Elections – A Party of Parties!

Have you and your family been talking about the elections this year? Have you asked your parents if they belong to a political party?

Political parties are made up of different groups of people who organize to point out the way they think the government should work.

Political parties choose their candidates to run for government offices. They run campaigns and ask people to vote their candidates into office. When they win, they will surely "party" to celebrate their victory!

I'm an independent voter. I don't belong to any political party.

Read the clues to fill in the puzzle:

- having to do with government affairs
- election where one candidate wins by a large majority
- in a _____ election, parties vote for the people who will represent them in the general election
- a person who is running for President
- a political party's largest gathering
- highest political office in the United States
- group of people joining together to make government work the way they want it to
- a political party's official stance on the issues

9. a Presidential _____ is held every 4 years

10. Tuesday in November set aside for voting

11. planned activities to help people win an office

12. discuss or argue an issue; sides present their ideas

13. information gathered by asking voters questions

14. sitting President whom may be replaced after election

15. to register a choice in the election

16. money given by people to help their candidate win

17. problems in the world that voters worry about

18. compartment where a person votes secretly
