, but I maintain the city government is too big to not have someone watching over it daily. Dockery has done that job very well.

At the very least Dockery should get the Longevity Award for serving – or surviving – longer than any other city administrator. Seriously though, he deserves credit for many things during his tenure. The city is in better financial condition than when he found it, and there is a long list of accomplishments over eight years. Paving projects, long-term water system improvements, the new City Hall, the aquatics center, and downtown revitalization are just a few things that come to mind. Some of those projects were more popular than others, but all of them moved the city forward. And he did all of them while closely guarding the city's finances. Contractors learned quickly that Dockery would not let them cut corners or give the city anything less than their very best effort.

Dockery would be the first to not take credit for any good thing that happened. In his philosophy, if it's good, the mayor and city council get the credit. If it's bad, then the blame should fall on him. I think though that most people who have served and are serving as elected city officials would agree with me that these accomplishments likely would not have happened without his steadfast support and professional service.

Your editor and the administrator may not have always agreed 100 percent on different issues, but there was never a doubt that Dockery always did what he thought was right for the city.

Thank you, sir, for your service, your friendship, and your dedication. Clarendon is better than when you found it.

Former administrator says 'thanks'

Dear Clarendon,

It has been my honor to serve you as City Administrator for the last eight plus years. I want to thank you all for the support given to the city and our team as we strived to improve the quality of life for our residents. The Mayor Aldermen I have been fortunate to work for are the most dedicated public servants any community could hope for. Their direction and leadership have resulted in bringing many improvements to your water system, wastewater infrastructure, streets, parks, pool, and downtown revitalization gained through grant opportunities and sound fiscal management. These vital long-erm improvements to our town are a testament to the monumental effort provided been surrounded by and supported by a by your local elected officials.

While the leadership of the Mayor and Aldermen drive the car, it is the staff that is the engine that makes everything run. John Molder and the Public Works Department are seldom appreciated for the excellent work accomplished in some of the most undesirable conditions. Machiel Covey and the City Hall staff have worked diligently to provide courteous service and are always looking for ways to allow for more customer convenience while maintaining accurate and transparent accounting. Whether it is the library ladies, recycling attendants, or pool staff, I have been blessed to have fabulous team.

Last but certainly most importantly, I would like to express my appreciation to the citizens of Clarendon, without you we would have no purpose. Clarendon is very fortunate to have hired Brain Barboza to fill this position and his passion for service and his knowledge of municipal government will not only continue the city's efforts but will I'm sure will enhance them. Please stop by and introduce yourself to Mr. Barboza. Thank everyone very much.

Retired School Personnel met last Monday

The Donley County Retired School Personnel Association met Monday, September 25, at 6:00 p.m. in the Family Life Center.

Eight members and one guest were present.

After a potluck meal was served, Charla Overton the District TRS President from Fritch spoke to the group. She told how our TRTA (Texas Retired Teachers Association) representatives, Texas Legislature, and retired teachers all worked together to get a much-needed raise passed for retired teachers. She stressed how important it is for everyone to vote for Proposition 9 (COLA or Cost Of Living Adjustment) in the November election. She emphasized that this will not create a tax increase. The funds have been set aside by the Texas Legislation to fully fund this raise to all retired teachers. Signs will be placed in yards around town and cards passed out to remind everyone to vote for Proposition 9.

After a short business meeting, it was requested that those who plan to attend the Fall Conference in Amarillo at Region 16 on October 26 contact Carlton Turvaville by October 10.

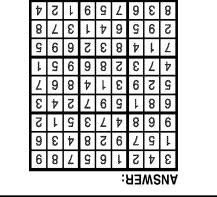

The next Donley County Unit bi-monthly meeting is scheduled for November 27 at 6p.m. in the Family Life Center.

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting at the Masonic Lodge with Boss Lion David Dockery in charge.

We had nine members present, one attending virtually, and one guest this week. City Administrator Brian Barboza was the guest of the club and is our newest member. Welcome, Lion Brian!

Tickets for the October 27 Pancake Supper were distributed and are on sale now from any Lion or the Enterprise.

Upcoming events include this weekend's Kinetic Hot Rods to Harleys Fun Run to support the Lions Toys for Joy program, and the District 2-T1 fall meeting in Perryton on October 21.

Lion Barboza was our speaker this week. He discussed his background and his road to Clarendon. He also talked about some of the upcoming projects for the city.

Next week's meeting will feature our sweetheart candidates. All members are encouraged to attend!

There being no further business, we were adjourned.

Clarendon College recognized former volleyball coach Bo Pagliasotti along with former players Allison Garcia, Ashlynn Bridges, and Katelynn McKinnon as part of its ongoing 125th anniversary celebration last week. COURTESY PHOTOS / BRANDI HAVENS

Hedley Owls Spotlight By the Junior Class

Last week, Hedley ISD had their Parent Report Card Pick-Up Tuesday Night where the parents were able to come to the school and pick up their children's report cards and talk to their teachers.

Wednesday morning, students and teachers gathered around the flagpole for "See you at the Pole" and enjoyed donuts and juice. Also Wednesday, Hedley's One Act Play group went to the Clarendon College campus to participate in a One Act Play clinic to learn new techniques that may help them this year.

Thursday, the Junior High Owls played a great game against Miami winning with a score of 38-12.

On Friday, a group of One Act Play kids went to pick up more bingo prizes for the Cotton Festival which will be held on October 13 and 14.

If your child would like to participate in Little Cheer, forms are due Wednesday, October 4.

This Friday's game will be in Booker. This week's spirit theme will be Color Wars. Each grade level should wear the color listed: Pre-k-Green, Kindergarten- Blue, 1st- Pink, 2nd- Orange, 3rd- Purple, 4th- Red, 5th- Yellow, 6th- Green, 7th- Yellow, 8th- Red, 9t - Purple, 10th- Orange, 11th- Pink, 12th- Blue.

Colts shut out Falcons at home

Both the offensive and defensive Clarendon Junior High lines played solid in the Colts' shut out win over Bushland at home last week. The 54-0 win gave the team a big confidence booster going into their district season.

From the opening kickoff the Colts were in control of the game and the scoreboard. The Colts caused the Falcons to go four and out to the final buzzer.

Braxton Gribble had the first of three interceptions in the Colts' first possession of the game that he ran to the 15-yard line before Markael Anderson took a handoff from Kreed Robinson and strolled in for six points. Hudson Howard grabbed a Robinson pass for the bonus. Anderson was able to find the endzone again at the 3:49 mark for another touchdown from Bushland's 42-yard line. Howard again added the bonus to put the Colts up 16-0.

Robinson earned the next score

The offensive line opened holes for the backfield all night long and the defense worked hard to limit the Falcon's total yardage.

The Colts will travel to Wheeler on Thursday, October 5 to start district. Kickoff will be at 5:00pm.
